Background:

Offenses Regarding Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor.

The crime of Sexual Abuse of a Minor is a class C felony. The crime of Promoting Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor is a class B felony. Persons convicted of Sexual Abuse of a Minor or who receive a deferred sentence or deferred prosecution or who have entered into a statutory or non-statutory diversion agreement must be assessed a $550 fee.

Impound of Vehicles.

Upon an arrest for a suspected violation of the following offenses, the arresting officer may impound the vehicle if the vehicle was used in the commission of the offense, the person arrested is the owner of the vehicle or the vehicle is a rental car, and if the person arrested has a prior conviction for one of the listed offenses or the offense occurred in an area designated by local government:

- Patronizing a Prostitute;
- Promoting Prostitution in the 1st degree;
- Promoting Prostitution in the 2nd degree;
- Promoting Travel for Prostitution;
- Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor;
- Promoting Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor; or
- Promoting Travel for Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor.

Once a vehicle is impounded, the owner must pay a fine of $500 to the impounding agency, among other fees, to redeem his or her vehicle.

Juvenile Diversions for Prostitution-Related Offenses.

When a prosecutor receives a complaint that a juvenile has committed a crime, and there is sufficient evidence that the juvenile did commit the offense, the prosecutor may either file an information in juvenile court or divert the case depending on the type and level of crime alleged to have been committed.

A juvenile alleged to have committed Prostitution or Prostitution Loitering may be diverted. If the offense is not the first prostitution-related offense, the juvenile may still be diverted if the county in which the offense occurred has a program that provides safe and stable housing, comprehensive on-site case management, integrated mental health and chemical dependency services, education and employment training, and referrals to specialized services. This provision was enacted during the 2008 session pursuant to House Bill 1505, which is scheduled to expire June 30, 2011.

Children in Need of Services.

A child in need of services (CHINS) is a juvenile who: (1) is beyond the control of his or her parents; (2) has been reported to the police as absent without consent for at least 24 hours on two or more occasions and (a) has exhibited a serious substance abuse problem, or (b) has exhibited behaviors that create a serious risk of harm to the health, safety, or welfare of the child or any other person; or (3) is in need of necessary services or services designed to maintain or reunify the family. When a juvenile meets the CHINS definition, a CHINS petition can be filed with the court seeking services and assistance from the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS).

Crime Victim Compensation Benefits.

Crime victims are not entitled to crime victim compensation benefits when the injury for which benefits are sought was (1) the result of consent, provocation or incitement by the victim, unless the injury resulting from a criminal act caused the victim's death; (2) sustained while the crime victim was engaged in the attempt to commit or in the commission of a felony; or (3) sustained while the victim was confined in a jail or correctional facility operated by the DSHS.

Summary of Amended Bill:

Referral for Treatment.

Within available funding, when a juvenile who has been diverted for the offenses of Prostitution or Prostitution Loitering is referred to the DSHS, the DSHS must connect that child with the following services: treatment for children who have been sexually assaulted and early identification and referral to treatment of child victims of sexual abuse or assault.

Crime Victim Compensation Benefits and Status as Victim.

A person who is identified as the minor in offenses regarding Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor is considered a victim of a criminal act for the purpose of the right to receive benefits under the Crime Victim's Compensation Program, even if the minor is also charged with prostitution.

Juveniles arrested for Prostitution or Prostitution Loitering are presumed (1) to meet the criteria for certification as a victim of a severe form of trafficking in persons as defined in Section 7105 of Title 22 of the United States Code; and (2) to be a victim of Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor.

Juvenile Diversions.

Irrespective of criminal history, the prosecutor must divert an offense for Prostitution or Prostitution Loitering if it is the offender's first offense of this kind. After June 30, 2011, the wraparound program for treatment of juveniles for prostitution related offenses is no longer authorized in statute. If a juvenile has subsequent prostitution-related offenses, the prosecutor must follow the statutory requirements regarding filing an information if the evidence of the offense is sufficient.

Secure Crisis Residential Centers.

A secure or semi-secure crisis residential center must have on staff, or otherwise have access to, a person who has been trained to work with the needs of sexually exploited children in order to be licensed or continue to be licensed.

Seriousness Level of Offenses.

Promoting Sexual Abuse of a Minor is increased to a class A felony, up from a class B felony. The seriousness level for this offense is increased from Level VIII to Level XII. At Level VIII, the standard sentence range is 21 - 27 months if the offender score is 0. At Level XII, the standard sentence range is 93 - 123 months if the offender score is 0.

Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor is increased to a class B felony from a class C felony. The seriousness level for this offense is increased from Level III to Level VIII. The standard sentence range for an offender score of 0 increases from 1 - 3 months to 21 - 27 months.

A person either convicted, given a deferred sentence or deferred prosecution, or who has entered into a diversion agreement for a commercial sexual abuse offense is assessed a $5,000 fine, an increase from $550. The court may not suspend payment of all or part of the fee unless it finds that the person does not have the ability to pay. The $5,000 fee applies to juveniles who are adjudicated under these provisions as well.

Vehicle Impoundment.

Upon arrest for first offenses of Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor, Promoting Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor, or Promoting Travel for Commercial Sexual Abuse, regardless of whether the offense occurred in an area designated by law enforcement, the vehicle of the person may be impounded upon arrest if the vehicle was used in the commission of the crime and the person arrested is the owner of the vehicle or the vehicle is a rental car.

The fine for retrieving an impounded vehicle for these offenses is increased from $500 to $2,500 in addition to other applicable.

Model Policy for Sexually Exploited Children.

The Criminal Justice Training Commission (Commission), in consultation with the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs, is required to develop a model policy on law enforcement implementation of procedures relating to a minor who is a sexually exploited child or who is a victim of offenses related to Commercial Sexual Abuse of a Minor. The model policy must be developed by December 1, 2010. The Commission must develop a curriculum based upon the model policy by January 1, 2011.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date of Amended Bill: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed, except section 5 which reinstates prior law related to a sexually exploited child in the definition of a "child in need of services" after a scheduled expiration and takes effect July 1, 2011.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony (Human Services):

(In support) In Washington, we are one of the worst in the nation for selling children to prostitution. These kids are often in the street because they have run away or been kicked out of their homes. They are often moved out of the state or out of the country. When a juvenile gets into a situation involving prostitution, they need protection. With a diversion, they can get services without costing the state any money. Juvenile prostitution is one of the worst domestic violence cases you can think of. This conclusion came about because the girls were being seriously assaulted. The majority of the girls who get involved in prostitution start out as runaways. In the beginning they are manipulated and that keeps them in prostitution. The police arrest juveniles involved in prostitution because we do not have a lot of alternatives. The biggest problem is that the police do not have a place to take these girls.

(Opposed) The amended bill does less than the original bill which allowed a juvenile who had a first prostitution-related offense to be referred to Children in Need of Services. The second offense should be a mandatory diversion, and subsequent offenses should be eligible for discretionary diversions.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony (Ways & Means):

(In support) The Washington Coalition of Sexual Assault programs supports this bill. Ultimately, this bill is an opportunity to try to divert juvenile prostitutes by connecting them with services and a path out of that lifestyle. Most girls involved in prostitution have a prior history of sexual abuse and juvenile prostitution continues the cycle of sexual abuse. It is a policy that should move forward and will make a difference in some damaged lives. The fiscal note sounds complicated, but the fiscal impact is minimal, if there is one at all. The organization Shared Hope International supports this bill. The Police Guild of Seattle also supports this bill. There are many compelling reasons to address domestic sex trafficking of minors. It is a good policy that will become good law.

(Opposed) None.
