Background:

Last year, the Legislature created a domestic partnership registry in the Office of the Secretary of State (Secretary), specified eligibility requirements for same-sex couples and some qualifying different-sex couples to register, and granted certain rights and responsibilities to registered domestic partners. Those rights and responsibilities generally involved areas of law dealing with health care decision-making; powers of attorney; rights and responsibilities related to the death of a domestic partner; and other provisions.

A state registered domestic partnership may be terminated by either party filing a signed, notarized notice of termination with the Secretary and paying a filing fee. If the notice of termination is not signed by both parties, the party seeking termination must also file an affidavit stating that service of the notice on the other party has been made.

Upon receipt of the notice of termination, filing fee, and affidavit, the Secretary must register the notice of termination and provide a certificate of termination to each party. The termination is effective 90 days after the date of filing the notice. A state registered domestic partnership is automatically terminated if either party subsequently enters into a marriage, with each other or another person, that is recognized as valid in this state.

Summary of Bill:

Various rights and responsibilities that are granted to spouses are granted to state registered domestic partners. The process for terminating a domestic partnership is changed. Before the effective date of the act, the Secretary must send a letter to registered domestic partners notifying them that laws affecting domestic partnerships have changed. Domestic partners and civil unions created in other states are recognized in Washington.

Termination of Domestic Partnerships

Generally, domestic partners must file a petition for dissolution in superior court and follow the same procedures applicable to dissolution of marriages. Parties may use a nonjudicial termination process by filing a notice of termination with the Secretary if, at the time of filing the notice:

- (1) both parties desire that the domestic partnership be terminated and both have signed the notice of termination;
- (2) neither party has minor children, whether born or adopted before or after the domestic partner registration and neither party is pregnant;
- (3) the domestic partnership is not more than five years in duration;
- (4) neither party has any ownership interest in real property and neither party leases a residence (except a lease of a residence occupied by either party that terminates in a year and does not include an option to buy);
- (5) there are no unpaid obligations over $4,000 incurred by either or both parties after the domestic partnership registration, except for debts on a vehicle (this threshold amount will be adjusted for inflation every two years);
- (6) the total fair market value of community property assets, minus any encumbrances, is less than $25,000 and neither party has separate property assets in excess of $25,000 (adjusted for inflation);
- (7) the parties have executed an agreement establishing the division of assets and debts and have executed any documents to effectuate the agreement; and
- (8) the parties waive any rights to maintenance by the other party.
