governed by a Board of Regents. Each consists of ten members, one of whom is a student. The Board of Regents' members are appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Senate. The members hold terms of six years, except for the student member who holds a one-year term. The student member is not allowed to participate or vote on matters related to the hiring, discipline, or tenure of faculty members and personnel.

The powers and duties of the Board of Regents include employing the university president, faculty, staff, and all university employees; establishing admissions requirements; establishing colleges, schools, or departments to carry out the purposes of the university; granting certificates and degrees, including honorary degrees; offering new degree programs and off-campus programs; participating in consortia or centers; contracting for off-campus educational programs; and purchasing or leasing major off-campus facilities.

Summary of Bill: The Board of Regents for both the University of Washington and Washington State University are increased to 11 members, with the eleventh member being a full-time or emeritus member of the faculty. The faculty member must be selected by the Governor from a list of candidates submitted by the university's faculty senate and confirmed by the Washington Senate. The faculty member serves for a three-year term and must excuse oneself from voting on matters related to the hiring, discipline, or tenure of specific faculty members.
