Background:

A person commits the crime of Rendering Criminal Assistance if the person, in any of a variety of ways, tries to hinder the apprehension or prosecution of a person who has committed an offense.

The ways in which a person may commit the crime include the following: harboring or concealing the offender; warning the offender of impending apprehension; giving the offender money, transportation, or a disguise; committing an act of force, threat, or deception to prevent apprehension; concealing, altering, or destroying physical evidence; and giving the offender a weapon.

Rendering Criminal Assistance in the first degree is a seriousness level V, class C felony offense if the person is not related to the offender and the crime the offender committed, or is being sought for, is a class A felony offense. The crime is a gross misdemeanor offense when the person is related to the offender.

Rendering Criminal Assistance in the second degree is a gross misdemeanor offense if the person is not related to the offender and the crime the offender committed, or is being sought for, is a class B or C felony offense or a violation of parole, probation, or community supervision. If the person is a relative of the offender then the crime of Rendering Criminal Assistance is a misdemeanor offense.

Rendering Criminal Assistance in the third degree is a misdemeanor offense if the person renders criminal assistance to a person who has committed a gross misdemeanor or misdemeanor offense.

A "relative" is defined as a person who is related as: husband, wife, brother, sister, parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, step-child, or step-parent to the person to whom criminal assistance is rendered.

Summary of Bill:

The penalty for the crime of Rendering Criminal Assistance in the first degree is increased to a class B felony. However it is a gross misdemeanor offense if the person rendering the criminal assistance is: (1) under the age of eighteen years old at the time of the offense and (2) related to the offender.

The Act must be known as Randy's Law.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony (Public Safety & Emergency Preparedness):

(In support) The House and Senate versions of the bill should be merged together and it would be a positive move forward. People convicted of Rendering Criminal Assistance would still receive a more severe charge and adults over the age of 18 years old would also be penalized more severely. There have been families that have been let down because of the current laws and the choices that adults have made in hiding evidence, disposing of bodies, and Rendering Criminal Assistance to offenders. Under current law the maximum penalty that these individuals could get is one year in jail because it is a gross misdemeanor offense. Adults need to know that when they make certain choices that they will be penalized for their actions. Your actions have consequences. You can choose the crime but you should not be able to choose your penalty. The law needs to hold people accountable for their actions.

This bill would not be supported if the crime is made an unranked felony because then judges would be limited to one year as far as the penalty that they would be able to impose.

(Opposed) There are several concerns with this bill. Instead of making the crime of Rendering Criminal Assistance a class C felony for a relative, it should be made an unranked class C felony. This does not reduce the current penalty. Also, the final bill should specify that relatives that render criminal assistance by providing emergency medical care should be treated differently than relatives that render other criminal assistance. These individuals should be charged with a gross misdemeanor crime instead.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony (General Government Appropriations):

(In support) Under current law, relatives who render criminal assistance by hiding evidence or disposing of bodies are only subject to a gross misdemeanor offense which carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail. There are cases in which adult family members have participated in the disposal of a body and have been convicted of Rendering Criminal Assistance only to be sentenced to 10 days in jail. Families, friends, and communities are being let down because the current law does not hold people accountable for their choices.

(Opposed) None.

Persons Testifying (Public Safety & Emergency Preparedness): (In support) Zac Shileika; Lisa Moore; Tom McBride, Washington Association of Prosecuting Attorneys; and Toni McKinley, Washington Coalition of Crime Victims Advocates.
