mother of such child; (3) assaults another with a deadly weapon; (4) with intent to inflict bodily harm, administers to or causes to be taken by another, poison or any other destructive or noxious substance; (5) with intent to commit a felony, assaults another; (6) knowingly inflicts bodily harm which by design causes such pain or agony as to be equivalent to that produced by torture; or (7) assaults another by strangulation or suffocation.

Assault in the second degree is a class B felony ranked at level four with a standard range of three to nine months for a first offense.

A person commits the crime of Assault in the third degree if that person, under circumstances not amounting to Assault in the first or second degree: (1) assaults another with intent to prevent or resist the execution of any lawful process or mandate of a court officer, or the lawful apprehension or detention of himself, herself, or another person; (2) assaults a transit worker; (3) assaults a school transportation employee; (4) with criminal negligence, causes bodily harm to another person by means of a weapon or instrument likely to produce bodily harm; (5) assaults a firefighter or fire department employee; (6) with criminal negligence, causes bodily harm accompanied by substantial pain causing considerable suffering; (7) assaults a law enforcement officer or police department employee; (8) assaults a peace officer with a projectile stun gun; (9) assaults a nurse, physician, or health care worker; (10) assaults a judicial officer or court-related employee; or (11) assaults a person located in a courtroom, jury room, judge's chamber, or waiting area adjacent to such a room during a time when the room is being used for judicial purposes during court proceedings and proper signage is displayed.

Assault in the third degree is a class C felony ranked at a level three with a standard range of one to three months for a first offense, except if the offense was Assault of a Peace Officer with a Projectile Stun Gun which is ranked at level four.

A person commits the crime of Assault in the fourth degree if, under circumstances not amounting to Assault in the first, second, or third degree or custodial assault, that person assaults another.

Assault in the fourth degree is a gross misdemeanor with a maximum permissible sentence of 364 days in jail and a $5,000 fine.

Summary of Bill:

A person is guilty of Assault in the third degree if that person, under circumstances not amounting to Assault in the first or second degree, assaults another person randomly without any prior physical or verbal contact in a public place.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.
