(2) The referring hospital, physician, or other referral source must:

(a) Perform the identification screen using a standardized department-specified Level I screening form for all individuals seeking admission to a nursing facility unless they:

(b) Identify whether the individual may have a serious mental illness or a developmental disability as defined under 42 C.F.R. § 483.102, or successor laws; and

(c) Refer all individuals identified as likely to have a serious mental illness or a developmental disability to the department for a nursing facility level of care assessment and a Level II screening.

[Statutory Authority: Chapters 18.51 and 74.42 RCW and 42 C.F.R. 489.52, 08-20-062, § 388-97-1920, filed 9/24/08, effective 11/1/08.]

WAC 388-97-1940 Advanced categorical determinations, not subject to preadmission screening—Level II. Individuals identified as having symptoms of mental illness or a developmental disability and meeting any of the advanced categorical determinations do not need to be referred for a Level II screening. The determinations include that the individual:

(2) Cannot accurately be diagnosed because of delirium. NOTE: The individual would be subject to a Level II screening when the delirium cleared;

(3) Has been certified by a physician to be terminally ill as defined under section 1861 (dd)(3)(A) of the Social Security Act;

(4) Has been diagnosed with a severe physical illness such as coma, ventilator dependence, and is functioning at a brain stem level;

- (a) Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease;
- (b) Parkinson's disease;
- (c) Huntington's chorea;
- (d) Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis;

WAC 388-97-4360 Inspections and deficiency citation report. (1) The department may inspect nursing homes at any time in order to determine compliance with the requirements of chapters 18.51 or 74.42 RCW and this chapter. Types of state inspections in nursing homes include pre-occupancy, licensing, revisit, and complaint investigation. In the case of a medicaid or medicare contractor, or both, the department may also inspect medicare and medicaid certified nursing homes to determine compliance with the requirements of Title XVIII and/or XIX of the Social Security Act and federal medicare and medicaid regulations.

(2) The department will provide to the nursing home written documentation (notice) of the nursing home's deficiency(ies), the requirement that the deficiency(ies) violates, and the reasons for the determination of noncompliance with the requirements (RCW 18.51.091).

(3) The department may revisit the nursing home to confirm that corrections of deficiencies has been made. Revisits will be made:

(a) In accordance with RCW 74.39A.060 (5)(e);

(b) In the case of a medicare or medicaid contractor, or both, in accordance with the requirements of Title XVIII or XIX, or both of the Social Security Act and federal medicare and medicaid regulations; and

(c) At the department's discretion.

(4) The licensee or nursing home must:

(a) Ensure that department staff have access to the nursing home residents, staff and all resident records; and

(b) Not willfully interfere or fail to cooperate with department staff in the performance of official duties. Examples of willful interference or failure to cooperate include, but are not limited to, not allowing department staff to talk to residents or staff in private or not allowing department staff access to resident records.

WAC 388-97-4380 Plan of correction. (1) The licensee or nursing home must, within ten calendar days of notification of the cited deficiencies prepare, sign, date and provide to the department a detailed written plan of correction. Such plan of correction will provide notification to the department of the date by which the nursing home will complete the correction of cited deficiencies. The plan of correction must be completed regardless of whether the licensee requests an informal department review in accordance with WAC 388-97-4420.

(2) A plan of correction is not required for deficiencies at a severity level 1/isolated scope as described in WAC 388-97-4500, unless specifically requested by the department.

(3) In the case of actual or imminent threat to resident health or safety/immediate jeopardy (severity level 4 as described in WAC 388-97-4500), the department may require the licensee or nursing home to submit a document alleging that the imminent threat has been removed within a time frame specified by the department. The document must specify the steps the nursing home has taken or will take to correct the imminent harm. An allegation that the imminent harm has been removed does not substitute for the plan of correction as required by subsection (1) of this section but it will become a part of the completed plan of correction.

[Statutory Authority: Chapters 18.51 and 74.42 RCW and 42 C.F.R. 489.52. 08-20-062, § 388-97-4380, filed 9/24/08, effective 11/1/08.]

(b) Address how the nursing home will identify other residents having the potential to be affected by the same deficient practice;

(c) Address what measures will be put into place or systemic changes made to ensure that the deficient practice will not recur;

(d) Indicate how the nursing home plans to monitor its performance to make sure that solutions are sustained, including how the plan of correction will be integrated into the nursing home's quality assurance system;

(e) Give the title of the person who is responsible for assuring lasting correction; and

(f) Give the date by which the correction will be made.

(2) The department will review the nursing home's plan of correction to determine whether it is acceptable.

(3) When deficiencies involve nursing home alterations, physical plant plan development, construction review, or other circumstances where extended time to complete correction may be required, the department's designated local aging and disability services administration field office or other department designee may accept a plan of correction as evidence of substantial compliance under the following circumstances:

(a) The plan of correction must include the steps that the nursing home needs to take, the time schedule for completion of the steps, and concrete evidence that the plan will be carried out as scheduled; and

(b) The nursing home must submit progress reports and/or updated plans to the department in accordance with a schedule specified by department.

(c) The department's acceptance of a plan of correction is solely at the department's discretion and does not rule out the imposition of optional remedies.

[Statutory Authority: Chapters 18.51 and 74.42 RCW and 42 C.F.R. 489.52. 08-20-062, § 388-97-4400, filed 9/24/08, effective 11/1/08.]

WAC 388-97-4420 Informal department review. (1) For medicare or medicaid certified nursing homes, the informal department review process described in this section is the only opportunity for the nursing home to dispute the federal deficiency citation report, unless a federal sanction is imposed.

(2) The nursing home licensee has the right to an informal department review of disputed state or federal citations, or both.

(3) A licensee must make a written request for an informal department review within ten calendar days of receipt of the department's written deficiency citation(s) report. The request must be directed to the department's designated local aging and disability services administration office and must identify the deficiencies that are being disputed.

(4) At the informal department review, the licensee or nursing home may provide documentation and verbal explanations related to the disputed federal or state deficiencies, or both.

(5) When modifications or deletions are made to the disputed federal or state deficiency citations, or both, the licensee or nursing home must modify or delete the relevant portions of the plan of correction within five days of receipt of the modified or deleted deficiency(ies). The licensee or nursing home may request from the department a clean copy of the revised deficiency citation report.

(6) If the licensee or nursing home is unwilling to provide the modified plan of correction, the department may impose a per day civil fine for failure to return the modified deficiency citation report to the department in accordance with this subsection.

(3) The appeal process will be governed by the Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 34.05 RCW), RCW 18.51.065 and 74.42.580, chapter 388-02 WAC and this chapter. If any provision in this chapter conflicts with chapter 388-02 WAC, the provision of this chapter will govern.

(4) The purpose of an administrative hearing will be to review actions taken by the department under chapters 18.51, 74.42 or 74.39A RCW, and under this chapter.

(5) The applicant, licensee or nursing home must receive a request for an administrative hearing with the office of administrative hearings within twenty days of receipt of written notification of the department's action as defined in subsection (2) of this section. Further information about administrative hearings is available in chapter 388-02 WAC and at the office of administrative hearing (OAH) web site: www.oah.wa.gov.

WAC 388-97-4480 Criteria for imposing optional remedies.

(1) The criteria set forth in this section implement the requirements under RCW 18.51.060(8). (2) The department must consider the imposition of one or more optional remedy(ies) when the nursing home has:

(a) A history of being unable to sustain compliance;

(3) The department, in its sole discretion, may consider other relevant factors when determining what optional remedy or remedies to impose in particular circumstances.

- (a) Uncorrected upon revisit;
- (b) Recurring (repeated);
- (c) Pervasive; or

(d) Present a threat to the health, safety, or welfare of the residents.

(5) The department will consider the severity and scope of cited deficiencies in accordance with WAC 388-97-4500 when selecting optional remedy(ies). Such consideration will not limit the department's discretion to impose a remedy for a deficiency at a low level severity and scope.

[Statutory Authority: Chapters 18.51 and 74.42 RCW and 42 C.F.R. 489.52. 08-20-062, § 388-97-4480, filed 9/24/08, effective 11/1/08.]

WAC 388-97-4500 Severity and scope of deficiencies.

(1) "Severity of a deficiency" means the seriousness of the deficiency. Factors the department will consider when determining the severity of a deficiency may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Whether harm to the resident has occurred, or could occur, including but not limited to a violation of resident's rights;

(b) The Impact of the actual or potential harm on the resident; and

(c) The degree to which the nursing home failed to meet the resident's highest practicable physical, mental, and psychosocial well-being as defined in WAC 388-97-0001.

(2) Severity levels

(a) Severity level 4—Imminent harm or immediate jeopardy Level 4 means that a resident(s)' health or safety is imminently threatened or immediately jeopardized as a result of deficient nursing home practice. This level includes actual harm or potential harm, or both, to resident(s)' health or safety that has had or could have a severe negative outcome or critical impact on resident's well-being, including death or severe injury. Severity Level 4 requires immediate corrective action to protect the health and safety of resident(s).
(b) Severity level 3—Actual harm Level 3 means that actual harm has occurred to resident(s) as the result of deficient nursing home practice. (i) "Serious harm" is harm that results in a negative outcome that significantly compromises the resident(s)' ability to maintain and/or reach the highest practicable physical, mental and psychosocial well-being. Serious harm does not constitute imminent danger/immediate jeopardy (Severity Level 4).

(ii) "Moderate harm" is harm that results in a negative outcome that more than slightly but less than significantly compromises the resident(s)' ability to maintain and/or reach the highest practicable physical, mental and psychosocial well-being.

(iii) "Minimal harm" is harm that results in a negative outcome that to a small degree compromises the resident(s)' ability to maintain and/or reach the highest practicable physical, mental well-being.

Level 2, "potential for harm" means that if the deficient nursing home practice is not corrected, resident(s) may suffer actual harm.

(d) Severity level 1—No harm or minimal impact
Level 1 means a deficient nursing home practice that does not compromise the resident(s)' ability to maintain or reach, or both, the highest practicable physical, mental and psychosocial well-being. Deficiencies at level 1 are those that have no direct or potential for no more than minimal impact on the resident. Examples include certain structure deficiencies, certain physical environment deficiencies and process deficiencies.

(3) "Scope of a deficiency" means the frequency, incidence, or extent of the occurrence of the deficiency.

(4) Scope categories

(a) "Isolated or limited scope" means a relatively few number of residents have been affected or have the potential to be affected, by the deficient nursing home practice.

(b) "Moderate or pattern scope" scope means more than an isolated and less than a widespread number of residents have been affected, or have the potential to be affected by the deficient nursing home practice.

(c) "Widespread" or "systemic scope" means most or all of the residents are affected or have the potential to be affected, by the deficient nursing home practice.

(5) Determination of scope will be made by the department in its sole discretion. Factors the department will consider may include:

- (a) Size of the nursing home;
- (b) Size of the sample;
- (c) Number and location of affected residents;
- (d) Whether the deficiency applies to all or a subset of the residents;
- (e) Other factors relevant to the particular circumstances.

(5) Interest on the civil fine(s) begins to accrue at a rate of one percent per month, thirty days after the nursing home is notified of the fine, unless a settlement agreement includes other provisions for payment of interest. If the amount of the civil fine is reduced following an appeal, interest on the reduced civil fine(s) accrues from thirty days after the nursing home was notified of the original civil fine(s).

(6) When a nursing home fails to pay a civil fine when due under this chapter, the department may:

WAC 388-105-0035 Requirements for a capital add-on rate for licensed boarding homes contracted to provide assisted living (AL) services. (1) To the extent funds are appropriated to pay a capital add-on rate to AL contractors, beginning July 1, 2006 and every July 1 thereafter, the department will pay a capital add-on rate to AL contractors that have a medicaid occupancy percentage that equals or exceeds sixty percent as determined in accordance with subsection (2) and (3) of this section. The department will pay the capital add-on rate to those AL contractors meeting the sixty percent medicaid occupancy percentage for a full fiscal year i.e., July 1 through June 30.

(2) The department will determine an AL contractor's medicaid occupancy percentage by dividing its medicaid resident days from the last six months of the calendar year preceding the applicable July 1 rate effective date by the product of the weighted average for all its licensed boarding home beds irrespective of use times the calendar days (one hundred eighty-four) for the same six-month period.

(3) For the purposes of this section, medicaid resident days include those clients enrolled in medicaid managed long-term care programs, including but not limited to the program for all inclusive care (PACE) and medicaid/medicare integration project (MMIP).

WAC 388-105-0045 Bed or unit hold—Medicaid resident discharged for a hospital or nursing home stay from an adult family home (AFH) or a boarding home contracted to provide adult residential care (ARC), enhanced adult residential care (EARC), or assisted living services (AL). (1) When an AFH, ARC, EARC, or AL contracts to provide services under chapter 74.39A RCW, the AFH, ARC, EARC, and AL contractor must hold a medicaid eligible resident's bed or unit when:

(a) Short-term care is needed in a nursing home or hospital;

(b) The resident is likely to return to the AFH, ARC, EARC, or AL; and

(c) Payment is made under subsection (3) of this section.

(2)(a) When the department pays the contractor to hold the medicaid resident's bed or unit during the resident's short-term nursing home or hospital stay, the contractor must hold the bed or unit for up to twenty days. If during the twenty day bed hold period, a department case manager determines that the medicaid resident's hospital or nursing home stay is not short term and the medicaid resident is unlikely to return to the AFH, ARC, EARC or AL facility, the department will cease paying for the bed hold the day the case manager notifies the contractor of his/her decision.

(b) A medicaid resident's discharge from an AFH, ARC, EARC, or an AL facility for a short term stay in a nursing home or hospital must be longer than twenty-four hours before subsection (3) of WAC 388-105-0045 applies.

(3) The department will compensate the contractor for holding the bed or unit for the:

(a) First through seventh day at seventy percent of the medicaid daily rate paid for care of the resident before the hospital or nursing home stay; and

(b) Eighth through the twentieth day, at eleven dollars a day.

(4) The AFH, ARC, EARC, or AL facility may seek third-party payment to hold a bed or unit for twenty-one days or longer. The third-party payment shall not exceed the medicaid daily rate paid to the facility for the resident. If third-party payment is not available and the returning medicaid resident continues to meet the admission criteria under chapter 388-71 and/or 388-106 WAC, then the medicaid resident may return to the first available and appropriate bed or unit.

(5) The department's social worker or case manager determines whether the:

(a) Stay in a nursing home or hospital will be short-term; and

(b) Resident is likely to return to the AFH, ARC, EARC, or AL facility.

(6) When the resident's stay in the hospital or nursing home exceeds twenty days or the department's social worker or case manager determines that the medicaid resident's stay in the nursing home or hospital is not short-term and the resident is unlikely to return to the AFH, ARC, EARC, or AL facility, then only subsection (4) of this section applies to any private contractual arrangements that the contractor may make with a third party in regard to the discharged resident's unit or bed.

(2) The AFH, ARC, EARC, or AL contractor may not request supplemental payment of a medicaid recipient's daily rate for services or items that are covered in the daily rate, and the contractor is required to provide:

(b) Additional payments requested by the contractor are for services, items, activities, room and board not covered by the medicaid per diem rate.

(4) For services, items and activities, the supplementation policy must comply with RCW 70.129.030(4).

(5) For units or bedrooms for which the contractor may request supplemental payments, the contractor must include in the supplemental payment policy the:

(a) Units and/or bedrooms for which the contractor may request supplementation;

(b) Action the contractor will take when a private pay resident converts to medicaid and the resident or a third party is unwilling or unable to pay a supplemental payment in order for the resident to remain in his or her unit or bedroom. When the only units or bedrooms available are those for which the contractor charges a supplemental payment, the contractor's policy may require the medicaid resident to move from the facility. However, the contractor must give the medicaid resident thirty days notice before requiring the medicaid resident to move.

(6) For the medicaid resident for whom the contractor receives supplemental payments, the contractor must indicate in the resident's record the:

(a) Unit or bedroom for which the contractor is receiving a supplemental payment;

WAC 388-106-0090 How does the CARE tool measure cognitive performance? (1) The CARE tool uses a tool called the cognitive performance scale (CPS) to evaluate your cognitive impairment. The CPS results in a score that ranges from zero (intact) to six (very severe impairment). Your CPS score is based on:

(a) Whether you are comatose.

(b) Your ability to make decisions, as defined in WAC 388-106-0010 "Decision making."

(c) Your ability to make yourself understood, as defined in WAC 388-106-0010 "Ability to make self understood."

(d) Whether you have short-term memory problem (e.g. can you remember recent events?) or whether you have delayed recall; and

(e) Whether you score as total dependence for self performance in eating, as defined in WAC 388-106-0010 "Self performance of ADLs."

(2) You will receive a CPS score of:

(a) Zero when you do not have problems with decision-making ability, making yourself understood, or recent memory.

(b) One when you meet one of the following:

(i) Your decision-making ability is scored as modified independence or moderately impaired;

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is usually, sometimes, or rarely/never understood; or

(iii) You have a recent memory problem.

(c) Two when you meet two of the following:

(i) Your decision-making ability is scored as modified independence or moderately impaired;

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is usually, sometimes, or rarely/never understood; and/or

(iii) You have a short-term memory problem or delayed recall.

(d) Three when you meet at least two of the criteria listed in subsection (2)(b) of this section and one of the following applies:

(i) Your decision making is moderately impaired; or

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is sometimes or rarely/never understood.

(e) Four when both of the following criteria applies:

(i) Your decision making is moderately impaired; and

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is sometimes or rarely/never understood.

(f) Five when your ability to make decisions is scored as severely impaired.

(g) Six when one of the following applies:

(i) Your decision making is moderately impaired; and

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is sometimes or rarely/never understood.

(f) Five when your ability to make decisions is scored as severely impaired.

(g) Six when one of the following applies:

(i) Your ability to make decisions is severely impaired and you require total dependence in eating; or

(d) Three when you meet at least two of the criteria listed in subsection (2)(b) of this section and one of the following applies:

(i) Your decision making is moderately impaired; or

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is sometimes or rarely/never understood.

(e) Four when both of the following criteria applies:

(i) Your decision making is moderately impaired; and

(ii) Your ability to make yourself understood is sometimes or rarely/never understood.

(f) Five when your ability to make decisions is scored as severely impaired.

(g) Six when one of the following applies:

(i) Your ability to make decisions is severely impaired and you require total dependence in eating; or

(f) Five when your ability to make decisions is scored as severely impaired.

WAC 388-106-0100 How does the CARE tool measure mood and behaviors? (1) When you do not meet the criteria for the clinically complex classification group, or the criteria for exceptional care, or for in-home only have a cognitive performance scale score of five or six, then the mood and behavior criteria listed in subsections (3) and (4) below determines your classification group. If you are eligible for more than one "B" group classification based on the two methodologies, CARE will place you in the highest group for which you qualify.

(2) For each behavior that the CARE tool has documented, the department will determine a status as "current" or "past" as defined in WAC 388-106-0010.

(3) CARE places you in the mood and behavior classification group only if you have one or more of the behavior/moods that also meets the listed status, frequency, and alterability as identified in the following chart:

(4) CARE places you in the mood and behavior classification group if you have a behavior point score greater than 1, your CPS score (as defined in WAC 388-106-0090) is greater than 2, and your ADL score (as defined in WAC 388-106-0105) is greater than 1.

Status	Intervention	Frequency	Weight
Past	No Intervention	N/A	0
Past	With Intervention	N/A	0.25
Current	N/A	1-3 days/wk	0.5
Current	N/A	4-6 days/wk	0.75
Current	N/A	Daily	1

Each current behavior (as shown in the table below) has a value from .5 to 6 depending on the severity and alterability. Each status combination (shown in the table above) has a weight from 0 to 1. Behavior points are determined by multiplying the value of each current behavior (from the list below) by the weight of the status combination (above). Behavior points for past behaviors will be determined by multiplying the easily altered value of the behavior from the table below by the appropriate weight from the table above (0 or .25).

The list of behaviors below is divided into categories. Each category has a point limit of how many points can be counted toward the total behavior point score as detailed below. The total behavior point score is determined by totaling the weight-adjusted values for each category below.

	Easily Altered/Past	Not Easily Altered
1. Crying and Tearfulness	.5	1
2. Easily Irritable/Agitated	.5	1

WAC 388-106-0105 How does the CARE tool measure activities of daily living (ADLs)? (1) CARE determines an ADL score ranging from zero to twenty-eight for each of the following ADLs.

- (a) Personal hygiene;
- (b) Bed mobility;
- (c) Transfers;
- (d) Eating;
- (e) Toilet use;
- (f) Dressing;
- (g) Locomotion in room;
- (h) Locomotion outside room; and
- (i) Walk in room.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 669]

(2) The department through the CARE tool determines the ADL score by using the definitions in WAC 388-106-0010 under "Self-performance for ADLs." The CARE tool assigns the following points to the level of self performance for each of the ADLs listed in subsection (1) of this section. For the locomotion in room, locomotion outside of room and walk in room, the department uses the highest score of the three in determining the total ADL score.

ADL Scoring Chart
If Self Performance is:	Score Equals
Independent	0
Supervision	1
Limited assistance	2
Extensive assistance	3
Total dependence	4
Did not occur/no provider	4
Did not occur/client not able	4
Did not occur/client declined	0

(3) Although assessed by CARE, the department does not score bathing and medication management to determine classification groups.

WAC 388-106-0115 How does CARE use criteria to place me in a classification group for residential facilities?

The CARE tool uses the criteria of cognitive performance as determined under WAC 388-106-0090, clinical complexity as determined under WAC 388-106-0095, mood/behaviors as determined under WAC 388-106-0100, ADLs as determined under WAC 388-106-0105 and exceptional care under WAC 388-106-0110 to place you into one of the following seventeen residential classification groups:

CARE classification is determined first by meeting criteria to be placed into a group, then you are further classified based on ADL score or behavior point score into a classification subgroup following a classification path of highest possible group to lowest qualifying group.

(1) If you meet the criteria for exceptional care, then CARE will place you in Group E. CARE then further classifies you into:

- (a) Group E High if you have an ADL score of 26-28; or
- (b) Group E Medium if you have an ADL score of 22-25.

(2) If you meet the criteria for clinical complexity and have a cognitive performance score of 4-6 then you are classified in Group D regardless of your mood and behavior qualification or behavior points. CARE then further classifies you into:

- (a) Group D High if you have an ADL score of 25-28; or
- (b) Group D Medium-High if you have an ADL score of 18-24; or
- (c) Group D Medium if you have an ADL score of 13-17; or
- (d) Group D Low if you have an ADL score of 2-12.

(2009 Ed.)

(3) If you meet the criteria for clinical complexity and have a CPS score of less than 4, then you are classified in Group C regardless of your mood and behavior qualification or behavior points. CARE then further classifies you into:

- (a) Group C High if you have an ADL score of 25-28; or
- (b) Group C Medium-High if you have an ADL score of 18-24; or

(c) Group C Medium if you have an ADL score of 9-17; or

- (d) Group C Low if you have an ADL score of 2-8.

(4) If you meet the criteria for mood and behavior qualification and do not meet the classification for C, D, or E groups, then you are classified into Group B. CARE further classifies you into:

- (a) Group B High if you have an ADL score of 15-28; or
- (b) Group B Medium if you have an ADL score of 5-14;

or

- (c) Group B Low if you have an ADL score of 0-4.

(5) If you meet the criteria for behavior points and have a CPS score of greater than 2 and your ADL score is greater than 1, and do not meet the classification for C, D, or E groups, then you are classified in Group B. CARE further classifies you into:

(a) Group B High if you have a behavior point score 12 or greater; or

(b) Group B Medium-High if you have a behavior point score greater than 6; or

(c) Group B Medium if you have a behavior point score greater than 4; or

(d) Group B Low if you have a behavior point score greater than 1.

(6) If you are not clinically complex and you do not qualify under either mood and behavior criteria, then you are classified in Group A. CARE further classifies you into:

WAC 388-106-0120 What is the payment rate that the department will pay the provider if I receive personal care services in a residential facility? The department publishes rates and/or adopts rules to establish how much the department pays toward the cost of your care in a residential facility. The department assigns payment rates to the CARE classification groups. Payment for care in a residential facility corresponds to the payment rate assigned to the classification group in which the CARE tool has placed you.

WAC 388-106-0130 How does the department determine the number of hours I may receive for in-home care? (1) The department assigns a base number of hours to each classification group as described in WAC 388-106-0125.

(2) The department will deduct from the base hours to account for informal supports, as defined in WAC 388-106-0010, or other paid services that meet some of an individual's need for personal care services, including adult day health, as follows:

(a) The CARE tool determines the adjustment for informal supports by determining the amount of assistance available to meet your needs, assigns it a numeric percentage, and reduces the base hours assigned to the classification group by the numeric percentage. The department has assigned the following numeric values for the amount of assistance available for each ADL and IADL:

Meds	Self Performance	Status	Assistance Available	Value Percentage

(b) To determine the amount of reduction for informal support, the value percentages are totaled and divided by the number of qualifying ADLs and IADLs needs. The result is value A. Value A is then subtracted from one. This is value B. Value B is divided by three. This is value C. Value A and Value C are summed. This is value D. Value D is multiplied by the "base hours" assigned to your classification group and the result is the number of in-home hours reduced for informal supports.

(3) Also, the department will adjust in-home base hours when:

(a) There is more than one client receiving ADSA-paid personal care services living in the same household, the status under subsection (2)(a) of this section must be met or partially met for the following IADLs:

- (i) Meal preparation;
- (ii) Housekeeping;
- (iii) Shopping; and
- (iv) Wood supply.

(b) You are under the age of eighteen, your assessment will be coded according to age guidelines codified in WAC 388-106-0213.

(4) In addition to any determination of unmet need in (2)(a) when you are not affected by (3) above, the department will score the status for meal preparation as unmet when you adhere to at least one of the following special diets:

- (a) ADA (diabetes);
- (b) Autism diet;
- (c) Calorie reduction;
- (d) Low sodium;
- (e) Mechanically altered;
- (f) Planned weight change program;
- (g) Renal diet; or
- (h) Needs to receive nutrition through tube feeding or receives greater than twenty-five percent of calories through tube or parenteral feeding.

(5) In addition to any determination of unmet need in (2)(a) when you are not affected by (3) above, the department will score the status for housework as unmet when you are incontinent of bladder or bowel, documented as:

- (a) Incontinent all or most of the time;
- (b) Frequently incontinent; or
- (c) Occasionally incontinent.

(6) After deductions are made to your base hours, as described in subsections (2) and (3), the department may add on hours based on your living environment:

(7) In the case of New Freedom consumer directed services (NFCDS), the department determines hours as described in WAC 388-106-1445.

(8) The result of actions under subsections (2), (3), (4), (5) and (6) is the maximum number of hours that can be used to develop your plan of care. The department must take into account cost effectiveness, client health and safety, and program limits in determining how hours can be used to meet your identified needs. In the case of New Freedom consumer directed services (NFCDS), a New Freedom spending plan (NFSP) is developed in place of a plan of care.

(9) You and your case manager will work to determine what services you choose to receive if you are eligible. The hours may be used to authorize:

- (a) Personal care services from a home care agency provider and/or an individual provider.

(b) Home delivered meals (i.e. a half hour from the available hours for each meal authorized).

(c) Adult day care (i.e. a half hour from the available hours for each hour of day care authorized).

(d) A home health aide if you are eligible per WAC 388-106-0300 or 388-106-0500.

WAC 388-106-1445 How is the amount of the individual budget determined? (2009 Ed.)

COPES waiver. The average will be recalculated in July of each year.

(b) If the participant selects a home care agency, an adjustment will be made for each hour of personal care identified in the NFSP for an amount equal to the difference between the published individual provider rate and home care agency rate.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.030. 06-16-035, § 388-106-1445, filed 7/25/06, effective 8/25/06.]

WAC 388-106-1450 Is the individual budget intended to fully meet all of my needs? The program provides funds in an amount proportionate to the amount of resources you would receive through COPES, and gives you flexibility to self-direct the purchase of goods and services to meet your long-term care needs. The degree to which the budget meets your needs depends on the supports you identify and prioritize in your spending plan. Depending on your decisions, after your budget is exhausted, some of your needs may be unmet, or you may find other resources to address them.

Reserves in excess of three thousand dollars may be maintained for planned purchases with approval from the department.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.520, 74.39A.030. 06-16-035, § 388-106-1455, filed 7/25/06, effective 8/25/06.]

WAC 388-106-1460 When can my New Freedom spending plan (NFSP) be denied? Your NFSP may be denied when the plan you develop does not:

PART II ASSISTED LIVING SERVICES

WAC 388-110-140 Assisted living services facility structural requirements. (1) In a boarding home with an assisted living services contract, the contractor must ensure each resident has a private apartment-like unit meeting the requirements of a type 'B' dwelling unit as defined by the International Code Council A117.1 as adopted by the Washington State Building Code Council. Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, each unit must have at least the following:

(a) A minimum area of one hundred eighty square feet in an existing boarding home, and two hundred twenty square feet in a new boarding home. The minimum area may include counters, closets and built-ins, but must exclude the bathroom;

(b) A separate private bathroom, which includes a sink, toilet, and a shower or bathtub. In a new boarding home, the contractor must provide a minimum of one wheelchair accessible bathroom with a roll-in shower that is at least forty-eight inches by thirty inches for every two residents whose care is partially or fully funded by the department through the assisted living contract;

(c) A lockable entry door;

(d) A kitchen area equipped with a refrigerator, a microwave oven or stovetop, and a counter or table for food preparation. In a new boarding home, the kitchen area must also be equipped with a storage space for utensils and supplies, and a counter surface, a minimum of thirty inches wide by twenty-four inches in depth, a maximum height of thirty-four inches, and a knee space beneath at least twenty-seven inches in height; and

(e) A living area wired for telephone and, where available in the geographic location, wired for television service.

(2)(a) For purposes of this section, a new boarding home is:

(i) A new building to be used as a boarding home or part of a boarding home, for which plans are submitted to the department of health for construction review on or after June 8, 1996; or

(ii) An addition, modification, or alteration to an existing licensed boarding home, for which plans are submitted to the department of health for construction review on or after June 8, 1996.

(A) The department may, in consultation with the office of construction review services in the department of health, exempt from selected new boarding home contract construction requirements, a limited addition, modification, or alteration to an existing licensed boarding home that will improve the quality of life for residents, if compliance with all new boarding home contract construction requirements would otherwise make the limited addition, modification, or alteration cost prohibitive. A limited addition, modification, or alteration means any physical change to an existing licensed boarding home that does not affect the structural integrity of the building, does not affect fire and life safety, and does not increase the boarding home's maximum facility capacity as defined in WAC 388-78A-2020.

(B) A major addition, modification, or alteration to an existing licensed boarding home must meet new boarding home contract construction requirements for applicable portions of the building. A major addition, modification, or alteration means any physical change within a room or area in an existing licensed boarding home that results in reconstruction to structural or other building systems.

(b) All boarding homes that are not new boarding homes under subsection (2)(a) of this section, are existing boarding homes. An existing building, or portion thereof, that is converted to boarding home use must be considered an existing boarding home unless there is an addition, modification or alteration to the existing building.

(3) If a boarding home submitted plans to the department of health for construction review on or after June 8, 1996, and the boarding home had an assisted living contract as of September 1, 2004, then the boarding home is "grandfathered" under the contracting rules for structural requirements that were in effect at the time of contracting and is considered to meet the assisted living structural requirements of subsection (1) of this section. However, if the same boarding home submits plans to the department of health for construction review for an addition, modification or alteration of the boarding home after September 1, 2004, then the boarding home must meet the current new boarding home requirements of subsection (1) for the applicable portions of the building.

(4) Married couples may share an apartment-like unit under an assisted living contract if:

(a) Both residents understand they are each entitled to live in a separate private unit; and

(b) Both residents mutually request to share a single apartment-like unit.

(5) In a new boarding home, the contractor must provide a private accessible mailbox in which the resident may receive mail.

(6) The contractor must provide homelike smoke-free common areas with sufficient space for socialization designed to meet resident needs. Common areas must be available for resident use at any time provided such use does not disturb the health or safety of other residents. The contractor must make access to outdoor areas available to all residents.

(7) The contractor must provide a space for residents to meet with family and friends outside the resident's living unit.

(8) The department may grant an exemption to the requirements of this section as they apply to a specified resident when it is in the best interest of the specific resident.

In a boarding home with an assisted living contract, the contractor must meet the requirements of parts I and II of this chapter, and for residents served under the assisted living contract:

(1) Ensure that both the physical environment and the delivery of assisted living services are designed to enhance autonomy in ways which reflect personal and social values of dignity, privacy, independence, individuality, choice and decision making of residents. The contractor must provide resident services in a homelike environment for residents who may have a range of needs and preferences.

(2) Must provide or arrange for, at no additional cost to the resident and consistent with chapter 388-78A WAC:

(a) Intermittent nursing services;

(b) Medication administration;

(c) Personal care services; and

(d) Supportive services that promote independence and self-sufficiency.

(3) Make available and offer at no additional cost to the resident generic personal care items needed by the resident such as soap, shampoo, toilet paper, toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, sanitary napkins, and disposable razors. This does not include items covered by medical coupons or preclude residents from choosing to purchase their own personal care items.

(4) Provide all residents with access to an on-site washing machine and dryer for resident use.

(5) Make beverages and snacks available to residents.

PURPOSE

WAC 388-145-0010 What is the purpose of this chapter? The department issues or denies a license on the basis of compliance with licensing requirements. This chapter defines general and specific licensing requirements for emergency respite centers. Unless noted otherwise, these requirements apply to people who want to be licensed or relicensed to provide facility-based emergency respite care.

The department is committed to ensuring that children who receive emergency respite care experience health, safety, and well-being. We want these children's experiences to be beneficial to them not only in the short term, but also in the long term. Our licensing requirements reflect our commitment to children.

PURPOSE AND DEFINITIONS

WAC 388-147-0020 What is the purpose of this chapter? This chapter defines general and specific minimum licensing requirements for independent-living pregnant and parenting teen facilities. A program for pregnant or parenting teens younger than age sixteen would require consultation with and approval from the department's licensing agent to be licensed under this chapter.

The department is committed to ensuring that the pregnant and parenting teens and their children who receive residential care experience health, safety, and well-being. Our licensing requirements reflect our commitment to children and youth.

PURPOSE AND DEFINITIONS

WAC 388-148-0005 What is the purpose of this chapter? The department issues or denies a license or certification on the basis of compliance with licensing requirements. This chapter defines general and specific licensing requirements for foster homes, staffed residential homes, group facilities, and child-placing agencies. We include licensing requirements for people who operate foster homes, group care programs and facilities, staffed residential homes, and child-placing agencies. In addition, we describe our requirements for specialized services offered in these homes and facilities, including: Maternity services, day treatment services, crisis residential centers, group receiving centers services for children with severe developmental disabilities and programs for medically fragile children. Unless noted otherwise, these requirements apply to people who want to be licensed, certified, relicensed and recertified.

The department is committed to ensuring that the children who receive care experience health, safety, and well-being. We want these children's experiences to be beneficial to them not only in the short run, but also in the long term. Our licensing requirements reflect our commitment to children.

Approval to exceed the capacity restrictions must be in writing and signed by the DLR manager or designee.

WAC 388-310-0100 WorkFirst—Purpose. (1) What is the WorkFirst program?

The WorkFirst program offers services and activities to help people in low-income families find jobs, keep their jobs, find better jobs and become self-sufficient. The program links families to a variety of state, federal and community resources to meet this goal. When you enter the WorkFirst program, you will be asked to work, look for work and/or prepare for work.

(2) Who does the WorkFirst program serve?

The WorkFirst program serves three groups:

- (a) Parents and children age sixteen or older who receive cash assistance under the temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), general assistance for pregnant women (GA-S) or state family assistance (SFA) programs; and
- (b) Parents who no longer receive cash assistance and need some continuing support to remain self-sufficient; and
- (c) Low income parents who support their family without applying for or relying on cash assistance.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090 and 74.04.050, 99-08-051, § 388-310-0100, filed 4/1/99, effective 5/2/99; 97-20-129, § 388-310-0100, filed 10/1/97, effective 11/1/97.]

WAC 388-310-0200 WorkFirst—Activities. (1) Who is required to participate in WorkFirst activities?

(a) You are required to participate in WorkFirst activities, and become what is called a "mandatory participant," if you:

- (i) Receive TANF or SFA cash assistance; and
 - (ii) Are a custodial parent or age sixteen or older; and
 - (iii) Are not exempt. For exemptions see WAC 388-310-0300 and 388-310-0350.
- (b) Participation is voluntary for all other WorkFirst participants (those who no longer receive or have never received TANF or SFA cash assistance).

(2) What activities do I participate in when I enter the WorkFirst program?

When you enter the WorkFirst program, you will participate in one or more of the following activities (which are described in more detail in other sections of this chapter):

- (a) Paid employment (see WAC 388-310-0400 (2)(a) and 388-310-1500);
- (b) Self employment (see WAC 388-310-1700);
- (c) Job search (see WAC 388-310-0600);

(2009 Ed.)

uations such as drug and/or alcohol abuse, homelessness, or mental health issues; and/or

(m) Activities identified by your case manager on your individual responsibility plan to help you cope with family violence as defined in WAC 388-61-001; and/or

(n) Up to ten hours of financial literacy activities to help you become self-sufficient and financially stable.

(3) If I am a mandatory participant, how much time must I spend doing WorkFirst activities?

If you are a mandatory participant, you will be required to participate full time, working, looking for work or preparing for work. You might be required to participate in more than one part-time activity at the same time that add up to full time participation. You will have an individual responsibility plan (described in WAC 388-310-0500) that includes the specific activities and requirements of your participation.

(4) What activities do I participate in after I get a job?

You will participate in other activities, such as job search or training once you are working twenty hours or more a week in a paid unsubsidized job, to bring your participation up to full time.

You may also engage in activities if you are working full time and want to get a better job.

Post employment services (described in WAC 388-310-1800) include:

- (a) Activities that help you keep a job (called an "employment retention" service); and/or
- (b) Activities that help you get a better job or better wages (called a "wage and skill progression" service).

WAC 388-310-0300 WorkFirst—Infant care exemptions for mandatory participants. (1) When can I be exempted from participating in WorkFirst activities if I am a mandatory participant?

Either you or the other parent (living in the household) can claim an infant exemption from participating in WorkFirst activities provided you:

- (a) Have a child under one year of age;
- (b) Choose to not fully participate in the WorkFirst program (see WAC 388-310-0400); and
- (c) Have not used up your lifetime twelve-month infant exemption.

(2) If I choose my infant exemption, can I still be required to participate in the WorkFirst program?

You are required to participate up to twenty hours per week in mental health and/or chemical dependency treatment if:

- (a) The comprehensive evaluation or assessment indicates a need; and
- (b) Services are available in your community.

(3) Can I volunteer to participate in WorkFirst while I have a child under one?

You may choose to fully participate in WorkFirst (see WAC 388-310-0400) while you have a child under one year of age. If you decide later to stop participating and you still qualify for an exemption, you will be put back into exempt status with no financial penalty provided you meet conditions (1) and (2) above.

(4) Does an infant exemption from participation affect my sixty-month time limit for receiving TANF or SFA benefits?

Even if you are exempt from participation, each month you receive a TANF/SFA grant counts toward your sixty-month limit (see WAC 388-484-0005).

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.08.090, 74.04.055 and 2007 c 289. 08-02-055, § 388-310-0300, filed 12/28/07, effective 2/1/08. WAC 388-310-0350 WorkFirst—Other exemptions from mandatory participation. (1) When am I exempt from mandatory participation?

You are exempt from mandatory participation if you are:

(a) An older needy caretaker relative:

(i) You are fifty-five years of age or older and caring for a child and you are not the child's parent; and

(ii) Your age is verified by any reliable documentation (such as a birth certificate or a driver's license).

(b) An adult with a severe and chronic disability:

(i) The disability must be a severe and chronic mental, physical, emotional, or cognitive impairment that prevents you from participating in work activities and is expected to last at least twelve months; or

(ii) You have been assessed by a DSHS SSI facilitator as likely to be approved for SSI or other benefits and are applying for SSI or another type of federal disability benefit (such as railroad retirement or Social Security disability); and

(iii) Your disability is verified by documentation from the division of developmental disabilities (DDD), division of vocational rehabilitation (DVR), home and community services division (HCS), division of mental health (MHD), and/or regional support network (RSN), or evidence from another medical or mental health professional; and

(iv) Your SSI application status may be verified through the SSI facilitator and/or state data exchange.

(c) Required in the home to care for a child with special needs when:

(i) The child has a special medical, developmental, mental, or behavioral condition; and

(ii) The child is determined by a public health nurse, physician, mental health provider, school professional, other medical professional, HCS, MHD, and/or a RSN to require specialized care or treatment that significantly interferes with your ability to look for work or work.

(d) Required to be in the home to care for another adult with disabilities when:

(i) The adult with disabilities cannot be left alone for significant periods of time; and

(ii) No adult other than yourself is available and able to provide the care; and

(iii) The adult with the disability is related to you; and

(iv) The disability is verified by documentation from DDD, DVR, HCS, MHD, and/or a RSN, or evidence from another medical or mental health professional.

(2) Who reviews and approves an exemption?

(a) If it appears that you may qualify for an exemption or you ask for an exemption, your case manager or social worker will review the information and we will use the case staffing process to determine whether the exemption will be approved. Case staffing is a process to bring together a team of multidisciplinary experts including relevant professionals and the client to identify participant issues, review case history and information, and recommend solutions.

(b) If additional medical or other documentation is needed to determine if you are exempt, your IRP will allow between thirty days and up to ninety if approved to gather the necessary documentation.

(c) Information needed to verify your exemption should meet the standards for verification described in WAC 388-490-0005. If you need help gathering information to verify your exemption, you can ask us for help. If you have been identified as needing NSA services, under chapter 388-472 WAC, your accommodation plan should include information on how we will assist you with getting the verification needed.

(d) After the case staffing, we will send you a notice that tells you whether your exemption was approved, how to request a fair hearing if you disagree with the decision, and any changes to your IRP that were made as a result of the case staffing.

(3) Can I participate in WorkFirst while I am exempt?

(a) You may choose to participate in WorkFirst while you are exempt.

(b) Your WorkFirst case manager may refer you to other service providers who may help you improve your skills and move into employment.

(c) If you decide later to stop participating, and you still qualify for an exemption, you will be put back into exempt status with no financial penalty.

(4) Does an exemption from participation affect my sixty-month time limit for receiving TANF/SFA benefits?

An exemption from participation does not affect your sixty-month time limit (described in WAC 388-484-0005) for receiving TANF/SFA benefits. Even if exempt from participation, each month you receive a TANF/SFA grant counts toward your sixty-month limit.

(5) How long will my exemption last?

Unless you are an older caretaker relative, your exemption will be reviewed at least every twelve months to make sure that you still meet the criteria for an exemption. Your exemption will continue as long as you continue to meet the criteria for an exemption.

(6) What happens when I am no longer exempt?

If you are no longer exempt, then:

(a) You will become a mandatory participant under WAC 388-310-0400; and

(b) If you have received sixty or more months of TANF/SFA, your case will be reviewed for an extension. (See WAC

388-484-0006 for a description of TANF/SFA time limit extensions.)

(7) For time-limited extensions, see WAC 388-484-0006.

WAC 388-310-0400 WorkFirst—Entering the WorkFirst program as a mandatory participant. (1) What happens when I enter the WorkFirst program as a mandatory participant?

If you are a mandatory participant, you must follow instructions as written in your individual responsibility plan (see WAC 388-310-0500), which is written after you have participated in a comprehensive evaluation of elements related to your employability. If you have been identified as someone who needs necessary supplemental accommodation (NSA) services (defined in chapter 388-472 WAC) your case manager will first develop an accommodation plan to help you access WorkFirst services. The case manager will use the accommodation plan to help develop your IRP with you. If you have been identified as a victim of family violence (defined in WAC 388-61-001), you and your case manager will develop an IRP to help you with your situation, including referrals to appropriate services.

If you are a mandatory participant, your case manager will refer you to WorkFirst activities unless any of the following applies to you:

(a) You work thirty-two or more hours a week. "Work" means to engage in any legal, income generating activity which is taxable under the United States tax code or which would be taxable with or without a treaty between an Indian Nation and the United States;

(b) You work sixteen or more hours a week in the federal or state work study program and you attend a Washington state community or technical college at least half time;

(c) You work twenty or more hours a week in unsubsidized employment and attend a Washington state community or technical college at least half time;

(d) You are under the age of eighteen, have not completed high school, GED or its equivalent and are in school full time;

(e) You are eighteen or nineteen years of age and are attending high school or an equivalent full time;

(f) You are pregnant or have a child under the age of twelve months, and are participating in other pregnancy to employment activities. See WAC 388-310-1450;

(g) Your situation prevents you from looking for a job and you are conducting activities identified on your IRP to help you with your situation. (For example, you may be unable to look for a job while you have health problems or you are homeless); or

(h) Your situation prevents you from looking for work because you are a victim of family violence and you are conducting activities on your IRP to help you with your situation.

(2) How will I know what my participation requirements are?

(a) Your individual responsibility plan will describe what you need to do to be able to enter job search or other

(2009 Ed.)

WorkFirst activities and then find a job (see WAC 388-310-0500 and 388-310-0700).

(b) If you enter the pregnancy to employment pathway (described in WAC 388-310-1450(3)), you must take part in an assessment.

(3) What happens if I do not follow my WorkFirst requirements?

If you do not participate in creating an individual responsibility plan, job search, or in the activities listed in your individual responsibility plan, and you do not have a good reason, the department will follow the sanction rules in WAC 388-310-1600.

WAC 388-310-0500 WorkFirst—Individual responsibility plan. (1) What is the purpose of my individual responsibility plan?

The purpose of your individual responsibility plan is to give you a written statement that describes:

(a) What your responsibilities are; and

(b) Which WorkFirst activities you are required to participate in; and

(c) What services you will receive so you are able to participate.

(2) What is included in my individual responsibility plan?

Your individual responsibility plan includes the following:

(a) What WorkFirst activities you must do and the participation requirements for those activities including the amount of time you will spend doing the activities, a start and end date for each activity and the requirement to participate fully.

(b) Any other specific requirements that are tied to the WorkFirst work activity. For example, you might be required to learn English as part of your work experience activity or to provide proof of your employment hours.

(c) What services we will provide to help you participate in the activity. For example, you may require support services (such as help with paying for transportation) or help with paying childcare.

(d) Your statement that you recognize the need to become and remain employed as quickly as possible.

(3) How is my individual responsibility plan developed?

You and your case manager will work together and use information gathered from your comprehensive evaluation (see WAC 388-310-0700) to develop your individual responsibility plan and decide what activities will be included in it. Then, your case manager will assign you to specific WorkFirst activities that will help you find employment.

(4) What happens after my individual responsibility plan is completed?

Once your individual responsibility plan is completed:

(a) You will sign and get a copy of your individual responsibility plan.

(b) You and your case manager will review your plan as necessary over the coming months to make sure your plan continues to meet your employment needs. You will sign and get a copy of your individual responsibility plan every time it is reviewed and changed.

(5) What should I do if I cannot go to a required WorkFirst appointment or activity because of a temporary situation outside of my control?

If you cannot participate because of a temporary situation outside of your control, you must call the telephone number shown on your individual responsibility plan on the same day you were to report to explain your situation. You will be given an excused absence. Some examples of excused absences include:

(a) You, your children or other family members are ill;

(b) Your transportation or child care arrangements break down and you cannot make new arrangements in time to comply;

(c) A significant person in your life died; or

(d) A family violence situation arose or worsened.

(6) What happens if I don't call in on the same day I am unable to attend to get an excused absence?

If you do not call in on the same day you are unable to attend to get an excused absence, it will be considered an unexcused absence.

If you exceed the number of unexcused absences allowed on your individual responsibility plan, without good cause, your case manager will begin the sanction process. (See WAC 388-310-1600 for more details.)

WAC 388-310-0600 WorkFirst—Job search. (1) What is job search?

Job search is an opportunity to learn and use skills you need to find and keep a job. Job search may include:

(a) Classroom instruction; and/or

(b) Structured job search that helps you find job openings, complete applications, practice interviews and apply other skills and abilities with a job search specialist or a group of fellow job-seekers.

(2) Who provides me with job search?

You get job search from the employment security department or another organization under contract with WorkFirst to provide these services.

(3) How long do I stay in job search?

Periods of job search will start with a review of the work skills assessment portion of your comprehensive evaluation and may last up to twelve continuous weeks. Job search specialists will monitor your progress. By the end of the first four weeks, a job search specialist will determine whether you should continue in job search. Job search will end when:

(a) You find a full-time job; or

(b) You become exempt from WorkFirst requirements (see WAC 388-310-0300); or

(c) Your situation changes and the case manager changes the activities on your IRP to fit your new circumstances (see WAC 388-310-0400); or

(d) After fully participating in job search, and based on your experience in looking for work in the local labor market, it is determined that you need additional skills and/or experience to find a job; or

(e) You have not found a job at the end of the job search period.

(4) What happens at the end of job search if I have not found a job?

At the end of each job search period, you will be referred back to your case manager who will, at a minimum, review and update the DSHS portion of your comprehensive evaluation if you have not found a job. You and your case manager will also modify your individual responsibility plan.

If so, we will tell you how to get this information;

(ii) A work skills assessment to review your education, employment history, employment strengths and job skills; and

(iii) Educational and other evaluations.

(b) You and your case manager and/or social worker use the information and recommendations from these evaluations to create or modify your individual responsibility plan, adding activities that help you become employable.

(8) What happens after I am placed in the community jobs program?

When you are placed in the community jobs program by DSHS:

(i) To ensure you are TANF/SFA eligible; and

(ii) To verify any earned or unearned income received by you or another member of your assistance unit (that is, you and other people in your household who are included on your cash grant).

(c) Your community jobs contractor will review your case each month to ensure you are following your IRP and IDP, participating full time, and becoming more employable because of your community job;

(d) If you request a different community jobs placement, we do not consider your request a refusal to participate without good cause under WAC 388-310-1600. You may be asked to explain why you want a different placement;

If you are on TANF/SFA and are pregnant or have a child under the age of one year, you are a participant in the pregnancy to employment pathway.

(2) What services are provided to the pregnancy to employment pathway?

(a) The pregnancy to employment pathway provides you with services, when available in your community, to help you learn how to work, look for work, or prepare for work while still meeting your child's needs. You and your case manager or social worker will decide which variety of services you need such as:

- (i) Parenting education or parenting skills training;
- (ii) Safe and appropriate child care;

(3) What am I required to do while I am in the pregnancy to employment pathway?

You must participate in an assessment with a DSHS social worker and based on the results you will:

(a) Work with your case manager/social worker to decide which required activities best meet your needs. These activities will depend on where you are in the pregnancy or the age of your child and will be added to your individual responsibility plan (IRP).

(b) Be required to participate in the activities identified in your IRP.

(4) What am I required to do while I am pregnant?

Based upon the results of your assessment, your participation:

(b) During your third trimester of pregnancy will be up to twenty hours per week in mental health and/or chemical dependency treatment if:

- (i) The comprehensive evaluation or assessment indicates a need; and
- (ii) Services are available in your community.

(5) What am I required to do after my child is born?

After the birth of your child, you may choose to take the infant exemption (See WAC 388-310-0300) or volunteer to participate in WorkFirst activities to the fullest of your abilities (see WAC 388-310-0400).

(6) What if I have used my twelve-month lifetime infant exemption?

If you have another child after using all twelve months of the infant exemption, you will be:

(a) Eligible for a twelve-week postpartum deferral period to personally take care of an infant less than twelve weeks of age. During the twelve-week postpartum deferral period, you will be required to participate up to twenty hours per week in mental health and/or chemical dependency treatment if the comprehensive evaluation or assessment indicates a need and services are available in your community.

WAC 388-310-1500 WorkFirst—Employment conditions. (1) If I am a mandatory participant, are there any limitations on the type of paid or unpaid employment I must accept?

If you are a mandatory participant, you must accept paid or unpaid employment (including any activity in which an employer-employee relationship exists) unless the employment:

- (a) Is not covered by industrial insurance (described in state law under Title 51 RCW) unless you are employed by a tribal government or a tribal private for-profit business;
- (b) Is available because of a labor dispute;
- (c) Has working hours or conditions that interfere with your religious beliefs or practices (and a reasonable accommodation cannot be made);
- (d) Does not meet federal, state or tribal health and safety standards; or
- (e) Has unreasonable work demands or conditions, such as working for an employer who does not pay you on schedule.

(2) Are there any additional limitations on when I can be required to accept paid employment?

You must accept paid employment unless the job or the employer:

(a) Pays less than the federal, state, or tribe minimum wage, whichever is higher;

(b) Does not provide unemployment compensation coverage (described in state law under Title 50 RCW) unless you:

(i) Work for a tribal government or tribal for-profit business; or

(ii) Are a treaty fishing rights related worker (and exempt under section 7873 of the Internal Revenue code);

(c) Requires you to resign or refrain from joining a legitimate labor organization; or

(d) Does not provide you benefits that are equal to those provided to other workers employed in similar jobs.

(3) How many hours of unpaid employment can I be required to perform?

You can be required to work a set number of hours of unpaid employment each month. The number of hours required will not be more than your TANF, SFA or GA-S cash grant plus Basic Food benefits, divided by the state minimum wage.

(4) What safeguards are in place to make sure I am not used to displace currently employed workers?

The following safeguards are in place to make sure you are not used to displace currently employed workers:

(a) You cannot be required to accept paid or unpaid employment which:

(i) Results in another employee's job loss, reduced wages, reduced hours of employment or overtime or lost employment benefits;

(ii) Impairs existing contracts for services or collective bargaining agreements;

(iii) Puts you in a job or assignment, or uses you to fill a vacancy, when:

(A) Any other person is on lay off from the same (or very similar) job within the same organizational unit; or

(B) An employer ends the job of a regular employee (or otherwise reduces its workforce) so you can be hired.

(iv) Reduces current employees' opportunities for promotions.

(b) If a regular employee believes your subsidized or unpaid work activity (such as a community jobs or work experience position) violates any of the rules described above, this employee (or his or her representative) has the right to:

(i) A grievance procedure (described in WAC 388-426-0005); and

(ii) A fair hearing (described in chapter 388-02 WAC).

(5) What other rules apply specifically to subsidized or on-the-job training positions?

If you are in a subsidized or on-the-job training position:

(a) WorkFirst state agencies must stop paying your wage or on-the-job training subsidy to your employer if your employer's worksite or operation becomes involved in a strike, lockout or bona fide labor dispute.

(b) If your wage subsidy or on-the-job training agreement is ended (and we stop paying any subsidies to your employer) because you were used to displace another employee, it will be up to you and the employer to decide whether you can (or want to) keep working there.

WAC 388-310-1600 WorkFirst—Sanctions. (1) What WorkFirst requirements do I have to meet?

You must do the following when you are a mandatory WorkFirst participant:

(a) Give the department the information we need to develop your individual responsibility plan (IRP) (see WAC 388-310-0500);

(b) Show that you are participating fully to meet all of the requirements listed on your individual responsibility plan;

(c) Go to scheduled appointments listed in your individual responsibility plan;

(d) Follow the participation and attendance rules of the people who provide your assigned WorkFirst services or activities; and

(e) Accept available paid employment when it meets the criteria in WAC 388-310-1500.

(2) What happens if I don't meet WorkFirst requirements?

(a) If you do not meet WorkFirst requirements, we will send you a letter telling you what you did not do.

(b) You will have ten days to contact us so we can talk with you about the situation. You can contact us in writing, by phone, by going to the appointment described in the letter, or by asking for an individual appointment.

(c) If you do not contact us within ten days, we will make sure you have been screened for family violence and other barriers to participation. We will use existing information to decide whether:

(i) You were unable to do what was required; or

(ii) You were able, but refused, to do what was required.

(d) If you had a good reason not to do a required activity we will work with you and may change the requirements in your individual responsibility plan if a different WorkFirst activity would help you move towards independence and employment sooner. If you have been unable to meet your WorkFirst requirements because of family violence, you and your case manager will develop an IRP to help you with your situation, including referrals to appropriate services.

(e) Before you are placed in sanction:

(i) We will have a case staffing which is a meeting with you, your case manager and other people involved in your case to review your situation and make plans. At your case staffing, we will ensure you were offered the opportunity to participate, discuss what happens if you stay in sanction, discuss how participation helps you and your family and discuss how to end your sanction. You will be notified when your case staffing is going to happen so you can attend. You can invite anyone you want to come with you to your case staffing.

(ii) Effective September 1, 2006, supervisory staff will review your case and must approve the sanction.

(f) If you are sanctioned, we will actively attempt to contact you another way so we can talk to you about the benefits of participation and how to end your sanction.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 833]

(3) What is considered a good reason for not being able to do what WorkFirst requires?

You have a good reason if it was not possible to do what WorkFirst requires (or get an excused absence, described in WAC 388-310-0500(5)) due to a significant problem or event outside your control. Some examples of good reasons include, but are not limited to:

(a) You had an emergent or severe physical, mental or emotional condition, confirmed by a licensed health care professional that interfered with your ability to participate;

(b) You were threatened with or subjected to family violence;

(c) You could not locate child care for your children under thirteen years that was:

(i) Affordable (did not cost you more than your copayment would under the working connections child care program in chapter 170-290 WAC);

(ii) Appropriate (licensed, certified or approved under federal, state or tribal law and regulations for the type of care you use and you were able to choose, within locally available options, who would provide it); and

(iii) Within a reasonable distance (within reach without traveling farther than is normally expected in your community).

(iv) You could not locate other care services for an incapacitated person who lives with you and your children.

(d) You had an immediate legal problem, such as an eviction notice; or

(e) You are a person who gets necessary supplemental accommodation (NSA) services under chapter 388-472 WAC and your limitation kept you from participating. If you have a good reason because you need NSA services, we will review your accommodation plan.

(4) What if we decide that you did not have a good reason for failing to meet WorkFirst requirements?

If we decide that you did not have a good reason for failing to meet WorkFirst requirements, we will send you a letter that tells you:

(a) What you failed to do;

(b) That you are in sanction status;

(c) Penalties that will be applied to your grant;

(d) When the penalties will be applied;

(e) How to request a fair hearing if you disagree with this decision; and

(f) How to end the penalties and get out of sanction status.

(5) What is sanction status?

When you are a mandatory WorkFirst participant, you must follow WorkFirst requirements to qualify for your full grant. If you or someone else on your grant doesn't comply and you can't prove that you had a good reason, you do not qualify for your full grant. This is called being in WorkFirst sanction status.

(6) Are there penalties when you or someone in my household goes into sanction status?

(a) When someone in your household is in sanction status, we impose penalties. The penalties last until you or the household member meet WorkFirst requirements.

(b) Your grant is reduced by the person(s) share or forty percent, whichever is more.

(7) How do I end the penalties and get out of sanction status?

To stop the penalties and get out of sanction status:

(a) You must provide the information we requested to develop your individual responsibility plan; and/or

(b) Start and continue to do your required WorkFirst activities for four weeks in a row (that is, twenty-eight calendar days).

(c) When you leave sanction status, your grant will be restored to the level for which you are eligible beginning the first of the month following your four weeks of participation. For example, if you finished your four weeks of participation on June 15, your grant would be restored on July 1.

(8) What if I reapply for TANF or SFA and I was in sanction status when my case closed?

(a) If your case closes while you are in sanction status and is reopened in six months or less, you will start out in sanction.

(b) Effective September 1, 2006, if you come back in sanction, you will start out where you left off in sanction. (That is, if you left off in month three of sanction, you will come back on in month four of sanction.)

(c) If your case has been closed for more than six months, you will not be in sanction status if your case is reopened.

(9) What happens effective September 1, 2006 if I stay in sanction status? Effective September 1, 2006, if you stay in sanction status:

(a) Unless you are a dependent child age sixteen or older, your case manager will review your record after you have been in sanction for at least three months in a row to make sure:

(i) You knew what was required;

(ii) You were told how to end your sanction;

(iii) We tried to talk to you and to encourage you to participate; and

(iv) You were given a chance to tell us if you were unable to do what we required.

(b) Your case manager will invite you to a noncompliance sanction case staffing.

(i) You will be notified when your noncompliance sanction case staffing is going to happen so you can attend.

(ii) Your case manager will also invite other people who are working with your family to your noncompliance sanction case staffing, like representatives from tribes, community or technical colleges, employment security, the children's administration or limited-English proficient (LEP) pathway providers.

(iii) You can invite anyone you want to come with you to your case staffing.

(c) At your noncompliance sanction case staffing, we will discuss with you:

(i) How you and your family benefit when you participate in WorkFirst activities;

(ii) How you can participate, and get out of sanction;

(iii) That if you continue to refuse to participate, without good cause, a sanction review panel may review your case, and decide to close your case after you have been in sanction status for six months in a row.

(iv) How you plan to care for and support your children if a sanction review panel closes your case. We will also discuss the safety of your family, as needed, using the guidelines under RCW 26.44.030; and

(v) How to reapply if a sanction review panel closes your case.

(d) If you do not come to your noncompliance sanction case staffing, we will make a decision based on the information we have. We will also attempt to visit you at your home so you have another chance to talk to us about the benefits of participation and how to end your sanction.

(e) If we decide you are refusing to participate without a good reason:

(i) We will send you information about resources you may need if a sanction review panel closes your case;

(ii) We will send information to a sanction review panel with a recommendation to close your case. We will only do this after a community services office administrator reviews your case to make sure the sanction is appropriate and we tried to reengage you in the program; and

(iii) The sanction review panel will review your case and make the final decision.

(10) What is a sanction review panel?

(a) The sanction review panel is a small group of people who are independent of your local community services office and do a thorough, objective review of your sanction.

(b) The sanction review panel makes the final decision about whether to close your case after receiving a recommendation from your case manager and reviewing your case to make sure the original sanction was appropriate and we made attempts to reengage you in the program.

(11) What happens when a sanction review panel decides to close my case?

When a sanction review panel decides to close your case, we will send you a letter to tell you:

(a) What you failed to do;

(b) When your case will be closed;

(c) How to request a fair hearing if you disagree with this decision;

(d) How to end your penalties and keep your case open (if you are able to participate for four weeks in a row before we close your case); and

(e) How your participation before your case is closed can be used to meet the participation requirement in subsection (12).

(12) What if I reapply for TANF or SFA after a sanction review panel closed my case?

(a) If a sanction review panel closes your case and you apply within six months, you must participate for four weeks in a row before you can receive cash. Once you have met your four week participation requirement, your cash benefits will start, going back to the date we had all the other information we needed to make an eligibility decision.

(b) You will not be required to participate for four weeks in a row before you receive cash if you apply after your case has been closed for six months or longer.

(13) What if my TANF or SFA is closed by a sanction review panel, reopened and I go into sanction again?

(a) When a sanction review panel closes your case, and we reopen your case, we will follow all steps in subsection (9) of this section (like the case review and the noncompliance case staffing) during your second month of sanction.

(b) The sanction review panel may close your case after you are in sanction status for three months in a row.

(c) If your case is closed, and you reapply, we will follow the rules in subsection (12) of this section to reopen your case.

WAC 388-310-2000 Individual development accounts (IDA). (1) What are individual development accounts?

Individual development accounts (IDAs) are special savings accounts for people eligible for or receiving TANF or SFA. The IDA's will help families save money for qualified purchases that will help them become financially self-sufficient. Your IDA account may only be used for the following qualified purchase: Acquisition cost for a first home, post-secondary education expenses, or business expenses for self-employment. You may only deposit income that you have earned through work into an IDA, the state matches those funds, helping you reach your goal more quickly.

(2) Who helps you set up an IDA?

The state office of trade and economic development (OTED) administers the IDA program. OTED contracts with local nonprofit agencies to enroll participants in the IDA program, monitor account activity and provide training and other support services while you are enrolled.

(3) Who can enroll in the IDA program?

To enroll in the IDA program, you must receive (or be eligible to receive) TANF or SFA assistance, or post TANF families with income below one hundred seventy-five percent of the federal poverty level. You may remain enrolled in the program for three years from the date of opening your IDA account.

(4) What happens once you enroll in the IDA program?

Once you've enrolled, your IDA contractor will help you develop an individual savings plan that identifies the steps you must take to earn the match. To earn the match you must:

(a) Attend financial skills classes to learn how to manage your personal finances.

(b) Open your savings account at a financial institution that is participating in the IDA program through an agreement with the IDA contractor.

(c) Deposit savings from earned income into your account on at least a quarterly basis.

(5) How are your IDA matching funds handled?

Your matching funds are held in a separate account until you are ready to make a qualified purchase. The IDA contractor provides you with monthly statements showing the amount of matching funds you have earned.

(6) How much money can you save with an IDA?

The state will give you up to two dollars for every dollar you save, up to a maximum match of four thousand dollars. So, if you save two thousand dollars (the maximum amount allowed), you could earn four thousand dollars in match, for a total of six thousand dollars.

(7) When can you withdraw money from your account?

When you have an IDA, you really have two types of accounts: your own savings account and a trust account holding your match funds.

(a) You can withdraw your own savings at any time - it's your money; but you will forfeit any match that was earned on those funds and could jeopardize your ability to stay in the program. You also need to report any withdrawals to your DSHS case manager if you are receiving any type of public assistance benefits.

(b) You cannot withdraw your match until you are ready to purchase your asset and have met all of the requirements in your individual savings plan. At that time, the IDA contractor will withdraw the matching funds and pay them directly to the person or organization that you are purchasing your asset from (such as the mortgage company, college, or bank).

(8) Will having an IDA affect your eligibility for other public assistance programs?

The funds held in your IDA cannot be taken into consideration when determining if you qualify for TANF, social security, food stamps, or medicaid. However, if you withdraw savings from your IDA other than to purchase your asset, or if you leave the IDA program early, your eligibility could be affected. See WAC 388-470-0045 for more details about how IDAs affect your eligibility for other types of public assistance benefits.

WAC 388-406-0010 How do I apply for benefits? (1)

You can apply for cash assistance, medical assistance, or Basic Food by giving us an application form in person, by mail, by fax, or by completing an online application.

(5) If you apply for benefits at a local office, we accept your application on the same day you come in. If you apply at an office that does not serve the area where you live, we send your application to the appropriate office by the next business day so that office receives your application on the same day we send it.

(6) We accept your application for benefits if it has at least:

(a) For cash and medical assistance combined, the name, address, and signatures of the responsible adult AU members or person applying for you. A minor child may sign if there is no adult in the AU. Signatures must be handwritten, electronic or digital as defined by the department, or a mark if witnessed by another person.

(b) For medical assistance only, the name, address, and signature of the applicant and applicant's spouse or other responsible adult person in the household, if any. WAC 388-406-0012 What is the date of my application and how does it affect my benefits? The date of your application affects when your benefits start. The date of your application is the date any field office receives your application unless:

(1) Your entire assistance unit gets or applies for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and applies for Basic Food at the local Social Security office. The date of application is the date Social Security gets your application; or

(2) You apply outside of normal business hours, including applications you submitted online, dropped off, or sent to us by fax. The date of your application is the next business day.

(3) You request Basic Food benefits when you have applied for benefits through another department program, but we have not made a decision on the application. We call this a "pending application." If you ask for Basic Food benefits when you have a pending application for another program:

(a) We use your application for the other program, but we use the date you requested food benefits as your date of application for Basic Food; and

(b) You must provide us the necessary information to determine if you are eligible for Basic Food, even if we did not need this information for the other program.

WAC 388-406-0015 Can I get Basic Food right away? (1) When the department gets your Basic Food application, we look at your circumstances at the time you applied to see if you can get benefits within five calendar days. This is called "expedited service."

(2) To get expedited service, you must provide proof of who you are and meet one of the following conditions:

(a) Have gross monthly income (before taxes), minus exclusions as defined in WAC 388-450-0015, of under one hundred fifty dollars and have available cash of one hundred dollars or less; or

(b) Have gross monthly income (before taxes), minus exclusions as defined in WAC 388-450-0015, plus available cash of less than your total shelter costs (rent or mortgage and the utility allowance you are eligible for under WAC 388-450-0195); or

(c) Be a destitute migrant or seasonal farm worker household, under WAC 388-406-0021, and your household's available cash is one hundred dollars or less.

(3) If you are eligible for expedited service and are not required to have an office interview under WAC 388-452-0005, you can have a telephone interview and still get benefits within five days.

(4) If you are applying for Basic Food, "day one" of your five-day expedited service period starts on the:

- (a) Day after the date you filed your application;
- (b) Date you are released from a public institution; or
- (c) Date of your interview if you:

(i) Waived your expedited interview and we decide you are eligible for expedited service during your rescheduled interview; or

(ii) Were screened as ineligible for expedited service and we later determine you are eligible for the service during your interview.

(5) If you get expedited service, we only require verification of your identity to provide your first benefit issuance within five days. Other required verifications may be postponed.

(6) All postponed verification must be provided for your ongoing eligibility to be determined and any additional benefits to issue. If you applied:

(a) On or before the 15th of the month, we issue one month's benefits and you have up to thirty days from the date of application to give us any postponed verification; or

(b) On or after the 16th of the month, we issue two months' benefits and you have until the end of the second month to give us any postponed verification.

(7) If we can determine ongoing eligibility at your interview and do not need to postpone any required verifications, we will assign you a regular certification period as described in WAC 388-416-0005.

(8) If you have received expedited service in the past, you can get this service again if you meet the requirements listed in subsection (2) above and you:

(a) Gave us all the information we needed to determine ongoing eligibility for your last expedited service benefit period; or

(b) Were certified under normal processing standards after your last expedited certification.

(9) If you reapply for benefits:

(a) Before your certification period ends, you are not eligible for expedited service;

(b) After your certification period ends, your five-day expedited service period is the same as a new application;

(c) While you receive transitional food assistance as described in chapter 388-489 WAC, you are not eligible for expedited service.

(10) If you are denied expedited service, you can ask for a department review of our decision. We review the decision within two working days.

(2009 Ed.)

WAC 388-406-0021 How does being a migrant or seasonal farmworker affect my application for Basic Food? The rules in this section apply to Basic Food assistance.

(1) A migrant farmworker is a person who travels away from home on a regular basis, usually with a group of other workers, to seek employment in an agriculturally related activity. A migrant assistance unit is an assistance unit that travels for this purpose.

(2) A migrant assistance unit (AU) is an AU that travels for this purpose.

(3) A seasonal farmworker is a person who:

(a) Does agricultural work on a farm for edible crops; and

(b) Is not required to be away from their permanent place of residence overnight in order to perform this work.

(4) Agricultural work is field work in either planting, cultivating, or harvesting a crop.

(5) We consider your AU a seasonal farmworker AU if it receives its only countable income from:

(a) Seasonal farmwork;

(b) Unemployment compensation between seasons; or

(c) Interest your AU earns on a checking or savings account.

(6) Your migrant or seasonal farmworker is destitute if:

(a) Your AU received your income for the month of application before the date you applied for benefits and the source of this income no longer provides income; or

(b) Your AU's income for the month of application is from a new source and your AU will not receive more than twenty-five dollars during the ten calendar days from the date you applied for benefits.

(7) If someone in your AU changes jobs but still works for the same employer, we consider them to be receiving income from the same source.

(8) If your AU is a migrant or seasonal farmworker AU, and your certification period ends, we do not prorate your benefits for the first month of your new certification period unless your certification period ended more than a month before you turned in your application to recertify your benefits.

(9) If your migrant or seasonal farmworker AU is destitute:

(a) We may exclude some of your income for the month you applied for benefits under WAC 488-450-0230; and

(b) We budget your AU's income for the month you applied for benefits using the anticipating monthly method under WAC 388-450-0215.

WAC 388-406-0030 Do I need to submit other information after I apply for benefits? (1) When we get your application for benefits, we decide if other information is needed to determine your eligibility for benefits. If so, we give you:

(a) A written request for what is needed and for proof if required under WAC 388-490-0005; and

(b) At least ten calendar days to give us the information.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 845]

(2) If you ask orally or in writing for additional time to give us requested information, then we give you at least ten additional calendar days.

(3) If you give us some of the information we requested, we give you:

(a) A written request for what is needed to determine eligibility; and

(b) At least ten additional calendar days to give us the information.

(4) If you are eligible for necessary supplemental accommodation (NSA) services under chapter 388-472 WAC, we help you comply with the requirements of this section.

We must respond promptly to your application and to any information you give us. We cannot delay processing your request by using the time limits stated in this section as a waiting period for determining eligibility.

(2) Unless your application is delayed under WAC 388-406-0040, we process your application for benefits within thirty calendar days, except:

WAC 388-406-0040 What happens if the processing of my application is delayed? (1) We process your application for benefits as soon as possible. We do not intentionally delay processing your application for benefits for any reason. If we have enough information to decide eligibility for:

(a) Basic Food, we promptly process your request for benefits even if we need more information to determine eligibility for cash or medical;

(b) Medical assistance, we promptly process your request for medical even if we need more information to determine eligibility for cash or Basic Food.

(2) If you have completed your required interview under WAC 388-452-0005 and we have enough information to determine eligibility, then we promptly process your application even if it is after thirty days from the date of your application.

(3) If additional information is needed to determine eligibility, we give you:

(a) A written request for the additional information; and

(b) An additional thirty days to provide the information.

(4) If you fail to keep or reschedule your interview in the first thirty calendar days after filing your application, your application will be denied on the thirtieth day, or the first business day after the thirtieth day. If you are still interested in Basic Food benefits, you will need to reapply. Benefits will be based on your second application date.

(5) If we have not processed your application for Basic Food by the sixtieth day and:

(a) You are responsible for the delay, we deny your request for benefits.

(b) If we are responsible for the delay, we:

(i) Promptly process your request if we have the information needed to determine eligibility; or

(ii) Deny your request if we don't have enough information to determine eligibility. If we deny your request we notify you of your right to file a new application and that you may be entitled to benefits lost.

(6) If you reapply by the sixtieth day of your first application, met your interview requirements under WAC 388-452-0005, and are eligible, we give you benefits lost from:

(a) The date of your first application if we caused the delay in the first thirty days; or

(b) The month following the month of your first application if you caused the delay in the first thirty days.

WAC 388-406-0045 Is there a good reason my application for cash or medical assistance has not been processed? If your application for cash or medical assistance is not processed within the time limits under WAC 388-406-0035, the department must decide if there is a good reason for the delay. This good reason is also called "good cause."

(1) We do not have a good reason for not processing your application for TANF or SFA within thirty days if:

(a) We did not give or send you a notice of what information we needed to determine your eligibility within twenty days from the date of your application;

(b) We did not give or send you a notice that we needed additional information or action within five calendar days of the date we learned that more information was needed to determine eligibility;

(c) We did not process your application within five calendar days from getting the information needed to decide eligibility; and

(d) We decide good cause exists but do not document our decision in the case record on or before the time limit for processing the application ends.

(2) We do have a good reason for not processing your application timely if:

(a) You do not give us the information or take an action needed for us to determine eligibility;

(b) We have an emergency beyond our control; or

(c) There is no other available verification for us to determine eligibility and the eligibility decision depends on information that has been delayed such as:

(i) Medical documentation;

(ii) For cash assistance, extensive property appraisals; or

(iii) Out-of-state documents or correspondence.

(3) For medical assistance, good cause exists only when the department otherwise acted promptly at all stages of the application process.

(a) We approve or deny benefits; and

(b) We give or send you a letter telling you if you are eligible to get benefits.

(2) Any letters we send you must meet the requirements under chapter 388-458 WAC.

(3) We send you a letter of withdrawal under WAC 388-458-0006 if you voluntarily withdraw an application verbally, in sign language, or in writing.

WAC 388-406-0055 When do my benefits start? The date we approve your application affects the amount of benefits you get. If you are eligible for:

(1) Cash assistance, your benefits start:

(a) The date we have enough information to make an eligibility decision; or

(b) No later than the thirtieth day for TANF, SFA, or RCA; or

(c) No later than the forty-fifth day for general assistance (GAU).

(2) Basic Food, your benefits start from the date you applied unless:

(2009 Ed.)

(a) You are recertified for Basic Food. If you are recertified for Basic Food, we determine the date your benefits start under WAC 388-434-0010;

(b) You applied for Basic Food while living in an institution. If you apply for Basic Food while living in an institution, the date you are released from the institution determines your start date as follows. If you are expected to leave the institution:

(i) Within thirty days of the date we receive your application, your benefits start on the date you leave the institution; or

(ii) More than thirty days from the date we receive your application, we deny your application for Basic Food. You may apply for Basic Food again when your date of release from the institution is closer.

(c) We were unable to process your application within thirty days because of a delay on your part. If you caused the delay, but submit required verification by the end of the second thirty-day period, we approve your benefits starting the first day of the month following the month you applied for benefits. We start your benefits from this date even if we denied your application for Basic Food.

(d) We initially denied your application for Basic Food and your assistance unit (AU) becomes categorically eligible (CE) within sixty days from the date your applied. If your AU becoming CE under WAC 388-414-0001 makes you eligible for Basic Food, the date we approve Basic Food is the date your AU became CE.

(e) You are approved for transitional food assistance under chapter 388-489 WAC. We determine the date transitional benefits start as described under WAC 388-489-0015.

(f) You receive transitional food assistance with people you used to live with, and are now approved to receive Basic Food in a different assistance unit:

(i) We must give the other assistance unit ten days notice as described under WAC 388-458-0025 before we remove you from the transitional food assistance benefits.

(ii) Your Basic Food benefits start the first of the month after we remove you from the transitional benefits. For example, if we remove you from transitional benefits on November 30th, you are eligible for Basic Food on December 1st.

(3) Medical assistance, the date your benefits start is stated in chapter 388-416 WAC.

WAC 388-406-0060 What happens when my application is denied? (1) We (the department) deny your application for cash, medical, or Basic Food benefits if:

(a) You do not show for your interview appointment for cash or Basic Food if required under WAC 388-452-0005, you have not rescheduled, and your application is over thirty days old; or

(b) We do not have the information we need to determine your eligibility within ten days of requesting the information from your assistance unit (AU) under WAC 388-414-0001, and you did not ask for additional time to give us the information; or

(c) Your entire AU does not meet certain eligibility criteria to get benefits; or

(d) For Basic Food, your application has not been processed by the sixtieth day because of a delay on your part.

(2) If we deny your application, you do not get benefits unless:

(a) You mistakenly apply for benefits you already get; or

(b) We reconsider your eligibility under WAC 388-406-0065 and you are eligible to get benefits.

(3) We can reconsider if you are eligible for benefits under the requirements of WAC 388-406-0065 even after your application is denied.

(4) We give or send a letter to you explaining why your application was denied as required under WAC 388-458-0011.

(5) If you disagree with our decision about your application, you can ask for a fair hearing. If we deny your application because we do not have enough information to decide that you are eligible, the hearing issue is whether you are eligible using:

(a) Information we already have; and

(b) Any more information you can give us.

WAC 388-406-0065 Can I still get benefits even after my application is denied? (1) If we (the department) deny your application for benefits, we can redetermine your eligibility for benefits without a new application if:

(a) For cash or medical assistance, you give us the information we need within thirty days from the date we denied your application;

(b) You stop participating as required to reopen cash assistance under WAC 388-310-1600(12) due to one of the good reasons described in WAC 388-310-1600(3) or because you get an excused absence, as described in WAC 388-310-0500(5);

(c) For Basic Food, you give us the information we need within sixty days of the date you applied for benefits.

(2) For medical assistance, if the thirty days to reconsider your application under subsection (1) of this section has ended you can still get benefits without a new application if:

(a) You request a fair hearing timely; and

(b) You give us the information needed to determine eligibility and you are eligible.

(3) If you are eligible for cash or Basic Food, we decide the date your benefits start according to WAC 388-406-0055. WAC 388-408-0005 What is a cash assistance unit?

(1) For all sections of this chapter:

(a) "We" means the department of social and health services.

(b) "You" means a person that is applying for or getting benefits from the department.

(c) "Assistance unit" or "AU" is the group of people who live together and whose income or resources we count to decide your eligibility for benefits and the amount of benefits you get.

(2) For GA-U, we decide who is in the AU under WAC 388-408-0010.

(3) For TANF or SFA, we decide who is in the AU by taking the following steps:

(a) We start with who must be in the AU under WAC 388-408-0015;

(b) We add those you choose to have in the AU under WAC 388-408-0025; and

(c) We remove those who are not allowed in the AU under WAC 388-408-0020.

WAC 388-408-0010 Who is in my assistance unit for general assistance? (1) If you are an adult that is incapacitated as defined in WAC 388-448-0001, you can be in a GA-U AU;

(2) If you are married and live with your spouse, we decide who to include in the AU based on who is incapacitated:

(a) If you are both incapacitated as defined in WAC 388-448-0001, we include both of you in the same AU.

(b) If only one spouse is incapacitated, we include only the incapacitated spouse in the AU. We count some of the income of the spouse that is not in the AU as income to the AU under WAC 388-450-0135.

WAC 388-408-0015 Who must be in my assistance unit for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF) or state family assistance (SFA)? If you live with any of the following people, we must include them in your TANF, SFA, or combination TANF/SFA AU:

(1) The child you are applying for and:

(a) The child's full, half or adoptive sibling(s);

(b) The child's natural or adoptive parent(s) or stepparent(s); and

(c) If you are a pregnant minor or minor who is a parent and you live with your parent(s), we include your parent(s) if they:

(i) Need assistance; and

(ii) Provide the primary care for you, your child, or your siblings. We count full, half, or adoptive siblings as your sibling.

(2) If you are pregnant and you do not have a dependent child living with you, we include only you in the AU.

WAC 388-408-0020 When am I not allowed to be in a TANF or SFA assistance unit? Some people cannot be in an AU for TANF or SFA. This section describes who cannot be in your TANF or SFA AU and how this will affect your benefits.

(1) We do not include the following people in your TANF or SFA AU:

(a) An adopted child if:

(i) The child gets federal, state, or local adoption assistance; and

(ii) Including the child in the AU and counting the adoption assistance income would reduce your AU's benefits.

(b) A minor parent or child who has been placed in Title IV-E, state, or locally-funded foster care unless the placement is a temporary absence under WAC 388-454-0015;

(c) An adult parent in a two-parent household when:

(i) The other parent is unmarried and under the age of eighteen; and

(ii) We decide that your living arrangement is not appropriate under WAC 388-486-0005.

(d) A court-ordered guardian, court-ordered custodian, or other adult acting in loco parentis (in the place of a parent) if they are not a relative of one of the children in the AU as defined under WAC 388-454-0010; or

(2009 Ed.)

(e) Someone who gets SSI benefits.

(2) If someone that lives with you cannot be in the AU:

(a) We do not count them as a member of the AU when we determine the AU's payment standard; and

(b) We do not count their income unless they are financially responsible for a member of the AU under WAC 388-450-0095 through 388-450-0130.

WAC 388-408-0025 When can I choose who is in my TANF or SFA assistance unit? If you are a child's parent or other caretaker relative (a relative who cares for the child's basic needs as defined in WAC 388-454-0010), use the table below to find who you may choose to include or exclude in your TANF or SFA AU. If you include a child in your AU, it could cause you to get more or less benefits. If someone is not allowed in the AU under WAC 388-408-0020, you cannot choose to include them in your TANF or SFA AU.

(1) If you are the parent of the child, you may choose whether or not to include:	(a) Yourself in the AU if the child gets SSI; and (b) The child in the AU if: (i) You already receive TANF or SFA; (ii) You are not married to the child's other parent; and (iii) The child lives with both parents.
(2) If you are not the child's parent, and do not live with the parents of the child, you may choose to:	(a) Include yourself if you are a relative defined in WAC 388-454-0010; (b) Include someone else that cares for the child and is a relative defined in WAC 388-454-0010; or (c) Receive a grant for the child only.
(3) If you are the child's parent or caretaker relative, you may choose whether or not to include any of the following children:	(a) Brothers or sisters of a child who gets SSI; (b) Stepsisters and stepbrothers of a child; and (c) Other children that are not the child's brother or sister.

WAC 388-408-0030 What children must be in the same TANF or SFA assistance unit? A child who applies for or gets TANF or SFA must be in the same AU as other children who get TANF or SFA and live with the same:

(1) Caretaker relative;

(2) Court-ordered guardian or court-ordered custodian; or

(3) Adult acting in loco parentis.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.057, 2000 2nd sp.s. c 1. 01-03-121, § 388-408-0030, filed 1/22/01, effective 3/1/01. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-408-0030, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98.]

- (a) Regularly buy food or prepare meals with you; or
- (b) You provide meals for them and they pay less than a reasonable amount for meals.

(2) If the following people live with you, they must be in your AU even if you do not usually buy or prepare food together:

- (a) Your spouse;
- (b) Your parents if you are under age twenty-two (even if you are married);
- (c) Your children under age twenty-two;
- (d) The parent of a child who must be in your AU;
- (e) A child under age eighteen who doesn't live with their parent unless the child:
 - (i) Is emancipated;
 - (ii) Gets a TANF grant in their own name; or
 - (iii) Is not financially dependent on an adult in the AU because they get and have control of income of at least the TANF payment standard under WAC 388-478-0020(2) before taxes or other withholdings.

(3) If any of the people in subsections (1) or (2) already receive transitional food assistance under chapter 388-489 WAC, you can only receive benefits if they choose to reapply for Basic Food as described in WAC 388-489-0020.

(4) If you live in an institution where you may be eligible for Basic Food under WAC 388-408-0040, we decide who is in your AU as follows:

(a) If the facility is acting as your authorized representative under WAC 388-460-0015, we include you and anyone who must be in your AU under subsection (2) of this rule; or

(b) If you apply for benefits on your own, we include you, anyone who must be in your AU under subsection (2) of this rule, and other residents you choose to apply with.

(5) Anyone who must be in your AU under subsection (1) or (2) is an ineligible AU member if they:

(6) If your AU has an ineligible member:

(a) We count the ineligible member's income as part of your AU's income under WAC 388-450-0140;

(b) We count all the ineligible members resources to your AU; and

(c) We do not use the ineligible member to determine your AU's size for the maximum income amount or allotment under WAC 388-478-0060.

(7) If the following people live in the same home as you, you can choose if we include them in your AU:

(a) A permanently disabled person who is age sixty or over and cannot make their own meals if the total income of everyone else in the home (not counting the elderly and disabled person's spouse) is not more than the one hundred sixty-five percent standard under WAC 388-478-0060;

(b) A boarder. If you do not include a boarder in your AU, the boarder cannot get Basic Food benefits in a separate AU;

(c) A person placed in your home for foster care. If you do not include this person in your AU, they cannot get Basic Food benefits in a separate AU;

(d) Roomers; or

(e) Live-in attendants even if they buy or prepare food with you.

(8) If someone in your AU moves out of your home for at least a full issuance month, they are not eligible for benefits as a part of your AU, unless you receive transitional food assistance.

(9) For transitional food assistance, your TFA AU includes the people who were in your Basic Food AU for the last month you received:

(a) Temporary assistance for needy families;

(b) State family assistance; or

(c) Tribal TANF benefits.

(10) If someone received Basic Food or food stamps in another AU or another state, they cannot receive benefits in your AU for the same period of time with one exception. If you already received Basic Food, food stamp, or transitional food assistance benefits:

(a) In another state, you are not eligible for Basic Food for the period of time covered by the benefits you received from the other state; or

(b) In another AU, you are not eligible for Basic Food in a different AU for the same period of time;

(c) In another AU, but you left the AU to live in a shelter for battered women and children under WAC 388-408-0045, you may be eligible to receive benefits in a separate AU.

WAC 388-408-0055 Medical assistance units. (1) One or more medical assistance units (MAU) is established for individuals living in the same household based on the type of medical program, each individual's relationship to other family members, and the individual's financial responsibility for the other family members.

(2) Financial responsibility applies only to spouses and to parents, as follows:

(a) Married persons, living together are financially responsible for each other; and

(b) Persons who meet the definition of a natural, adoptive, or step-parent described in WAC 388-454-0010 are financially responsible for their unmarried, minor children living in the same household.

(3) Minor children are not financially responsible for their parents or for their siblings.

(4) When determining eligibility for family, pregnancy, or children's medical programs, follow the income rules as described in WAC 388-450-0106 (1) through (7). Only one MAU is required when all family members are eligible for categorically needy (CN) medical coverage.

(5) If a family is not eligible as one MAU for a CN program, separate MAUs are required for family members living in the same household in the following situations:

(a) A pregnant minor, regardless of whether she lives with her parent(s);

(b) A child with earned or unearned income;

(c) A child with resources which make another family member ineligible for medical assistance;

(d) A child of unmarried parents when both parents reside with the child;

(e) Each unmarried parent of a child in common, plus any of their children who are not in separate MAUs;

(f) A caretaker relative that is not financially responsible for the support of the child;

(6) For a family with multiple MAUs established based on the criteria described in subsection (5) of this section, a parent's:

(a) Income up to one hundred percent of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) is allocated to the parent and other members of the parent's MAU. The excess is allocated to their children in separate MAUs.

(b) Resources are allocated equally to the parent and all persons in the parent's household for whom the parent is financially responsible. This includes family members in separate MAUs.

(7) The exceptions to the income allocations described in subsection (6) of this section are as follows:

(a) Only the parent's income actually contributed to a pregnant minor is considered income to the minor.

(b) A parent's financial responsibility is limited when the minor child is receiving inpatient chemical dependency or mental health treatment. Only the income a parent chooses to contribute to the child is considered available when:

(i) The treatment is expected to last ninety days or more;

(ii) The child is in court-ordered, out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW; or

(iii) The department determines the parents are not exercising responsibility for the care and control of the child.

(8) When determining eligibility for an SSI-related medical program, a separate MAU is required for:

(a) SSI recipients;

(b) An SSI-related person who has not been found eligible for family medical under this chapter; or

(c) The purpose of applying medical income standards for an:

(i) SSI-related applicant whose spouse is not related to SSI or is not applying for SSI-related medical; and

(ii) Ineligible spouse of an SSI recipient.

(9) For a person in a separate MAU, based on the criteria described in subsection (8) of this section, the income and resource allocations described in subsection (6) of this section are not used. The SSI-related individual's eligibility is determined using the allocations or deeming rules in chapter 388-475 WAC.

(10) Countable income for medical programs:

(a) For SSI individuals is described in chapter 388-475 WAC; or

(b) For family medical, pregnancy medical, and children's medical is described in WAC 388-450-0210.

(2) There are two types of cash/medical overpayments:

(a) Intentional overpayments, presumed to exist if you willfully or knowingly:

(i) Fail to report a change you must tell us about under WAC 388-418-0005 within the time frames under WAC 388-418-0007; or

(ii) Misstate or fail to reveal a fact affecting eligibility as specified in WAC 388-446-0001.

(3) If you request a fair hearing and the fair hearing decision is in favor of the department, then:

(a) Some or all of the continued assistance you get before the fair hearing decision must be paid back to the department (see WAC 388-418-0020); and

(b) The amount of assistance you must pay back will be limited to sixty days of assistance, starting with the day after the department receives your hearing request.

(4) If you receive child support payments directly from the noncustodial parent, you must turn these payments over to the division of child support (DCS). These payments are not cash assistance overpayments.

WAC 388-410-0005 Cash and medical assistance overpayment amount and liability. (1) The amount of overpayment for cash and medical assistance households is determined by the amount of assistance received to which the assistance unit was not entitled.

(2) Cash and medical assistance overpayments are recovered from:

(a) Any individual member of an overpaid assistance unit, whether or not the member is currently a recipient; or

(b) Any assistance unit of which a member of the overpaid assistance unit has subsequently become a member.

(a) A nonneedy caretaker relative or guardian who received no financial benefit from the payment of assistance; or

(b) A person not receiving assistance when an unintentional overpayment of less than thirty-five dollars is discovered and/or computed.

(4) Overpayments resulting from incorrectly received cash assistance are reduced by:

(a) Cash assistance a household would have been eligible to receive from any other category of cash assistance during the period of ineligibility; and

(b) Child support the department collected for the month of overpayment in excess of the amount specified in (a) of this subsection; or

(c) Any existing grant underpayments.

(5) A cash assistance overpayment cannot be reduced by a medical or food assistance underpayment.

WAC 388-410-0010 Repayment of grant overpayment occurring prior to April 3, 1982, and resulting department error. (1) An assistance unit will not be held liable for an overpayment occurring prior to April 3, 1982, which was caused by departmental error, until the department determines recovery would not be inequitable. Recovery is considered inequitable if:

(a) The department informed the recipient or the recipient's authorized representative that the recipient was entitled to part or all of the financial assistance or services overpaid; or

(b) The department acted in a manner which would reasonably lead the recipient to believe he/she was eligible to receive the assistance or services overpaid; and

(c) The recipient retained or accepted the assistance with the understanding that he/she had the right to rely upon the information received from the department; and

(d) The recipient would suffer an injury if the department were allowed to refuse to recognize the department's admission, statement, act or omission; and

(e) Injury as used in this section includes liability for repayment of a debt due the state.

(2) If the department determines recovery would be inequitable:

(a) The recipient is not liable for repayment;

(b) The overpayment is not a debt due the state; and

(c) The recipient is so informed.

(3) If recovery would not be inequitable, the recipient will be notified:

(a) Of the specific reason why recovery is not inequitable;

(b) That the recipient is liable for repayment of the debt;

(c) Whether the overpayment is subject to a mandatory deduction from the current grant; and

(d) Of the right to contest the decision.

(2) All members of an overpaid assistance unit are responsible for repayment of an overpayment. Repayment may be from:

(a) Resources and/or income; or

(b) Deductions from subsequent grants; and

(c) An assistance unit member's estate.

(3) The mandatory grant deduction of an intentional overpayment is ten percent of the monthly grant payment standard.

(4) A monthly grant deduction of up to one hundred percent of the grant can be established when:

- (a) The overpayment is intentional;
 - (b) The client has liquid resources available but refuses to use these resources in full or partial satisfaction of the overpayment; and
 - (c) The amount of income and resources remaining available to the assistance unit is not less than ninety percent of the grant payment standard.
- (5) An unintentional overpayment is recovered by grant deduction of five percent of the monthly grant payment standard unless the client voluntarily requests a larger deduction in writing.
- (6) A monthly deduction for overpayment recovery can be established against the clothing and incidental grant of a recipient in a nursing facility, intermediate care facility, or hospital. A monthly deduction cannot be established against the vendor payment to the nursing facility, intermediate care facility or hospital.
- (7) When the monthly grant deduction is equal to or more than the current grant for which the client is eligible had no overpayment occurred, the grant is suspended.
- (8) No more than the total amount of an overpayment may be collected by mandatory deduction from a client's public assistance grant. The client will receive compensation for an underpayment resulting from any erroneous monthly deduction.

WAC 388-410-0020 What happens if I receive more Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits than I am supposed to receive? (1) If you receive more Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits than you were supposed to receive, your assistance unit (AU) has an overpayment. There are three types of overpayments:

- (a) Administrative error overpayment: When you received too many benefits because the department made a mistake.
 - (b) Inadvertent household error overpayment: When you received too many benefits because you made a mistake or didn't understand what you were supposed to do.
 - (c) Intentional program violation (IPV) overpayment: When you received too many benefits because you broke a food stamp rule on purpose. If you have an IPV, you could be disqualified from receiving Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits under chapter 388-446 WAC.
- (2) We must discover an overpayment within certain time frames for us to establish and collect an overpayment. If we do not discover that you received too many benefits within the time frame described below based on the type of overpayment, we will not set up an overpayment:

(a) Administrative error overpayment:	(b) Inadvertent household error overpayment:	(c) Intentional program violation overpayment:
We must discover the overpayment within twelve months of the date you were overpaid.	We must discover the overpayment within twenty-four months of the date you were overpaid.	We must discover the overpayment within seventy-two months of the date you were overpaid.

WAC 388-410-0025 Am I responsible for an overpayment in my assistance unit? If your assistance unit (AU) received more Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits than it was supposed to receive, your AU has an overpayment. If you have an overpayment, we determine the amount you were overpaid and set up a claim to recover this overpayment.

- (1) We set up an overpayment for the full amount your AU was overpaid for every adult AU member at the time your AU was overpaid.
- (2) Each adult member is responsible for the whole overpayment until we recover the entire amount of the overpayment. We do not collect more than the amount your AU was overpaid.
- (3) If we determine you are responsible for an overpayment, you are responsible for the overpayment even if you are now in a different AU than you were when you had the overpayment.

WAC 388-410-0030 How does the department calculate and set up my Basic Food or WASHCAP overpayment? (1) We calculate the amount of your Basic Food or WASHCAP overpayment by counting the difference between:

- (a) The benefits your assistance unit (AU) received; and
 - (b) The benefits your AU should have received.
- (2) To calculate the benefits your AU should have received, we determine what we would have authorized if we:
- (a) Had correct and complete information; and
 - (b) Followed all the necessary procedures to determine your AU's eligibility and benefits.
- (3) If you did not report your earned income as required under WAC 388-418-0005 and 388-418-0007, you do not receive the earned income deduction under WAC 388-450-0185 when we calculate your overpayment amount.
- (4) If we paid you too few Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits for a period of time, we will use the amount we underpaid your AU to reduce your overpayment if:
- (a) We have not already issued you benefits to replace what you were underpaid; and
 - (b) We have not used this amount to reduce another overpayment.

(5) We must set up an inadvertent household error or administrative error overpayment if:

(a) We discovered the overpayment through the federal quality control process;

(b) You currently receive Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits; or

(c) The overpayment is over one hundred twenty-five dollars and you do not currently receive Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits.

(6) If you have an inadvertent household error that we referred for prosecution or an administrative disqualification hearing, we will not set up and start collecting the overpayment if doing so could negatively impact this process.

(7) We set up an intentional program violation overpayment based on the results of an administrative disqualification hearing (chapter 388-02 WAC) unless:

(a) Your AU has repaid the overpayment; or

(b) We have referred your inadvertent household error for prosecution and collecting the overpayment could negatively impact this process.

WAC 388-410-0033 How and when does the department collect a Basic Food or WASHCAP overpayment?

(1) When we set up an overpayment because you received more Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits than you were supposed to receive, we start to collect the benefits you were overpaid. This includes when we:

(a) Modify an established overpayment to an amount we would not have to set up under WAC 388-410-0030(5); or

(b) Set up an overpayment that we do not have to set up under WAC 388-410-0030(5).

(2) You can repay your overpayment by:

(a) Paying the entire amount at once;

(b) Having us take the amount of your overpayment out of your EBT account;

(c) Making regular payments under a scheduled repayment agreement as described in subsection (4) of this section; or

(d) Having your current Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits reduced.

(3) If you have an inactive EBT account and we cancelled Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits in the account under WAC 388-412-0025, we use the cancelled benefits to reduce the amount of your overpayment.

(4) If your AU currently receives Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits, you can repay your overpayment by making monthly payments. The payments must be more than we would recover through us reducing your benefits. Your AU or the department can request a change to the agreement if necessary.

(2009 Ed.)

(5) If you are responsible for repaying an administrative or inadvertent household error overpayment, we automatically reduce your monthly benefits unless you:

(a) Pay the overpayment all at once;

(b) Set up a repayment agreement with us; or

(c) Request a hearing and continued benefits within ninety days of the date you received your collection action notice.

(6) If you are responsible for an intentional program violation (IPV) overpayment, you must tell us how you want to repay this overpayment within ten days of the date you receive your collection action notice. If you do not do this, we will reduce your current monthly benefits.

(7) If you receive ongoing Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits, we can reduce your monthly benefits to repay the overpayment. We do not reduce your first Basic Food or WASHCAP allotment when we first approve your application for benefits.

(a) If you have an administrative or inadvertent household error overpayment, we reduce your benefits by the greater of:

(i) Ten percent of your monthly benefits; or

(ii) Ten dollars per month.

(b) If you have an IPV overpayment, we reduce your benefits by the greater of:

(i) Twenty percent of your monthly benefits; or

(ii) Twenty dollars per month.

(8) If you do not meet the terms of a repayment agreement with the department, we automatically reduce your current benefits unless you:

(a) Pay all overdue payments to bring your repayment agreement current; or

(b) Ask us to consider a change to the repayment schedule.

(9) If your overpayment claim is past due for one hundred eighty or more days, we refer your overpayment for federal collection. A federal collection includes reducing your income tax refund, social security benefits, or federal wages. We do not count your overpayment as past due if you:

(a) Repay the entire overpayment by the due date;

(b) Have your monthly benefits reduced to repay the overpayment; or

(c) Meet the requirements of your scheduled repayment agreement.

(10) If you no longer receive Basic Food or WASHCAP benefits, we can garnish your wages, file a lien against your personal or real property, attach other benefits, or otherwise access your property to collect the overpayment amount.

(11) We suspend collection on an overpayment if:

(a) We cannot find the responsible AU members; or

(b) The cost of collecting the overpayment would likely be more than the amount we would recover.

(12) We can negotiate the amount of an overpayment if the amount you offer is close to what we could expect to receive from you before we can no longer legally collect the overpayment from you.

(13) We write off unpaid overpayments and release any related liens when:

(a) We can not possibly collect any more funds;

(b) We agreed to accept a partial payment that left an unpaid balance after this payment; or

[Title 388 WAC—p. 855]

(c) There is an unpaid balance left after an overpayment case has been suspended for three consecutive years unless a collection may be possible through the Treasury Offset Program.

(14) If your AU has an overpayment from another state, we can collect this overpayment if the state where you were overpaid does not plan to collect it and they give us the following:

(a) A copy of the overpayment calculation and overpayment notice made for the client; and

(b) Proof that you received the overpayment notice.

WAC 388-410-0035 Alien and alien sponsor cash, and food assistance overpayments. (1) An alien and their sponsor are jointly and individually liable for any overpayment of cash or food assistance made to the alien during the three years after the alien's entry into the United States.

(2) When an overpayment to a sponsored alien results from incorrect information provided by the alien's sponsor, both the alien and the sponsor are liable for repayment.

(3) When the alien's sponsor had good cause for reporting the incorrect information, the sponsored alien is solely liable for an inadvertent household error overpayment.

(4) When good cause does not exist, collection action is initiated against:

(a) The alien's sponsor; or

(b) The sponsored alien's assistance unit; or

(c) Of the two, the one considered most likely to repay first.

(5) Collection action is initiated against an alien's sponsor for an inadvertent household error when:

(a) A department representative contacts the sponsor in person or by phone; and

(b) The sponsor is informed in writing there will be no responsibility for repayment if good cause for reporting incorrect information causing the overpayment can be demonstrated.

(6) Collection action is initiated against the sponsored alien's assistance unit for an inadvertent household error when:

(a) Collection action is taken first against the alien's sponsor; and

(b) The alien's sponsor does not respond within thirty days; or

(c) The sponsored alien provides incorrect information concerning the sponsor or sponsor's spouse through misunderstanding or unintended error.

WAC 388-410-0040 Cash and food assistance underpayments. (1) All cash assistance underpayments not credited against an overpayment are repaid upon discovery to any current or former recipient.

(2) All food assistance benefits underpaid are restored when:

(a) An underpayment was caused by department error;

(b) An administrative disqualification for intentional program violation was reversed;

(c) A rule or instruction specifies restoration of unpaid benefits; or

(d) A court action finds benefits were wrongfully withheld.

(3) A client is eligible for restoration of underpaid benefits for any of the twelve months prior to:

(a) The month the client requests restoration;

(b) The month the department discovers an underpayment;

(c) The date the household makes a fair hearing request when a request for restoration of benefits was not received; or

(d) The date court action was started when the client has taken no other action to obtain restoration of benefits.

(4) The client may request a fair hearing if they disagree with the amount of benefits the department determines were underpaid.

(5) If household composition changes prior to the department's restoration of an underpayment, the underpayment is paid to:

(a) First, the household containing a majority of the persons who were household members at the time of the underpayment; or

(b) Second, the household containing the head of the household at the time of the underpayment.

WAC 388-412-0015 General information about your Basic Food allotments. (1) Your monthly Basic Food benefits are called an allotment. An allotment is the total dollar value of benefits your eligible assistance unit (AU) gets for a calendar month.

(2) You cannot receive the same type of benefit in:

(a) Two states in the same month;

(b) Two AUs in the same month, unless;

(c) You left the AU to live in a shelter for battered women and children. See WAC 388-408-0045.

(3) If your AU does not have any countable net income, you get the maximum allotment for the number of eligible people in your AU. See WAC 388-478-0060 for the maximum allotments.

(4) If your AU has countable net income under WAC 388-450-0162, we calculate, your allotment by:

(a) Multiplying your AU's countable net monthly income by thirty percent;

(b) Rounding this amount up to the next whole dollar; and

(c) Subtracting the result from the maximum allotment.

(5) If we determine you are eligible for Basic Food, your first month's benefits are from the date you applied for benefits through the end of the month of your application. If there was a delay in processing your application, we determine when your benefits start under WAC 388-406-0055. This is called proration and is based on a thirty-day month.

(2009 Ed.)

(6) If you apply for benefits on or after the sixteenth of the month, and we determine you are eligible for Basic Food, we issue both your first and second months benefits in one allotment if you are eligible for both months.

(7) If your prorated benefits for the first month are under ten dollars, you will not receive an allotment for the first month.

(8) If your AU has one or two members, your monthly allotment will be at least fourteen dollars unless:

(a) It is the first month of your certification period;

(b) Your AU is eligible for only a partial month; and

(c) We reduced your first month's allotment below fourteen dollars based on the date you became eligible for Basic Food under WAC 388-406-0055.

Chapter 388-414 WAC
CATEGORICAL ELIGIBILITY FOR FOOD ASSISTANCE

WAC
388-414-0001 Do I have to meet all eligibility requirements for Basic Food?

WAC 388-414-0001 Do I have to meet all eligibility requirements for Basic Food? (1) What is "categorically eligible" (CE)?

(a) Being categorically eligible (CE) means that you have already met requirements for the program. If you are CE, you do not have to meet every program requirement to be eligible for Basic Food.

(b) If your assistance unit (AU) is CE, you automatically meet the following requirements for Basic Food:

- (i) Residency under WAC 388-468-0005;
- (ii) Countable resource limit under WAC 388-470-0005;
- (iii) Maximum gross monthly income under WAC 388-478-0060; and
- (iv) Maximum net monthly income under WAC 388-478-0060.

(c) If your AU is CE and the information is available from another program, you do not need to provide the following for Basic Food:

- (i) Social Security number information under WAC 388-476-0005; and
- (ii) Sponsored alien information under WAC 388-450-0155.

(d) Being CE does not mean that your AU is guaranteed to get Basic Food benefits. If your AU is CE:

- (i) You must still meet the other Basic Food program requirements under WAC 388-400-0040; and
- (ii) If you meet the other program requirements, we must budget your AU's income to determine the amount of benefits your AU will receive.

(2) Who is categorically eligible for Basic Food?

Your Basic Food AU is CE when your AU's income that we do not exclude under WAC 388-450-0015 is at or under two hundred percent of the federal poverty guidelines we use for department programs.

(a) The federal government publishes the federal poverty guidelines on the health and human services website. These are currently posted at <http://aspe.hhs.gov/pov-erty/index.shtml>.

(b) The department uses the monthly value of the income guidelines for the current year beginning the first of April every year.

(c) If your income is not over two hundred percent of the federal poverty guidelines, we provide your AU information about the department programs and resources in the community.

(3) Who is not CE even if my AU meets the above criteria?

(a) Even if your AU is CE, members of your AU are not eligible for Basic Food if they:

- (i) Are not eligible because of their alien or student status;
- (ii) Were disqualified from Basic Food under WAC 388-444-0055 for failing work requirements;
- (iii) Are not eligible for failing to provide or apply for a Social Security number;
- (iv) Receive SSI in a cash-out state (state where SSI payments are increased to include the value of the client's food stamp allotment); or
- (v) Live in an institution not eligible for Basic Food under WAC 388-408-0040.

(b) If a person in your AU is not eligible for Basic Food, we do not include them as an eligible member of your CE AU.

(c) Your AU is not CE if:

- (i) Your AU is not eligible because of striker requirements under WAC 388-480-0001;
- (ii) Your AU is ineligible for knowingly transferring countable resources in order to qualify for benefits under WAC 388-488-0010;
- (iii) Your AU refused to cooperate in providing information that is needed to determine your eligibility;
- (iv) The head of household for your AU failed to meet work requirements; or
- (v) Anyone in your AU is disqualified because of an intentional program violation under WAC 388-446-0015.

WAC 388-418-0005 How will I know what changes I must report? You must report changes to the department based on the kinds of assistance you receive. The set of changes you must report for people in your assistance unit under chapter 388-408 WAC is based on the benefits you receive that require you to report the most changes. It is the first program that you receive benefits from in the list below.

For example:

If you receive long term care and Basic Food benefits, you tell us about changes based on the long term care requirements because it is the first program in the list below you receive benefits from.

(1) If you receive long term care benefits such as Basic, Basic Plus, chore, community protection, COPEs, nursing home, Hospice, or medically needy waiver, you must tell us if you have a change of:

- (a) Address;
- (b) Marital status;
- (c) Living arrangement;
- (d) Income;
- (e) Resources;
- (f) Medical expenses; and
- (g) If we allow you expenses for your spouse or dependents, you must report changes in their income or shelter cost.

(2) If you receive medical benefits based on age, blindness, or disability (SSI-related medical), or ADATSA benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move;
- (b) A family member moves into or out of your home;

(c) Your resources change; or
(d) Your income changes. This includes the income of you, your spouse or your child living with you.

(3) If you receive Basic Food and all adults in your assistance unit are elderly persons or individuals with disabilities and have no earned income, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move;
- (b) You start getting money from a new source;
- (c) Your income changes by more than fifty dollars;
- (d) Your liquid resources, such as your cash on hand or bank accounts, are more than two thousand dollars; or
- (e) Someone moves into or out of your home.

(4) If you receive cash benefits other than WorkFirst career services benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move;
- (b) Someone moves out of your home;
- (c) Your total gross monthly income goes over the:
 - (i) Payment standard under WAC 388-478-0030 if you receive general assistance; or
 - (ii) Earned income limit under WAC 388-478-0035 and 388-450-0165 for all other programs;

(d) You have liquid resources more than four thousand dollars; or

(e) You have a change in employment. Tell us if you:

- (i) Get a job or change employers;
- (ii) Change from part-time to full-time or full-time to part-time;
- (iii) Have a change in your hourly wage rate or salary; or
- (iv) Stop working.

(5) If you receive family medical benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move;
- (b) A family member moves out of your home; or
- (c) If your income goes up or down by one hundred dollars or more a month and you expect this income change will continue for at least two months.

(6) If you receive Basic Food benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move;

(7) If you receive children's medical benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move; or
- (b) A family member moves out of the house.

(8) If you receive pregnancy medical benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move; or
- (b) You are no longer pregnant.

(9) If you receive other medical benefits, you need to tell us if:

- (a) You move; or

WAC 388-418-0007 When do I have to report changes in my circumstances? (1) If your household has a change of circumstances you are not required to report under WAC 388-418-0005, then you do not need to contact us about this change. If you tell us about this change, we take action based on the new information. This includes:

- (a) Asking for more information we need to determine your eligibility and benefits under WAC 388-490-0005;
- (b) Increasing your benefits when we have proof of a change that makes you eligible for more benefits; or
- (c) Reducing or stopping your benefits based on the change.

(2) If you are applying for benefits and have had a change:

- (a) After the date you applied but before your interview, you must report the change during your interview; or
- (b) After you have been interviewed, you must report changes that we require someone who receives benefits to report as described under WAC 388-418-0005. You must report this change by the tenth day of the month following the month the change happened.

(3) If you receive cash assistance, medical, or Basic Food, you must report changes required under WAC 388-418-0005 by the tenth day of the month following the month the change happened.

(4) For a change in income, the date a change happened is the date you receive income based on this change. For example, the date of your first paycheck for a new job, or the date of a paycheck showing a change in your wage or salary.

(5) If we require you to complete a mid-certification review, you must complete the review to inform us of your circumstances as described under WAC 388-418-0011 in order to keep receiving benefits.

(6) If you receive TANF/SFA, and you learn that a child in your assistance unit (AU) will be gone from your home longer than one hundred eighty days, you must tell us about this within five calendar days from the date you learn this information.

(a) If you do not report this within five days, the child's caretaker is not eligible for cash benefits for one month; and

(b) We continue to budget the ineligible person's countable income as described in WAC 388-450-0162 to determine the benefits for the people still in the AU.

(7) If you report changes late, you may receive the wrong amount or wrong type of benefits. If you receive more benefits than you are eligible for, you may have to pay them back as described in chapter 388-410 WAC.

WAC 388-418-0011 What is a mid-certification review, and do I have to complete one in order to keep receiving benefits? (1) A mid-certification review (MCR) is a form we send you to ask about your current circumstances. We use the answers you give us to decide if you are still eligible for benefits and to calculate your monthly benefits.

(2) If you receive cash assistance, family-related medical, or Basic Food benefits, you must complete a mid-certification review unless you meet one of the exceptions below:

(a) You do not have to complete a mid-certification review for cash assistance if you:

- (i) Only receive Refugee Cash Assistance as described under WAC 388-400-0030; or
- (ii) Have a review period of six months or less.

(b) You do not have to complete a mid-certification review for Basic food if:

- (i) Your assistance unit has a certification period of six months or less; or
- (ii) All adults in your assistance unit are elderly or disabled and have no earned income.

(3) When we send the review form:

If you must complete a MCR...	We send your review form...
(a) For one program such as Basic Food or Family Medical.	In the fifth month of your certification or review period. You must complete your review by the 10th day of month six.
(b) For two or more programs, and all programs have a 12-month certification or review period.	In the fifth month of your certification or review period. You must complete your review by the 10th day of month six.
(c) For Basic Food and another program when either program has a certification or review period between six and twelve months.	In the fifth month of your Basic Food certification period when you receive Basic Food and another program. You must complete your review by the 10th day of month six of your Basic Food certification.

(4) If you must complete a mid-certification review, we send you the review form with questions about your current circumstances. You can choose to complete the review in one of the following ways:

(a) Complete the form and return it to us. For us to count your mid-certification review as complete, you must take all of the steps below:

- (i) Complete the review form, telling us about changes in your circumstances we ask about;
- (ii) Sign and date the form;

(iii) Give us proof of any changes you report. If you report a change that will increase your benefits without giving proof of this change, we will not increase your benefits;

(iv) If you receive family medical benefits, give us proof of your income even if it has not changed;

(v) If you receive temporary assistance for needy families and you are working or self employed, you must give us proof of your income even if it has not changed; and

(vi) Mail or turn in the completed form and any required proof to us by the due date on the review.

(b) Complete the mid-certification review over the phone. For us to count your mid-certification review as complete, you must take all of the steps below:

(i) Contact us at the phone number on the review form, telling us about changes in your circumstances we ask about;

(ii) Give us proof of any changes you report. We may be able to verify some information over the phone. If you report a change that will increase your benefits without giving proof of this change, we will not increase your benefits;

(iii) If you receive family medical benefits, give us proof of your income even if it has not changed;

(iv) If you receive temporary assistance for needy families and you are working or self employed, you must give us proof of your income even if it has not changed; and

(v) Mail or turn in any required proof to us by the due date on the review.

(c) Complete the application process for another program. If we approve an application for another program in the month you must complete your mid-certification review, we use the application to complete your review when the same person is head of household for the application and the mid-certification review.

(5) If your benefits change because of what we learned in your mid-certification review, the change takes effect the next month even if this does not give you ten days notice before we change your benefits.

(6) If you do not complete your required mid-certification review, we stop your benefits at the end of the month the review was due.

(7) Late reviews. If you complete the mid-certification review after the last day of the month the review was due, we process the review as described below based on when we receive the review:

(a) Mid-certification reviews you complete by the last day of the month after the month the review was due: We determine your eligibility for ongoing benefits. If you are eligible, we reinstate your benefits based on the information in the review.

(b) Mid-certification reviews you complete after the last day of the month after the month the review was due: We treat this review as a request to send you an application. For us to determine if you are eligible for benefits, you must complete the application process as described in chapter 388-406 WAC.

WAC 388-418-0020 How does the department determine the date a change affects my benefits? (1) Unless otherwise specified, the rules in this chapter refer to cash, medical assistance, and Basic Food benefits.

(2) If you report a change that happened between the date you applied for benefits and the date we interview you under WAC 388-452-0005, we take this change into consideration when we process your application for benefits.

(3) If we learn about a change in your circumstances from another person, agency, or by matching with any number of systems, we determine the impact this change has on your benefits. We may request additional information under WAC 388-490-0005 or update your benefits based on this information.

(4) For programs other than pregnancy medical and children's medical, if you report a change in your income that we expect to continue at least a month beyond the month when you reported the change, we recalculate the income we estimated under WAC 388-450-0215 based on this change. Changes in income during a certification period do not affect pregnancy medical or children's medical assistance.

(5) When a change causes an increase in benefits, you must provide proof of the change before we adjust your benefits.

(a) If you give us the proof within ten days from the date we requested it, we increase your benefits starting the month after the month you reported the change.

(b) If you give us the proof more than ten days after the date we requested it, we increase your benefits starting the month after the month we got the proof.

(c) If you are eligible for more benefits and we have already sent you benefits for that month, we provide you the additional benefits within ten days of the day we got the proof.

(6) When a change causes a decrease in benefits, we reduce your benefit amount without asking for proof.

(a) If you report a change within the time limits in WAC 388-418-0007, and you are not reporting this as part of a mid-certification review, we decrease your benefits starting the first month following the advance notice period. The advance notice period:

(i) Begins on the day we send you a letter about the change, and

(ii) Is determined according to the rules in WAC 388-458-0025.

(b) If you do not report a change you must tell us about under WAC 388-418-0005, or you report a change later than we require under WAC 388-418-0007, we determine your eligibility as if you had reported this on time. If you received more benefits than you should, we set up an overpayment as described under chapter 388-410 WAC.

(7) If we are not sure how the change will affect your benefits, we send you a letter as described in WAC 388-458-0020 requesting information from you.

(a) We give you ten days to provide the information. If you need more time, you can ask for it.

(b) If you do not give us the information in time, we will stop your benefits after giving you advance notice, if required, as described in WAC 388-458-0030.

(8) Within ten days of the day we learn about a change, we send advance notice according to the rules in chapter 388-458 WAC and take necessary action to provide you the correct benefits. If you request a hearing about a proposed decrease in benefits before the effective date or within the notice period as described in WAC 388-458-0040, we wait to take action on the change.

(9) If you disagree with a decision we made to change your benefits, you may request a fair hearing under chapter 388-02 WAC. The fair hearing rules in chapter 388-02 WAC do not apply for a "mass change." A mass change is when we change the rules that impact all recipients and applicants.

(10) When you request a hearing and receive continued benefits:

(a) We keep giving you the same benefits you got before the advance notice of reduction until the earliest of the following events occur:

(i) For Basic Food only, your certification period expires;

(ii) The end of the month the fair hearing decision is mailed;

(iii) You state in writing that you do not want continued benefits;

(iv) You withdraw your fair hearing request in writing; or

(v) You abandon your fair hearing request; or

(vi) An administrative law judge issues a written order that ends continued benefits prior to the fair hearing.

(b) We establish an overpayment claim according to the rules in chapter 388-410 WAC when the hearing decision agrees with the action we took.

(11) Some changes have a specific effective date as follows:

(a) When cash assistance benefits increase because a person is added to your assistance unit, we use the effective date rules for applications in WAC 388-406-0055.

(b) When cash assistance benefits increase because you start paying shelter costs, we use the date the change occurred.

(c) When a change in law or regulation changes the benefit amount, we use the date specified by the law or regulation.

(d) When institutional medical assistance participation changes, we calculate the new participation amount beginning with the month your income or allowable expense changes.

WAC 388-418-0025 Effect of changes on medical program eligibility. (2) If you become ineligible for refugee cash assistance, refugee medical assistance can be continued through the eight-month limit, as described in WAC 388-400-0035(4).

(3) If you receive a TANF cash grant or family medical, you are eligible for a medical extension, as described under WAC 388-523-0100, when your cash grant or family medical program is terminated as a result of:

(5) For a child receiving benefits under the premium-based children's healthcare programs as described in WAC 388-505-0210 and chapter 388-542 WAC, the department must redetermine eligibility for a nonpremium-based medical program when the family reports:

(a) Family income has decreased to less than two hundred percent federal poverty level (FPL);

(b) The child becomes pregnant;

(c) A change in family size; or

388-422-0030	What happens if my support is more than my TANF or SFA cash benefit?

WAC 388-422-0005 What happens to my child, spousal and medical support when I get public assistance? (1) The following definitions apply to this chapter:

(a) "We" means the department of social and health services.

(b) "You" means a person applying for or getting benefits from us.

(c) "Benefits" mean family medical and related alien emergency medical (AEM), TANF or SFA cash assistance.

(d) "Support" means the money paid to meet a support order whether it is called child support, spousal support, alimony, maintenance, or medical support.

(e) "Medical support" means either or both:

(i) The set dollar amount for health care costs in a support order; or

(ii) Health insurance coverage for a dependent child.

(f) "Assistance unit" or "AU" means the group of people who live together and whose income and resources we count to decide your eligibility for benefits and the amount of those benefits.

(2) When you apply for TANF or SFA cash benefits, you assign your rights to current support and back support (also called "arrear") under WAC 388-14A-2036. You permanently assign to the state your current support for the months you get assistance. Support for months before you begin receiving assistance is temporarily assigned to the state. For more information about permanently and temporarily assigned support see:

(a) Permanently assigned arrears, WAC 388-14A-2037.

(b) Temporarily assigned arrears, WAC 388-14A-2038.

(3) You assign your rights to medical support under WAC 388-505-0540 when you apply for or get benefits from the following:

(a) Family medical; or

(b) Children's medical.

(4) You assign your rights to support when you sign the application for benefits, or when you get cash or medical benefits.

(5) If you have a good reason (WAC 388-422-0020) DCS may not be able to establish or collect child support (WAC 388-14A-2060).

(6) If you receive any support payments before you assign your rights to support, we count this as unearned income to your AU (WAC 388-450-0025).

(7) If you receive any direct support payments after you assign your rights to support, you must send the support payments to the division of child support (DCS) under WAC 388-14A-2040(3).

(8) If you keep any support payments you receive after you assign your rights to support, DCS may collect this money from you (WAC 388-14A-5505).

WAC 388-422-0010 Do I have to cooperate with the division of child support (DCS)? (1) When you get benefits, you must cooperate with DCS as required to establish or collect child support, unless you have a good reason for not cooperating.

(2) DCS defines what cooperating with them to establish or collect child support means in WAC 388-14A-2040.

(3) If you are a two-parent household, you and the other parent must help DCS establish paternity for each child in your AU, if necessary.

(4) DCS determines whether you are cooperating with them. See WAC 388-14A-2041(1) for reasons why DCS might determine that you are not cooperating.

(5) If you get TANF or SFA and do not have a good reason for not cooperating with DCS, we:

(a) Reduce your cash benefits by twenty-five percent; and

(b) Stop your medical benefits unless you are pregnant. The children in your AU will continue to get medical.

(6) If you get family medical and do not have a good reason for not cooperating with DCS, your medical will stop unless you are pregnant. The children in your AU will continue to get medical.

(7) If you are afraid that cooperating with DCS may be dangerous for you or a child in your care, see WAC 388-14A-2045 for a definition of what a good reason to not cooperate with DCS is. We also call this "good cause."

 - (iii) Is the subject of ongoing discussions between you and a public or licensed child placement agency to decide whether you will keep the child or put the child up for adoption. The discussions cannot have gone on for more than three months.
- (2) Once you claim good cause, you have twenty days to give us the information that proves you have good cause not to cooperate with DCS. This information can include official records, sworn statements, or other information that supports your good cause claim. If you need to, you may ask for:
 - (a) More time to give proof; or
 - (b) Help in getting proof.
- (3) While we review your good cause claim, DCS does not take any action to establish or enforce support on your case.
- (4) You have the right to:
 - (a) Be told of your right to claim good cause for not cooperating with DCS;
 - (b) Get benefits while we are deciding your good cause claim, as long as you have given the proof needed to make a decision;
 - (c) Get a decision within thirty days from the date you made your good cause claim, as long as you have given the proof needed to make a decision within twenty days; and
 - (d) Get information about how to request a fair hearing if we deny your good cause claim.

- (5) If we approve your good cause claim, we periodically review the claim depending on your circumstances.
- (6) To see what DCS does when good cause is approved see WAC 388-14A-2060.

WAC 388-424-0001 Citizenship and alien status—Definitions. "American Indians" born outside the United States. American Indians born outside the U.S. are eligible for benefits without regard to immigration status or date of entry if:

- (1) They were born in Canada and are of fifty percent American Indian blood (but need not belong to a federally recognized tribe); or
- (2) They are members of a federally recognized Indian tribe or Alaskan Native village or corporation.

"Hmong or Highland Lao." These are members of the Hmong or Highland Laotian tribe, which rendered military assistance to the U.S. during the Vietnam era (August 5, 1964 to May 7, 1975), and are "lawfully present" in the United States. This category also includes the spouse (including unremarried widow or widower) or unmarried dependent child of such tribe members.

"Nonimmigrants." These individuals are allowed to enter the U.S. for a specific purpose, usually for a limited time. Examples include:

- (1) Tourists,
- (2) Students,
- (3) Business visitors.

"PRUCOL" (Permanently residing under color of law) aliens. These are individuals who:

- (1) Are not "qualified aliens" as described below; and
- (2) Intend to reside indefinitely in the U.S.; and
- (3) United States Citizenship and Immigration Services or USCIS (formerly the Immigration and Naturalization Service or INS) knows are residing in the U.S. and is not taking steps to enforce their departure.

"Special immigrants from Iraq and Afghanistan."

According to federal law, special immigrants are Iraqi and Afghan aliens granted special immigrant status under section 101 (a)(27) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA).

"Qualified aliens." Federal law defines the following groups as "qualified aliens." All those not listed below are considered "nonqualified":

(1) Abused spouses or children, parents of abused children, or children of abused spouses, who have either:

(a) A pending or approved I-130 petition or application to immigrate as an immediate relative of a U.S. citizen or as the spouse or unmarried son or daughter of a Lawful Permanent Resident (LPR) - see definition of LPR below; or

(b) A notice of "prima facie" approval of a pending self-petition under the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA); or

(c) Proof of a pending application for suspension of deportation or cancellation of removal under VAWA; and

(d) The alien no longer resides with the person who committed the abuse.

(e) Children of an abused spouse do not need their own separate pending or approved petition but are included in their parent's petition if it was filed before they turned age twenty-one. Children of abused persons who meet the conditions above retain their "qualified alien" status even after they turn age twenty-one.

(f) An abused person who has initiated a self-petition under VAWA but has not received notice of prima facie approval is not a "qualified alien" but is considered PRUCOL. An abused person who continues to reside with the person who committed the domestic violence is also PRUCOL. For a definition of PRUCOL, see above.

(2) Amerasians who were born to U.S. citizen armed services members in Southeast Asia during the Vietnam war.

(3) Individuals who have been granted asylum under Section 208 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA).

(4) Individuals who were admitted to the U.S. as conditional entrants under Section 203 (a)(7) of the INA prior to April 1, 1980.

(5) Cuban/Haitian entrants. These are nationals of Cuba or Haiti who were paroled into the U.S. or given other special status.

(6) Individuals who are lawful permanent residents (LPRs) under the INA.

(7) Persons who have been granted parole into the U.S. for at least a period of one year (or indefinitely) under Section 212 (d)(5) of the INA, including "public interest" parolees.

(8) Individuals who are admitted to the U.S. as refugees under Section 207 of the INA.

(9) Persons granted withholding of deportation or removal under Sections 243(h) (dated 1995) or 241 (b)(3) (dated 2003) of the INA.

"Undocumented aliens." These are persons who either:

- (1) Entered the U.S. without inspection at the border, or
- (2) Were lawfully admitted but have lost their status.

"U.S. citizens."

(1) The following individuals are considered to be citizens of the U.S.:

(a) Persons born in the U.S. or its territories (Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands; also residents of the Northern Mariana Islands who elected to become U.S. citizens); or

(b) Legal immigrants who have naturalized after immigrating to the U.S.

(2) Persons born abroad to at least one U.S. citizen parent may be U.S. citizens under certain conditions.

(b) At least one of the parents is a U.S. citizen by birth or naturalization; and

(c) The child resides in the U.S. in the legal and physical custody of the citizen parent.

(4) For those individuals who turned eighteen before February 27, 2001, the child would automatically be a citizen if still under eighteen when he or she began lawful permanent residence in the U.S. and both parents had naturalized. 388-432-0005 Can I get help from DSHS for a family emergency without receiving monthly cash assistance?

WAC 388-432-0005 Can I get help from DSHS for a family emergency without receiving monthly cash assistance? DSHS has a program called diversion cash assistance (DCA). If your family needs an emergency cash payment but does not need ongoing monthly cash assistance, you may be eligible for this program.

(1) To get DCA, you must:

(a) Meet all the eligibility rules for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF)/state family assistance (SFA) except:

(i) You do not have to participate in WorkFirst requirements as defined in chapter 388-310 WAC; and

(ii) You do not have to assign child support rights or cooperate with division of child support as defined in chapter 388-422 WAC.

(b) Have a current bona fide or approved need for living expenses;

(c) Provide proof that your need exists; and

(d) Have or expect to get enough income or resources to support yourselves for at least twelve months.

(2) You may get DCA to help pay for one or more of the following needs:

(a) Child care;

(b) Housing;

(c) Transportation;

(d) Expenses to get or keep a job;

(e) Food costs, but not if an adult member of your family has been disqualified for food stamps; or

(f) Medical costs, except when an adult member of your family is not eligible because of failure to provide third party liability (TPL) information as defined in WAC 388-505-0540.

(3) DCA payments are limited to:

(a) One thousand five hundred dollars once in a twelve-month period which starts with the month the DCA benefits begin; and

(b) The cost of your need.

(2009 Ed.)

(4) We do not budget your income or make you use your resources to lower the amount of DCA payments you can receive.

(5) DCA payments can be paid:

(a) All at once; or

(b) As separate payments over a thirty-day period. The thirty-day period starts with the date of your first DCA payment.

(6) When it is possible, we pay your DCA benefit directly to the service provider.

(7) You are not eligible for DCA if:

(a) Any adult member of your assistance unit got DCA within the last twelve months;

(b) Any adult member of your assistance unit gets TANF/SFA;

(c) Any adult member of your assistance unit is not eligible for cash assistance for any reason unless one parent in a two-parent-assistance unit is receiving SSI; or

(d) Your assistance unit does not have a needy adult (such as when you do not receive TANF/SFA payment for yourself but receive it for the children only).

(8) If you apply for DCA after your TANF/SFA grant has been terminated, we consider you an applicant for DCA.

(9) If you apply for TANF/SFA and you received DCA less than twelve months ago:

(a) We set up a DCA loan.

(i) The amount of the loan is one-twelfth of the total DCA benefit times the number of months that are left in the twelve-month period.

(ii) The first month begins with the month DCA benefits began.

(b) We collect the loan only by reducing your grant. We take five percent of your TANF/SFA grant each month.

(10) If you stop getting TANF/SFA before you have repaid the loan, we stop collecting the loan unless you get back on TANF/SFA.

(10) If you do not complete the eligibility review for cash assistance, we consider you to be withdrawing your request for continuing assistance:

(a) Your cash assistance benefits will end; and

(b) Your medical assistance will continue for twelve consecutive months from the month we received your most recent application or eligibility review.

(11) We will send you written notice as described under chapter 388-458 WAC before assistance is suspended, terminated, or a benefit error is established as a result of your eligibility review.

WAC 388-434-0010 How do I get Basic Food benefits after my certification period has ended? To keep getting Basic Food benefits after your certification period in WAC 388-416-0005 has ended, we must determine if you are still eligible for benefits. This is called recertification.

(1) To be recertified for Basic Food, you must:

(a) Turn in and sign an application for benefits as required under WAC 388-406-0010. If you complete an electronic application, your signature is the password you use to complete the electronic application;

(b) Complete an interview if you are required to have an interview under WAC 388-452-0005; and

(c) Submit needed proof of your circumstances if we ask for it.

(2) If you reapply timely and get recertified before your certification period ends, we will keep depositing your benefits into your EBT (electronic benefit transfer) account on the same day of the month. To reapply timely, we must get your application by the fifteenth day of the last month of your certification period.

(3) When we decide if you are eligible for benefits, we will send you a letter to tell you that your benefits have been approved or denied as required under chapter 388-458 WAC.

(4) If you reapply timely and complete the steps required in subsection (1) by the fifteenth day of the last month of your certification period, you get the approval or denial letter by the end of your current certification period.

(5) If you do not turn in an application form by the end of your current certification period, you have not taken the action we require for you to get ongoing Basic Food benefits. Your Basic Food benefits stop at the end of your certification period.

(6) If you turn in your application before your certification period ends, we start your Basic Food from the first of the month of your new certification period after we determine if you are eligible.

(a) If you do not reapply timely, your benefits for the first month of your new certification period may be delayed.

(b) You have until the end of the month following your certification period end date to complete an interview if required and provide any proof of your circumstances we requested.

(c) If you do not meet all requirements for verification by the end of the month following your certification end date, your recertification will not be approved.

(7) If you turn in your application after your certification period ends, we treat the application as a new application for benefits. We start your Basic Food from the date you turned in the application after we determine if you are eligible.

WAC 388-436-0002 If my family has an emergency, can I get help from DSHS to get or keep our housing or utilities? DSHS has a program called additional requirements for emergent needs (AREN). If your family has an emergency and you need assistance to get or keep safe housing or utilities, you may be eligible. The special AREN payment is in addition to the regular monthly cash grant your family may already get.

(1) To get AREN, you must:

(a) Be eligible for temporary assistance for needy families (TANF), state family assistance (SFA), or refugee cash assistance (RCA);

(b) Have an emergency housing or utility need; and

(c) Have a good reason that you do not have enough money to pay your housing or utility costs.

(2) To get AREN, you must be eligible for TANF, SFA, or RCA. This means you must:

(a) Get benefits through TANF, SFA, or RCA. For RCA you must also be pregnant or have an eligible child; or

(b) Apply for TANF, SFA, and RCA, and meet all eligibility criteria including:

(i) The maximum earned income limit under WAC 388-478-0035;

(ii) The requirement that your unearned income not exceed the grant payment standard;

(iii) The requirement that your countable income as defined under WAC 388-450-0162 must be below the payment standard in WAC 388-478-0020 when you have both earned income and unearned income;

(iv) The resource limits under chapter 388-470 WAC;

(v) The program summary rules for either TANF (WAC 388-400-0005); SFA (WAC 388-400-0010); or RCA (WAC 388-400-0030); and

(vi) The requirement that you must be pregnant or have an eligible child.

(3) If you do not get or do not want to get TANF, SFA or RCA, you cannot get AREN to help with housing or utility costs. We will look to see if you are eligible for diversion cash assistance (DCA) under WAC 388-432-0005.

(4) To get AREN, you must have an emergency housing or utility need. You may get AREN to help pay to:

(a) Prevent eviction or foreclosure;

(b) Get housing if you are homeless or need to leave your home because of domestic violence;

(c) Hook up or prevent a shut off of utilities related to your health and safety. We consider the following utilities to be needed for health and safety:

(i) Electricity or fuel for heating, lighting, or cooking;

(ii) Water;

(iii) Sewer; and

(iv) Basic local telephone service if it is necessary for your basic health and safety. If you receive TANF or SFA, the Washington telephone assistance program (WTAP) may be used to help you pay for basic local telephone service.

(d) Repair damage or defect to your home when it causes a risk to your health or safety:

(i) If you own the home, we may approve AREN for the least expensive method of ending the risk to your health or safety;

(ii) If you do not own the home, you must ask the landlord in writing to fix the damage according to the Residential Landlord-Tenant Act at chapter 59.18 RCW. If the landlord refuses to fix the damage or defect, we may pay for the repair or pay to move you to a different place whichever cost is lower.

(e) If you receive TANF or SFA, WorkFirst support services under WAC 388-310-0800 may be used to help you relocate to new housing to get a job, keep a job, or participate in WorkFirst activities. Nonhousing expenses that are not covered under AREN may be paid under WorkFirst support services. This includes expenses such as car repair, diapers, or clothing.

(5) To get AREN, you must have a good reason for not having enough money to pay for your housing or utility costs. You must prove that you:

(a) Did not have money available that you normally use to pay your rent and utilities due to an emergency situation that reduced your income (such as a long-term illness or injury);

(b) Had to use your money to pay for necessary or emergency expenses. Examples of necessary or emergency expenses include:

(i) Basic health and safety needs for shelter, food and clothing;

(ii) Medical care;

(iii) Dental care needed to get a job or because of pain;

(iv) Emergency child care;

(v) Emergency expenses due to a natural disaster, accident, or injury; and

(vi) Other reasonable and necessary expenses.

(c) Are currently homeless; or

(d) Had your family's cash grant reduced or suspended when we budgeted your expected income for the month, but the income will not be available to pay for the need when the payment is due. You must make attempts to negotiate later payments with your landlord or utility company before you can get AREN.

(6) In addition to having a good reason for not having enough money to pay for your costs, you must also explain how you will afford to pay for the on-going need in the future. We may deny AREN if your expenses exceed your income (if you are living beyond your means). We may approve AREN to help you get into housing you can afford.

(7) If you meet the above requirements, we decide the amount we will pay based on the following criteria.

(a) AREN payments may be made up to a maximum of seven hundred fifty dollars in a consecutive twelve-month period.

(b) The number of AREN payments you can receive in a twelve-month period is not limited, as long as the total amount does not exceed seven hundred fifty dollars.

(c) The department may approve an AREN payment above the seven hundred fifty dollar maximum for health and safety reasons.

(d) The amount of AREN is in addition to the amount of your monthly TANF, SFA, or RCA cash grant.

(e) We will decide the lowest amount we must pay to end your housing or utility emergency. We will contact your landlord, utility company, or other vendor for information to make this decision. We may take any of the following steps when deciding the lowest amount to pay:

(i) We may ask you to arrange a payment plan with your landlord or utility company. This could include us making a partial payment, and you setting up a plan for you to repay the remaining amount you owe over a period of time.

(ii) We may have you use some of the money you have available in cash, checking, or savings to help pay for the expense. We will look at the money you have available as well as your bills when we decide how much we will pay.

(iii) We may consider income that is excluded or disregarded for cash assistance benefit calculations, such as SSI, as available to meet your emergency housing need.

(iv) We may consider money other individuals such as family or friends voluntarily give you. We will not count loans of money that you must repay to friends or family members.

(v) We may consider money from a nonneedy caretaker relative that lives in the home.

(vi) We may look at what other community resources you currently have to help you with your need.

(f) The seven hundred fifty dollar limit every twelve months applies to the following people even if they leave the assistance unit:

(i) Adults; and

(ii) Minor parents that get AREN when no adults are in the assistance unit.

(8) We pay AREN:

(a) Directly to the landlord, mortgage company, utility, or other vendor whenever we can.

(b) If we cannot pay AREN directly to the landlord or other vendor, we will issue the AREN as a part of your TANF, SFA, or RCA cash grant. If we issue the AREN as a part of your grant, you must use it for your emergency need.

(9) We may assign you a protective payee for your monthly grant under WAC 388-460-0020.

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE FOR FOOD STAMPS

WAC

388-437-0001 Disaster food stamp program.

WAC 388-437-0001 Disaster food stamp program.

(1) In the event of a disaster, the department works with the United States Department of Agriculture, Food and Nutrition Services (FNS) to change some requirements for the Washington Basic Food program and help ensure that people in a disaster area have access to food. This is known as the disaster food stamp program.

(2) If the President of the United States has declared a portion of the state as a federal disaster area, we ask FNS to allow use of the disaster food stamp program for the areas impacted by the disaster. Both of the following conditions must be met:

- (a) People's normal access to buy food has been disrupted; and
- (b) These commercial channels have since been restored with reasonable access and sufficient food supplies as determined by FNS.

(3) The department will implement any disaster food stamp program as approved by FNS.

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE FOR MEDICAL NEEDS

WAC

388-438-0110 The alien emergency medical (AEM) program.

DISPOSITION OF SECTIONS FORMERLY CODIFIED IN THIS CHAPTER

388-438-0100 Medically indigent (MI) program. [Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090, 98-16-044, § 388-438-0100, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98. Formerly 388-503-0370, 388-518-1805, 388-518-1810 and 388-518-1850.] Repealed by 04-07-141, filed 3/22/04, effective 4/22/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.09.530, and 2003 1st sp.s. c 25.

Notice of Objection (1): It is the opinion of the Joint Administrative Rules Review Committee that the Department of Social and Health Services has not modified, amended, withdrawn or repealed WAC 388-100-005 to conform with the intent of the legislature, as expressed in both chapters 70.48 and 74.09 RCW.

Although the department has statutory authority in chapter 74.09 RCW, to determine who is eligible to receive assistance under the limited casualty medical program, that authority is not without limitation. The City and County Jail Act of 1977 requires the Department of Social and Health Services to reimburse the local government for inmate medical costs, provided that inmate is otherwise eligible for such care. Inmates have not been denied coverage based on their status as inmates since the enactment of the City and County Jail Act.

In determining legislative intent, a portion of a statute cannot be examined in a vacuum. Rather, all statutes relating to the same subject should be read together and given a harmonious interpretation. The legislature is presumed to enact law with knowledge of existing law. RCW 70.48.130 is made moot by the department's administrative denial of inmate medical coverage, and the legislature does not intend to enact "moot" legislation.

The Joint Administrative Rules Review Committee objects to WAC 388-100-005 and herewith directs the code reviser to publish this Notice of Objection...pursuant to RCW 34.04.240.

[Joint Administrative Rules Review Committee, Memorandum, July 10, 1987—Filed July 27, 1987, WSR 87-16-031]

Notice of Objection (2): The Joint Administrative Rules Review Committee (JARRC) held on July 27, 1987, that WAC 388-100-005 did not conform with the intent of the Legislature. This rule, adopted by the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS), excluded inmates of federal or state prisons from eligibility for the limited casualty-medically indigent program of medical assistance.

As authority for its opinion, the committee cited RCW 70.48.130 of the City and County Jail Act of 1977 which requires DSHS to reimburse local governments for inmate medical costs provided to otherwise eligible inmates.

There has been no amendment to RCW 70.48.130 changing its meaning since 1986. Effective May 15, 1993, an amendment resulted in even further emphasis of the intent of the Legislature that all jail inmates receive cost-effective medical care. (1993 C 409 § 2)

On May 31, 1994, DSHS refiled a permanent rule, WSR 94-10-065, WAC 388-503-0370 which recodified WAC 388-100-005. The eligibility requirement that an applicant for the medically indigent program not be an inmate of a federal or state prison is retained in the new rule.

Since neither the statutory authority nor the substance of the rule has changed since the JARRC decision of July 27, 1987, the committee is of the opinion that DSHS has not modified, amended, withdrawn or repealed WAC 388-100-005 to conform with the intent of the Legislature. This being the case, pursuant to RCW 34.05.640 (5) and (6), the committee respectfully requests that the notice of objection published along with WAC 388-100-005 continue to be published along with WAC 388-503-0370.

[Joint Administrative Rules Review Committee, Memorandum February 21, 1995—Filed February 27, 1995, WSR 95-06-053.]

Reviser's note: The substance of WAC 388-503-0370 was moved into WAC 388-438-0100 filed as WSR 98-16-044 on July 31, 1998.

WAC 388-438-0110 The alien emergency medical (AEM) program.

(1) The alien emergency medical (AEM) program is a required federally funded program. It is for aliens who are ineligible for other medicaid programs, due to the citizenship or alien status requirements described in WAC 388-424-0010.

(2) Except for the Social Security number, citizenship, or alien status requirements, an alien must meet categorical medicaid eligibility requirements as described in:

- (a) WAC 388-505-0110, for an SSI-related person;
- (b) WAC 388-505-0220, for family medical programs;
- (c) WAC 388-505-0210, for a child under the age of nineteen; or
- (d) WAC 388-523-0100, for medical extensions.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 879]

(3) When an alien has monthly income that exceeds the CN medical standards, the department will consider AEM medically needy coverage for children or for adults who are age sixty-five or over or who meet SSI disability criteria. See WAC 388-519-0100.

(4) To qualify for the AEM program, the alien must meet one of the criteria described in subsection (2) of this section and have a qualifying emergency medical condition as described in WAC 388-500-0005.

(5) The alien's date of arrival in the United States is not used when determining eligibility for the AEM program.

(6) The department does not deem a sponsor's income and resources as available to the client when determining eligibility for the AEM program. The department counts only the income and resources a sponsor makes available to the client.

(7) Under the AEM program, covered services are limited to those medical services necessary for treatment of the person's emergency medical condition. The following services are not covered:

- (a) Organ transplants and related services;
- (b) Prenatal care, except labor and delivery;
- (c) School-based services;
- (d) Personal care services;
- (e) Waiver services;
- (f) Nursing facility services, unless they are approved by the department's medical consultant; and
- (g) Hospice services, unless they are approved by the department's medical consultant.

(8) The medical service limitations and exclusions described in subsection (7) also apply under the MN program.

(9) A person determined eligible for the AEM program is certified for three months. The number of three-month certification periods is not limited, but, the person must continue to meet eligibility criteria in subsection (2) and (4) of this section.

(10) A person is not eligible for the AEM program if that person entered the state specifically to obtain medical care.

(3) An administrative disqualification hearing (ADH) is a formal hearing to determine if a person committed an IPV. ADHs are governed by the rules found in chapter 388-02 WAC. However, rules in this section are the overriding authority if there is a conflict.

(4) A client who commits one or more IPV's and is suspected of committing another, is referred for an ADH when the act of suspected violation occurred:

(a) After the department mailed the disqualification notice to the client for the most recent IPV; or

(b) After criminal proceedings for the most recent IPV are concluded.

(5) A person suspected of IPV is entitled to receive notice of an ADH at least thirty days in advance of the hearing date. The notice is sent by certified mail, or provided to the client by personal service and will contain the following:

(a) The date, time, and place of the hearing;

(b) The charges against the individual;

(c) A summary of the evidence, and how and where the evidence can be examined;

(d) A warning that a decision will be based solely on evidence provided by the department, if the individual fails to appear at the hearing;

(e) A statement that the individual has ten days from the date of the scheduled hearing to show good cause for failure to appear at the hearing and to request rescheduling;

(f) A warning that a determination of IPV will result in a disqualification period; and

(g) A statement that if a telephone hearing is scheduled, the individual can request an in-person hearing by filing a request with the administrative law judge one week or more prior to the date of the hearing.

(6) The person or a representative shall have the right to one continuance of up to thirty days if a request is filed ten days or more prior to the hearing date.

(7) The hearing will be conducted and a decision rendered even if the person or representative fail to appear, unless within ten days from the date of the scheduled hearing:

(a) The person can show good cause for failing to appear; and

(b) The person or representative requests the hearing be re-instated.

(8) A scheduled telephone hearing may be changed to an in-person hearing if requested one week or more in advance. If requested less than one week in advance the person must show good cause for the requested change.

(9) The ALJ issues a final decision as specified in WAC 388-02-0215(5) and WAC 388-02-0527. The decision determines whether the department establishes with clear and convincing evidence that the person committed and intended to commit an IPV.

(10) The department and the client each have the right to request a reconsideration of the decision as specified in WAC

388-02-0610 through 388-02-0635. The final order or the reconsideration decision is the final agency decision.

(11) A client's disqualification is not implemented and benefits continue at the current amount when:

(a) The client can show good cause for not attending the hearing within thirty days from the date the disqualification notice was mailed; and

(b) An administrative law judge determines the client had good cause; or

(c) The client requests reconsideration or files a petition for judicial review to appeal the disqualification as specified in WAC 388-02-0530 (1) or (4).

(12) An administrative disqualification hearing and a regular hearing can be combined when the cause for both hearings is related.

- (iii) Permanently for the third violation.

(2) The disqualification and penalty period for a person convicted in another state stays in effect until satisfied regardless of where a person moves.

(3) Multiple program violations are considered as one violation when determining the penalty for disqualification when the violations occurred before the department notified the household of the penalties, as described in subsection (1), (4) and (5) of this section.

(4) Disqualification penalties for persons convicted by a federal, state, or local court of trading or receiving food coupons for a controlled substance are:

- (a) Two years for a first conviction; and
- (b) Permanently for a second conviction.

(5) A first conviction by federal, state, or local court permanently disqualifies persons who:

(a) Trade or receive food coupons for firearms, ammunition, or explosives; or

(b) Knowingly buy, sell, trade, or present for redemption food coupons totalling five hundred dollars or more in violation of section 15 (b) and (c) of the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended.

(6) Persons convicted of providing false identification or residency information to receive multiple coupon benefits are disqualified for ten years.

(7) When a court convicts a person of an IPV, the disqualification penalties specified in subsection (1) through (5) apply as follows:

(a) In addition to any civil or criminal penalties; and

(b) Within forty-five days of the date of conviction; unless

(c) Contrary to the court order.

(8) Disqualification penalties are applied after notifying the household of the disqualification, the effective date, the amount of benefits the household will receive during the disqualification period and the need to reapply when the certification period expires.

(9) Even though only the individual is disqualified, the food assistance household is responsible for making restitution for the amount of any overpayment.

WAC 388-448-0001 What are the incapacity requirements for general assistance? For the purposes of this chapter, "we" and "us" refer to the department of social and health services. "You" means the applicant or recipient. "GA" means the general assistance program. For you to receive general assistance (GA) program benefits, we must determine you are incapacitated.

"Incapacitated" means that you cannot be gainfully employed as a result of a physical or mental impairment that is expected to continue for at least ninety days from the date you apply.

"Physical impairment" means a diagnosable physical illness. "Mental impairment" means a diagnosable mental disorder. We exclude any diagnosis of or related to alcohol or drug abuse or addiction.

(1) We determine you are incapacitated if you are:

- (a) Eligible for payments based on Social Security Administration (SSA) disability criteria;
- (b) Eligible for services from the division of developmental disabilities (DDD);
- (c) Diagnosed as having mental retardation based on a full scale score of seventy or lower on the Wechsler adult intelligence scale (WAIS);
- (d) At least sixty-four years old and seven months;
- (e) Eligible for long-term care services from aging and disability services administration; or
- (f) Approved through the progressive evaluation process (PEP).

(2) We consider you to be incapacitated for ninety days after:

- (a) You are released from inpatient treatment for a mental impairment if:
 - (i) The release from inpatient treatment was not against medical advice; and
 - (ii) There is no break in your participation between inpatient and outpatient treatment of your mental impairment.
- (b) You are released from a medical institution where you received long-term care services from the aging and disability services administration.
- (c) The Social Security Administration stops your Supplemental Security Income payments because you are not a citizen.

WAC 388-448-0010 How do we decide if you are incapacitated? When you apply for GA program benefits, you must provide medical evidence to us to show that you are unable to work.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 888]

If you are gainfully employed at the time of your application for GA, we deny incapacity. "Gainful employment" means you are performing, in a regular and predictable manner, an activity usually done for pay or profit.

(1) We do not consider work to be gainful employment when you are working:

(a) Under special conditions that go beyond the employer providing reasonable accommodation, such as in a sheltered workshop we have approved; or

(b) Occasionally or part-time because your impairment limits the hours you are able to work compared to unimpaired workers in the same job as verified by your employer.

(2) We decide if you are incapacitated when:

(a) You apply for GA benefits. We may waive this decision if we use the criteria in WAC 388-448-0001 except the PEP to determine you are incapacitated;

(b) You become employed;

(c) You obtain work skills by completing a training program; or

(d) We get new information that indicates you may be employable.

(3) Unless you meet the other incapacity criteria in WAC 388-448-0001, we decide incapacity by applying the progressive evaluation process (PEP) to the medical evidence that you provide that meets WAC 388-448-0030. The PEP is the sequence of seven steps described in WAC 388-448-0035 through 388-448-0110.

(4) You are not eligible for GA benefits if you are incapacitated only because of alcoholism or drug addiction. If you have a physical or mental impairment and you are impaired by alcohol or drug addiction, we decide if you are eligible for general assistance. If you qualify for both GA and the ADATSA Shelter program, you may choose either program.

(5) In determining incapacity, we consider only your ability to perform basic work-related activities. "Basic work-related activities" are activities that anyone would be required to perform in a work setting. They consist of: Sitting, standing, walking, lifting, carrying, handling, seeing, hearing, communicating, and understanding and following instructions.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.04.005, and 2003 1st sp.s. c 10. 04-07-140, § 388-448-0010, filed 3/22/04, effective 5/1/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090, 00-16-113, § 388-448-0010, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0020 Which health professionals can I go to for medical evidence? We accept medical evidence from these sources:

(1) For a physical impairment, a health professional licensed in Washington state or where the examination was performed:

(a) A physician, which for GA program purposes, includes:

(i) Medical doctor (M.D.);

(ii) Doctor of osteopathy (D.O.);

(iii) Doctor of optometry (O.D.) to evaluate visual acuity impairments;

(iv) Doctor of podiatry (D.P.) for foot disorders; and

(v) Doctor of dental surgery (D.D.S.) or doctor of medical dentistry (D.M.D.) for tooth abscesses or temporomandibular joint (TMJ) disorders.

(b) An advanced registered nurse practitioner (ARNP) for physical impairments that are within the ARNP's area of certification to treat;

(c) The chief of medical administration of the Veterans' Administration, or their designee, as authorized in federal law; or

(d) A physician assistant when the report is cosigned by the supervising physician.

(2) For a mental impairment, professionals licensed in Washington state or where the examination was performed:

(a) A psychiatrist;

(b) A psychologist;

(c) An advanced registered nurse practitioner certified in psychiatric nursing; or

(d) At our discretion:

(i) A person identified as a mental health professional within the regional support network mental health treatment system provided the person's training and qualifications at a minimum include having a Master's degree and two years of mental health treatment experience; or

(ii) The physician who is currently treating you for a mental impairment.

(3) "Supplemental medical evidence" means information from a health professional not listed in subsection (1) or (2) of this section and who can provide supporting medical evidence for impairments identified by any of the professionals listed in subsections (1) or (2) of this section. We include as supplemental medical evidence sources:

(a) A health professional who has conducted tests on or provides on-going treatment to you, such as a physical therapist, chiropractor, nurse, physician assistant;

(b) Workers at state institutions and agencies who are not health professionals and are providing or have provided medical or health-related services to you; or

(c) Chemical dependency professionals (CDPs) when requesting information on the effects of alcohol or drug abuse.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.04.005, and 2003 1st sp.s. c 10. 04-07-140, § 388-448-0020, filed 3/22/04, effective 5/1/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.04.510, and 74.08.-090. 01-14-059, § 388-448-0020, filed 6/29/01, effective 8/1/01. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0020, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0030 What medical evidence do I need to provide? You must provide medical evidence that clearly explains if you have an impairment and how that impairment prevents you from being capable of gainful employment. Medical evidence must be in writing and be clear, objective and complete.

(1) Objective evidence means:

(a) For physical impairment:

(i) Laboratory test results;

(ii) Pathology reports;

(iii) Radiology findings including results of X rays and computer imaging scans;

(2009 Ed.)

(iv) Clinical finding, including but not limited to ranges of joint motion, blood pressure, temperature or pulse; and observations from physical examination; or

(v) Hospital history and physical reports and admission and discharge summaries; or

(vi) Other medical history and physical reports.

(b) For mental impairment:

(i) Examination results including:

(A) Clinical interview observations, including mental status exam results and interpretation; and

(B) Explanation of how examination findings meet the clinical and diagnostic criteria of the most recent edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM).

(ii) Testing results, if any, including:

(A) Description and interpretation of tests of memory, concentration, cognition or intelligence; or

(B) Interpretation of medical tests to identify or exclude a connection between the mental impairment and physical illness.

(2) To be complete, medical evidence must include:

(a) Diagnosis for the impairment;

(b) A clear description of how the impairment relates to your ability to perform the work-related activities listed in WAC 388-448-0010(5) including signs and observations of drug or alcohol abuse and whether any limitations on ability to perform work-related activities would continue after sixty days of abstinence from use of drugs or alcohol;

(c) Facts in addition to objective evidence to support the medical provider's opinion that you are unable to be gainfully employed, such as proof of hospitalization; and

(d) Based on an examination done within the ninety days of the date of application or the forty-five days prior to the month of incapacity review.

(3) When making an incapacity decision, we do not use your report of symptoms as evidence unless objective evidence shows there is an impairment that could reasonably be expected to produce those symptoms.

(4) If you cannot get medical evidence without cost to you and you meet the eligibility conditions other than incapacity in WAC 388-400-0025, we pay the costs to obtain objective evidence based on our published payment limits and designated fee schedules.

(5) We decide incapacity based solely on the objective information we receive. We are not obligated to accept a decision that you are incapacitated or unemployable made by another agency or person.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.08.090, 74.04.005, and 2003 1st sp.s. c 10. 04-07-140, § 388-448-0030, filed 3/22/04, effective 5/1/04. Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0030, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0035 How we assign severity ratings to your impairment. (1) "Severity rating" means a rating of the extent of your incapacity, and how severely it impacts your ability to perform the basic work activities. Severity ratings are assigned in Steps II through IV of the PEP. The following chart provides a description of levels of limitations on work activities and the severity ratings that would be assigned to each.

Effect on work activities	Severity rating
(a) There is no effect on your performance of basic work-related activities.	1
(b) There is no significant effect on your performance of basic work-related activities.	2
(c) There are significant limits on your performance of at least one basic work-related activity.	3
(d) There are very significant limits on your performance of at least one basic work-related activity.	4
(e) You are unable to perform at least one basic work-related activity.	5

(2) We use the severity rating given by the medical evidence provider:

(a) If the rating is supported by and consistent with the medical evidence;

(b) If the provider's assessment of your limitations is consistent with our definition of the rating; and

(c) If the rating is consistent with other medical evidence provided to us.

(3) If the medical evidence provider assigns a severity rating that is not consistent with the objective evidence and your symptoms from your impairment as described in the medical evidence, we take the following action:

(a) If your limitations are more severe than the rating given, we raise your severity rating; or

(b) If your limitations are less severe than the rating given, we lower your severity rating; and

(c) We give clear and convincing reasons for adjusting the rating.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0035, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0040 PEP step I—Review of medical evidence required for eligibility determination. When we receive your medical evidence, we review it to see if it is complete and to decide whether your circumstances match GAU program requirements.

(1) We require a written medical report to determine incapacity. The report must:

(a) Contain sufficient information as described under WAC 388-448-0030;

(b) Be written by an authorized medical professional;

(c) Document the existence of a potentially incapacitating condition; and

(d) Indicate an impairment is expected to last ninety days or more from the application date.

(2) If the information received is not clear, we may require more information before we decide your ability to be gainfully employed. As examples, we may require you to get more medical tests or be examined by a medical specialist.

(3) We deny incapacity when:

(a) There is only one impairment with a severity rating less than three;

(b) A reported impairment is not expected to last ninety days (twelve weeks) or more from the date of application;

(c) The practitioner is not able to determine that the physical or mental impairment would remain incapacitating after at least sixty days of abstinence from alcohol and drugs; or

(d) We do not have clear and objective medical evidence to approve incapacity.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0040, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0050 PEP step II—How we determine the severity of mental impairments. If you are diagnosed with a mental impairment, we use information from the provider to determine if your impairment prevents you from being gainfully employed. We review the psychological evidence to determine the severity of your mental impairment.

(1) The severity of your mental impairment is based on:

(a) Psychosocial and treatment history;

(b) Clinical findings;

(c) Results of psychological tests; and

(d) Symptoms observed by the examining practitioner that show impairment of your ability to perform basic work-related activities.

(2) If you are diagnosed with mental retardation, the diagnosis must be based on the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale (WAIS). The following test results determine the severity rating:

Intelligence Quotient (IQ) Score	Severity Rating
85 or above	1
71 to 84	3
70 or lower	5

(3) If you are diagnosed with a mental impairment with physical causes, we assign a severity rating based on the most severe of the following three areas of impairment:

(a) Memory defect for recent events;

(b) Impoverished, slowed, perseverative thinking, with confusion or disorientation; or

(c) Labile, shallow, or coarse affect.

(4) We base the severity of the functional psychotic or nonpsychotic disorder, excluding alcoholism or drug addiction, on:

(a) Clinical assessment of these twelve symptoms: Depressed mood, suicidal trends, verbal expression of anxiety or fear, expression of anger, social withdrawal, motor agitation, motor retardation, paranoid behavior, hallucinations, thought disorder, hyperactivity, preoccupation with physical complaints; and

(b) Clinical assessment of the intensity and pervasiveness of your symptoms and their effect on work activities.

(5) We base the severity rating for a functional mental impairment on accumulated severity ratings for the twelve symptoms in subsection (4)(a) of this section as follows:

Symptom Ratings or Condition	Severity Rating
(a) The functional mental impairment is diagnosed with psychotic features;	3
(b) You have had two or more hospitalizations for psychiatric reasons in the past two years;

Symptom Ratings or Condition	Severity Rating
(c) You have had more than six months of continuous psychiatric hospital or residential treatment in the past two years; (d) The overall assessment of symptoms is rated three; or (e) At least three symptoms are rated three or higher.
(f) The overall assessment of symptoms is rated four; or (g) At least three symptoms are rated four or five.	4
(h) The overall assessment of symptoms is rated five; or (i) At least three symptoms are rated five.	5

(6) If you have more than one type of mental impairment, we assign a severity rating as follows:

Condition	Severity Rating
(a) Two or more disorders with ratings of three; or (b) One or more disorders rated three; and one rated four.	4
(c) Two or more disorders rated four.	5

(7) We deny incapacity when you do not have a significant physical impairment and your overall mental severity rating is one or two;

(8) We approve incapacity when you have an overall mental severity rating of five, regardless of whether you have a physical impairment.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0050, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0060 PEP step III—How we determine the severity of physical impairments. We must decide if your physical impairment is serious enough to limit your ability to be gainfully employed. "Severity of a physical impairment" means the degree that an impairment restricts you from performing basic work-related activities (see WAC 388-448-0010). Severity ratings range from one to five, with five being the most severe. We will assign severity ratings according to the table in WAC 388-448-0035.

(1) We assign to each physical impairment a severity rating that is supported by medical evidence.

(2) If your physical impairment is rated two, and there is no mental impairment or a mental impairment that is rated one, we deny incapacity.

(3) If your physical impairment is consistent with a severity rating of five, we approve incapacity.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0060, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0070 PEP step IV—How we determine the severity of multiple impairments. (1) If you have more than one impairment we decide the overall severity rating by deciding if your impairments have a combined effect on your ability to be gainfully employed. Each diagnosis is grouped by affected organ or function into one of thirteen "body systems." The thirteen body systems consist of:

- (a) Musculo-skeletal,
- (b) Special senses and speech,
- (c) Respiratory,
- (d) Cardiovascular,
- (e) Digestive,
- (f) Genito-urinary,
- (g) Hemic and lymphatic,
- (h) Skin,
- (i) Endocrine and obesity,
- (j) Neurological,
- (k) Mental disorders,
- (l) Neoplastic, and
- (m) Immune systems.

(2) We follow these rules when there are multiple impairments:

(a) We group each diagnosis by body system.

(b) When you have two or more diagnosed impairments that limit work activities, we assign an overall severity rating as follows:

Your Condition	Severity Rating
(i) All impairments are in the same body system, are rated two and there is no cumulative effect on basic work activities.	2
(ii) All impairments are in the same body system, are rated two and there is a cumulative effect on basic work activities. (iii) All impairments are in different body systems, are rated two and there is a cumulative effect on basic work activities.	3
(iv) Two or more impairments are in different body systems and are rated three. (v) Two or more impairments are in different body systems; one is rated three and one is rated four.	4
(vi) Two or more impairments in different body systems are rated four.	5

(c) We deny incapacity when the overall severity rating is two.

(d) We approve incapacity when the overall severity rating is five.

WAC 388-448-0080 PEP step V—How we determine your ability to function in a work environment if you have a mental impairment. If you have a mental impairment we evaluate your cognitive and social functioning in a work setting. Functioning means your ability to perform the tasks that would be required of you on the job and your ability to get along with your coworkers, supervisors and other people you would be in contact with while on the job.

(1) We evaluate cognitive factors by assessing your ability to:

- (a) Understand, remember, and follow simple, one- or two-step instructions;
- (b) Understand, remember, and follow complex instructions, with three or more steps;
- (c) Learn new tasks;
- (d) Exercise judgment and make decisions; and
- (e) Perform routine tasks without undue supervision.

(2) We approve incapacity when the practitioner's evaluation shows you are:

(a) At least moderately impaired in your ability to understand, remember, and follow simple instructions and at least moderately limited in your ability to:

- (i) Learn new tasks, exercise judgment, and make decisions; and
- (ii) Perform routine tasks without undue supervision; or
- (b) Able to understand, remember, and follow simple instructions, but are:

(i) At least moderately impaired in the ability to understand, remember, and follow instructions with three or more steps; and

(ii) Markedly impaired in the ability to learn new tasks, exercise judgment and make decisions, and perform routine tasks without undue supervision.

(3) The practitioner's evaluation reports your social factors after assessing your ability to:

- (a) Relate appropriately to coworkers and supervisors;
- (b) Relate appropriately in contacts with the public;
- (c) Tolerate the pressures of a work setting;
- (d) Perform self-care activities, including personal hygiene; and
- (e) Maintain appropriate behavior in a work setting.

(4) We approve incapacity if you are rated at least two in one area of social functioning and at least three in all other areas of social functioning.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057, 74.08.090. 00-16-113, § 388-448-0080, filed 8/2/00, effective 9/1/00.]

WAC 388-448-0090 PEP step V—How we determine your ability to function in a work environment if you have a physical impairment. In Step V of the PEP we review the medical evidence you provide and make a determination of how your physical impairment prevents you from working. This determination is then used in Steps VI and VII of the PEP to determine your ability to perform either work you have done in the past or other work.

(1) "Exertion level" means the ability to lift, carry, stand and walk with the strength needed to fulfill job duties in the following work categories. For this section, "occasionally" means less than one-third of the time and "frequently" means one-third to two-thirds of the time. We only consider your strength, mobility, and flexibility. We review any work limits you have in the following areas, and then assign an exertion level and determine exertional limitations.

The following table is used to determine your exertion level. Included in this table is a strength factor, which is your ability to perform physical activities, as defined in Appendix C of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles (DOT), Revised Edition, published by the U.S. Department of Labor.

If you	Then we assign this exertion level
(a) Can not lift at least two pounds or stand and/or walk.	Severely limited
(b) Can lift ten pounds maximum and frequently lift and/or carry lightweight articles. Walking and standing are only required for brief periods.	Sedentary
(c) Can lift twenty pounds maximum and frequently lift and/or carry objects weighing up to ten pounds. Walk six out of eight hours per day or stand during a significant portion of the workday, with sitting and pushing/ pulling arm or leg movements most of the day.	Light
(d) Can lift fifty pounds maximum and frequently lift and/or carry up to twenty-five pounds.	Medium
(e) Can lift one hundred pounds maximum and frequently lift and/or carry up to fifty pounds.	Heavy

(2) "Exertionally-related limitation" means a restriction in mobility, agility or flexibility in the following twelve activities: Balancing, bending, climbing, crawling, crouching, handling, kneeling, pulling, pushing, reaching, sitting, and stooping. If you have exertionally-related limitations, we consider them in determining your ability to work.

(3) "Functional physical capacity" means the degree of strength, agility, flexibility, and mobility you can apply to work-related activities. We consider the effect of the physical impairment on the ability to perform work-related activities when the physical impairment is assigned an overall severity rating of three or four. We determine functional physical capacity based on your exertional, exertionally related and nonexertional limitations. All limitations must be substantiated by the medical evidence and directly related to the diagnosed impairment(s).

(4) "Nonexertional physical limitation" means a restriction on work activities that does not affect strength, mobility, agility, or flexibility. Examples are:

(a) Environmental restrictions which could include, among other things, your inability to work in an area where you would be exposed to chemicals; and

(b) Workplace restrictions, such as impaired hearing or speech, which would limit the types of work environments you could work in.

WAC 388-448-0100 PEP step VI—How we evaluate capacity to perform relevant past work. If your overall severity rating is three or four and we have reached this stage of the PEP and have not approved or denied your application, we decide if you can do the same or similar work as you have done in the past. We look at your current physical and/or mental limitations and vocational factors to make this decision. Vocational factors are education, relevant work history, and age.

(1) We evaluate education in terms of formal schooling or other training that enables you to meet job requirements. We classify education as:

If you	Then your education level is
(a) Can not read or write a simple communication, such as two sentences or a list of items.	Illiterate
(b) Have no formal schooling beyond the eleventh grade; or (c) Have participated in special education.	Limited education
(d) Have received a high school diploma or general equivalency degree (GED); or (e) Have received skills training and were awarded a certificate, degree or license.	High school and above level of education

(2) We evaluate your work experience to determine if you have relevant past work. "Relevant past work" means work that:

(a) Is normally done for pay or profit. We exclude work done in a sheltered workshop, a job where you were given special consideration, or activities you may have performed as a student or homemaker;

(b) Has been performed in the past five years; and

(c) You have done long enough for you to have acquired the knowledge and skills to continue performing the job. You must meet the specific vocational preparation level as defined in Appendix C of the Dictionary of Occupational Titles.

(3) For each relevant past work situation you have had, we determine:

(a) The exertional or skill requirements of the job; and

Highest work level assigned by the practitioner	Your age	Your education level	Other vocational factors
Sedentary	Any age	Any level	Does not apply
Light	Fifty and older	Any level	Does not apply
Light	Thirty-five and older	Illiterate or LEP	Does not apply
Light	Eighteen and older	Limited education	Does not have any past work
Medium	Fifty and older	Limited education	Does not have any past work
Medium	Fifty-five and older	Any level	Does not apply
Heavy	Fifty-five and older	Any level	Environmental restrictions apply

(2) We approve incapacity when you have a mental impairment only and meet the age and social functioning limitations below:

Social limitation	Age
(a) Can not appropriately relate to coworkers and supervisors (rated three); and (b) Can not tolerate the pressures of a work setting (rated four).	Fifty years and older
(c) Can not tolerate the pressures for a work setting (rated five).	Eighteen to fifty-four
(d) A mental disorder severity rated four; (e) One or more symptoms from WAC 388-448-0050(4) (rated five); (f) Can not appropriately relate to coworkers and supervisors (rated three); and (g) Can not tolerate the pressures of a work setting (rated four).	Eighteen to forty-nine

(3) We approve incapacity when you have both mental and physical impairments and vocational factors interfere with working as follows:

(b) Current cognitive, social, or nonexertional factors that significantly limit your ability to perform past work.

(4) After considering vocational factors, we approve or deny incapacity based on the following:

If you	Then we take this action on incapacity
(a) Have the physical or mental ability to perform past work and there is no significant cognitive, social or nonexertional limitation.	Deny
(b) Have recently acquired specific work skills through completion of vocational training, enabling you to work within your current physical or mental capacities.	Deny
(c) Are fifty-five years of age or older and have an impairment that is assigned an overall severity rating of at least three and do not have the physical or mental ability to perform past work or do not have work experience.	Approve

WAC 388-448-0110 PEP step VII—How we evaluate your capacity to perform other work. If we decide you cannot do work that you've done before, we then decide if you can do any other work. In making this decision, we again consider vocational factors of age, education and limited English proficiency (LEP).

(1) We approve incapacity if you have a physical impairment only and meet the vocational factors below:

Your age	Your education	Your other restrictions
Any age	Any level	(a) Can not appropriately relate to coworkers and supervisors (rated three; and (b) Can not tolerate pressures of a work setting (rated four).
Fifty or older	Limited education	(c) Restricted to medium work level or less.
Eighteen to forty-nine	Limited education	(d) Restricted to light work level.

(4) If we do not find that you are incapacitated by the end of Step VII of the PEP, an administrative review team (ART) makes the incapacity decision. The review team consists of two or more persons within the community service office (CSO) who are not in the position of providing direct eligibility or incapacity services to you. The ART reviews the medical evidence and your vocational factors.

WAC 388-448-0120 How we decide how long you are incapacitated. We decide how long you are incapacitated, up to the maximum period set by WAC 388-448-0160, using medical evidence on the expected length of time needed to heal or recover from the incapacitating disorder(s).

WAC 388-448-0130 Treatment and referral requirements. We refer you to medical providers for available medical treatment or other agencies for treatment, rehabilitation or work activities when we decide it will improve your ability to be gainfully employed or reduce your need for GAU. "Available medical treatment" means medical, surgical, chemical dependency, or mental health services, or a combination of them.

(1) When you are first approved and at each review determination, we give you written information regarding your treatment requirements.

(2) You must accept and follow through on required medical treatment and referrals to other agencies and services, including applying for SSI, unless you have good cause for not doing so. Examples of good cause are found in WAC 388-448-0140.

(3) We may require you to undergo alcohol or drug treatment before reviewing your eligibility for GAU.

(4) You may request a fair hearing if you disagree with the treatment or referral requirements we set for you (see WAC 388-458-0040).

WAC 388-448-0140 Good cause for refusing medical treatment or other agency referrals. We may determine that you have good cause for refusing required treatment or referrals to other agencies. We may require you to provide proof to support your good cause claim. Valid reasons for refusing treatment and other agency referrals include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Valid reasons for refusing treatment referrals:

(a) You are so fearful of the treatment that your fear could interfere with the treatment or reduce its benefits;

(b) Treatment could cause further limitations or loss of a function or an organ and you are not willing to take that risk;

(c) You practice an organized religion that prohibits treatment; or

(d) Treatment is not available without cost to you.

(2) Valid reasons for refusing treatment or other agency referrals:

(a) We did not give you enough information about the requirement;

(b) You did not receive written notice of the requirement;

(c) The requirement was made in error;

(d) You are temporarily unable to participate because of documented interference, or

(e) Your medical condition or limitations are consistent with the definition of necessary supplemental accommodation (NSA), WAC 388-472-0020 and your condition or limitations contributed to your refusal, per WAC 388-472-0050.

WAC 388-448-0150 Penalty for refusing medical treatment or other agency referrals. (1) If you refuse required treatment or agency referral without having good cause, we will stop your GAU benefits.

(2) We stop your GAU benefits until you agree to accept and pursue the required treatment service or referral.

(3) If you reapply, you must wait for a penalty period to pass before you begin getting benefits. The penalty is based on how often you have refused:

WAC 388-448-0160 When do my general assistance benefits end? (1) The maximum period of eligibility for general assistance is twelve months before we must review additional medical evidence. We use medical evidence and the expected length of time before you are capable of gainful employment to decide when your benefits will end.

(2) Your benefits stop at the end of your incapacity period unless you provide additional medical evidence that demonstrates during your current incapacity period that there was no material improvement in your impairment. No material improvement means that your impairment continues to meet the progressive evaluation process criteria in WAC 388-448-0010 through 388-448-0110, excluding the requirement that your impairment(s) prevent employment for ninety days.

(3) Additional medical evidence must meet all of the criteria defined in WAC 388-448-0030.

(4) We use additional medical evidence received after your incapacity period had ended when:

(a) The delay was not due to your failure to cooperate; and

(b) We receive the evidence within thirty days of the end of your incapacity period; and

(c) The evidence meets the progressive evaluation process criteria in WAC 388-448-0010 through 388-448-0110.

(5) You must provide information about your cooperation and progress with treatment or agency referrals we required according to WAC 388-448-0130.

(6) Even if your condition has not improved, you are not eligible for general assistance when:

(a) We get current medical evidence that does not meet the progressive evaluation process criteria in WAC 388-448-0035 through 388-448-0110; and

(b) Our prior decision that your incapacity met the requirements was incorrect because:

(i) The information we had was incorrect or not enough to show incapacity; or

(ii) We did not apply the rules correctly to the information we had at that time.

WAC 388-448-0180 How do we redetermine your eligibility when we decide you are eligible for general assistance expedited medicaid (GAX)? (1) The maximum period of eligibility for GAX is twelve months before we must review additional medical evidence. If you remain on GAX at the end of the twelve-month period, we determine your eligibility using current medical evidence.

(2) If your application for SSI is denied, and the denial is upheld by an SSI/SSA administrative hearing, we change your program eligibility from GAX to GAU if you do not provide proof you have filed an appeal with the SSI/SSA appeals council within sixty days of your hearing decision.

(3) We change your program eligibility from GAX to GAU after the final SSI/SSA determination or if you fail to follow through with any part of the SSI/SSA appeals process.

WAC 388-448-0210 What is interim assistance and how do I assign it to you?

The general assistance and SSI programs both provide cash assistance to meet your basic needs. You cannot receive this assistance for the same time period from both programs. When you are approved for or reinstated on SSI, you may receive a back payment. When we made GA payments to you or on your behalf for the same time period, you must assign your interim assistance to repay us.

(1) "Assign" means that you sign a written authorization for the Social Security Administration (SSA) to send the SSI back payment to us. We will deduct the interim assistance we provided to you.

(2) "Interim assistance" means the GA funds we paid to you or on your behalf during:

(a) The time between your SSI application date and the month recurring SSI payments begin; or

(b) The period your SSI payments were suspended or terminated, and later reinstated.

(3) We pay up to twenty-five percent of the interim assistance reimbursement that we receive from the SSA to the attorney who successfully represented you in your effort to receive SSI.

DISPOSITION OF SECTIONS FORMERLY CODIFIED IN THIS CHAPTER

388-450-0020 Income exclusions for SSI-related medical. [Statutory Authority: RCW 74.04.050, 74.04.055, 74.04.057 and 74.08.090. 98-16-044, § 388-450-0020, filed 7/31/98, effective 9/1/98. Formerly WAC 388-511-1140 and

WAC 388-450-0005 How does the department decide if I own a type of income and if this income is available to meet my needs? This section applies to cash assistance, medical programs for children, pregnant women and families, and food assistance.

(1) We count all available income owned or held by people in your assistance unit under chapter 388-408 WAC to decide if you are eligible for benefits and calculate your monthly benefits when:

(a) You get or expect to get the income in the month.

(b) We must count the income based on rules under chapter 388-450 WAC.

(c) You own the income. We use state and federal laws about who owns property to decide if you actually own the income. If you are married, we decide if income is separate or community income according to chapter 26.16 RCW.

(d) You have control over the income, which means the income is actually available to you. If you have a representative payee, protective payee, or other person who manages your income for you as described in chapter 388-460 WAC, we consider this as you having control over this income.

(e) You can use the income to meet your current needs. We count the gross amount of available income in the month your assistance unit gets it. If you normally get the income:

(i) On a specific day, we count it as available on that date.

(ii) Monthly or twice monthly and your pay date changes due to a reason beyond your control, such as a weekend or holiday, we count it in the month you would normally get it.

(iii) Weekly or every-other week and your pay date changes due to a reason beyond your control, we count it in the month you would normally get it.

(2) If income is legally yours, we consider the income as available to you even if it is paid to someone else for you. For example, the father of your child has a court order to pay you two hundred fifty dollars per month in child support. Instead of giving the money directly to you (as required in the court order), he gives the money to your landlord to pay part of your rent. We still count the two hundred fifty dollars as income even though you never actually got the money.

(3) We may also count the income of certain people who live in your home, even if they are not getting or applying for benefits. Their income counts as part of your income.

(a) For cash assistance, we count the income of ineligible, disqualified, or financially responsible people as defined in WAC 388-450-0100.

(b) For food assistance, we count the income of ineligible assistance unit members as defined in WAC 388-408-0035.

(c) For family and SSI-related medical assistance, we count the income of financially responsible people as defined in WAC 388-408-0055 and chapter 388-475 WAC.

(d) For long-term care services, we count the income of financially responsible people as defined in WAC 388-506-0620.

(4) If you have a joint bank account with someone who is not in your AU, we count any money deposited into that account as your income unless:

(a) You can show that all or part of the funds belong only to the other account holder and are held or used only for the benefit of that holder; or

(b) Social Security Administration (SSA) used that money to determine the other account holder's eligibility for SSI benefits.

(5) Potential income is income you may be able to get that can be used to lower your need for assistance. If we determine that you have a potential source of income, you must make a reasonable effort to make the income available in order to get cash or medical assistance.

(a) We do not count that income until you actually get it; and

(b) You can choose whether to get TANF/SFA or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits.

(6) If your assistance unit includes a sponsored immigrant, we consider the income of the immigrant's sponsor as available to the immigrant under the rules of this chapter. We use this income when deciding if your assistance unit is eligible for benefits and to calculate your monthly benefits.

(7) For SSI-related medical:

(a) We consider income to be owned by someone and available to the person when the person:

(i) Gets the income; and

(ii) Can use the income to meet their needs for food, clothing and shelter, except as provided in WAC 388-511-1130.

(b) Loans and getting cash in certain other ways are not defined as income for SSI-related medical purposes as described in 20 C.F.R. Sec. 416.1103.

(8) For medical programs, see WAC 388-561-0100 for more information about trusts.

(9) You may give us proof about a type of income at any time, including when we ask for it or if you disagree with a decision we made, about:

(a) Who owns the income;

(b) Who has legal control of the income;

(c) The amount of the income; or

(d) If the income is available.

WAC 388-450-0010 The department takes some or all of your time-loss benefits if you get cash assistance while waiting for your claim to be processed. (1) Some people who are hurt on the job can get time-loss benefits because of their injury. The time-loss benefits are paid by an agency, such as the department of labor and industries or a private insurance company.

(2) If you are an adult or minor child who gets cash assistance while waiting for your time-loss benefit claim to be processed, you are required to let the department take some or all of your time-loss benefits as repayment for your cash assistance. We will take our portion of the time-loss benefits before you get yours. You agree to this when you sign the application and accept your cash benefits.

(3) The amount of your time-loss benefits that we take will not be more than the total amount of cash assistance you got while waiting for your claim to be approved.

(4) If your assistance unit includes another adult to whom you are not married, the amount of your time-loss benefits we take may be less than the amount of cash assistance you received.

(5) Each time we take our portion from your time-loss benefits, the office of financial recovery (OFR) will send you a letter telling you how much we are taking.

(6) If you or your attorney claim that you are getting more time-loss benefits because of the help of your attorney, OFR will:

(a) First, figure out:

(i) How much of your time-loss benefits are a direct result of your attorney's work; and

(ii) Our proportionate share of your attorney's fees and costs for the amount we are taking; and

(b) Then, either:

(i) Subtract our share of your attorney's fees and costs from the amount we are taking; or

(ii) Send your attorney their share of the time-loss benefits we have taken.

(c) Send a copy of the account summary to you.

WAC 388-450-0050 How does your participation in the community jobs (CJ) program affect your cash assistance and Basic Food benefits? (1) There are two different types of income in the community jobs program. They are:

(a) Subsidized, where your wages are paid from TANF or SFA funds; and

(b) Unsubsidized, where your wages are paid entirely by your employer.

(2) We figure your total monthly subsidized or unsubsidized income by:

(a) Estimating the number of hours you, your case manager, and the CJ contractor expect you to work for the month; and

(b) Multiplying the number of hours by the federal or state minimum wage, whichever is higher.

(3) Because you are expected to participate and meet the requirements of CJ, once we determine what your total monthly income is expected to be, we do not change your TANF grant if your actual hours are more or less than anticipated.

(4) We treat the total income we expect you to get each month from your CJ position as:

(a) Earned income for cash assistance, except we do not count any of the CJ income for the first month you receive your paycheck.

(b) Earned income for Basic Food after you have been transferred to your employer's regular unsubsidized payroll; or

(c) Unearned income for Basic Food while you have subsidized income.

(5) If your anticipated subsidized income is more than your grant amount, your cash grant is suspended. This means that you are still considered a TANF/SFA recipient, but you do not get a grant.

(a) Your grant can be suspended up to a maximum of nine months.

(b) You can keep participating in CJ even though your grant is suspended, as long as you would be eligible for a grant if we did not count your subsidized income.

(c) The months your grant is suspended do not count toward your sixty-month lifetime limit.

(6) If your unsubsidized income, after we subtract half of what you have earned is greater than your grant, your TANF/SFA case will close. This happens because your income is over the maximum you are allowed. You will still be able to participate in the CJ program for up to a total of nine months.

(7) If your income from other sources alone, not counting CJ income makes you ineligible for a cash grant, we terminate your grant and end your participation in CJ.

WAC 388-450-0055 How does needs-based assistance from other agencies or organizations count against my benefits? (1) For cash assistance and medical programs for children, pregnant women, and families:

(a) We do not count needs-based assistance payments given to you by other agencies or organizations if the assistance is given to you for reasons other than ongoing living expenses which do not duplicate the purpose of cash assistance programs. Ongoing living expenses include the following items:

- (i) Clothing;
- (ii) Food;
- (iii) Household supplies;
- (iv) Medical supplies (nonprescription);
- (v) Personal care items;
- (iv) Shelter;
- (vii) Transportation; and
- (viii) Utilities (e.g., lights, cooking fuel, the cost of heating or heating fuel).

(b) If the needs-based assistance given to you is supposed to be used for ongoing living expenses, then it duplicates the purpose of cash assistance programs. We count the amount remaining after we subtract the difference between the need standard and the payment standard for your family size as described in chapter 388-478 WAC.

(c) "Needs-based" means eligibility is based on an asset test of income and resources relative to the federal poverty level (FPL). This definition excludes such incomes as retirement benefits or unemployment compensation which are not needs-based.

(2) For food assistance:

(a) We do not count money given to you if:

- (i) It is given to you by a private, nonprofit, charitable agency or organization; and
- (ii) The amount of money you get is no more than three hundred dollars in any one of the following calendar quarters:
 - (A) January - February - March,
 - (B) April - May - June,
 - (C) July - August - September,
 - (D) October - November - December.

(b) We count the entire amount if the requirements in (a) of this subsection are not met.

(3) For cash assistance, food assistance, and medical programs for children, pregnant women, and families, if we do count the needs-based assistance you get, we treat it as unearned income under WAC 388-450-0025.

WAC 388-450-0065 Gifts—Cash and noncash. A gift is an item furnished to a client without work or cost on his or her part.

(1) A cash gift is a gift that is furnished as money, cash, checks or any other readily negotiable form.

(a) For cash assistance and medical programs for children, pregnant women and families, cash gifts totaling no more than thirty dollars per calendar quarter for each assistance unit member are disregarded as income.

(b) For food assistance programs:

(i) Cash gifts to the assistance unit are excluded if they total thirty dollars or less per quarter;

(ii) Cash gifts in excess of thirty dollars per quarter are counted in full as unearned income.

(2) For cash assistance and medical programs for children, pregnant women and families, and food assistance, a noncash gift is treated as a resource.

(a) If the gift is a countable resource, its value is added to the value of the client's existing countable resources and the client's eligibility is redetermined as specified in chapter 388-470 WAC.

(b) If the gift is an excluded or noncountable resource, it does not affect the client's eligibility or benefit level.

(a) In school;

(b) Age seventeen or younger;

(c) Not married; and

(d) Not emancipated.

(2) For cash assistance, we do not count the earnings of a child if the child is:

(3) School includes:

(a) Participating in a home-school program that is approved by the superintendent of public instruction; or

(b) On break between school terms when the child:

(i) Was enrolled during the previous school term; and

WAC 388-450-0080 What is self-employment income? This section applies to cash assistance, Basic Food, and medical programs for children, pregnant women and families.

(1) Self-employment income is income you earn from running a business, performing a service, selling items you make, or reselling items to make a profit.

(2) You are self-employed if you earn income without having an employer/employee relationship with the person who pays you. This includes, but is not limited to, when:

(a) You have primary control of the way you do your work; or

(b) You report your income using IRS Schedule C, Schedule C-EZ, Schedule K-1, or Schedule SE.

(3) You usually have an employer/employee relationship when:

(a) The person you provide services for has primary control of how you do your work; or

(b) You get an IRS form W-2 to report your income.

(4) Your self-employment does not have to be a licensed business for your business or activity to qualify as self-employment. Some examples of self-employment include:

(a) Child care that requires a license under chapter 74.15 RCW;

(b) Driving a taxi cab;

(c) Farming/fishing;

(d) Odd jobs such as mowing lawns, house painting, gutter cleaning, or car care;

(e) Running a lodging for roomers and/or boarders. Roomer income includes money paid to you for shelter costs by someone not in your assistance unit who lives with you when:

(i) You own or are buying your residence; or

(ii) You rent all or a part of your residence and the total rent you charge all others in your home is more than your total rent.

(f) Running an adult family home;

(g) Providing services such as a massage therapist or a professional escort;

(h) Retainer fees to reserve a bed for a foster child;

(i) Selling items you make or items that are supplied to you;

(j) Selling or donating your own biological products such as providing blood or reproductive material for profit;

(k) Working as an independent contractor; and

(l) Running a business or trade either on your own or in a partnership.

(5) If you are an employee of a company or person who does the activities listed in subsection (2) above as a part of your job, we do not count the work you do as self-employment.

(6) Self-employment income is counted as earned income as described in WAC 388-450-0030 except as described in subsection (7).

(7) For cash assistance and Basic Food there are special rules about renting or leasing out property or real estate that you own.

(a) We count the income you get as unearned income unless you spend at least twenty hours per week managing the property.

(b) For TANF/SFA, we count the income as unearned income unless the use of the property is a part of your approved individual responsibility plan.

WAC 388-450-0085 Does the department count all of my self-employment income to determine if I am eligible for benefits? This section applies to cash assistance, Basic Food, and medical programs for children, pregnant women, and families.

For cash, Basic Food, and family medical programs:

(1) We decide how much of your self-employment income to count by:

(a) Adding together your gross self-employment income and any profit you make from selling your business property or equipment;

(b) Subtracting your business expenses as described in subsection (2) below; and

(c) Dividing the remaining amount of self-employment income by the number of months over which the income will be averaged.

(2) We subtract one hundred dollars as a business expense even if your costs are less than this. If you want us to subtract your actual costs of more than one hundred dollars, you must list and give us proof of your expenses for us to count them. We never allow the following expenses:

(a) Federal, state, and local income taxes;

(b) Money set aside for retirement purposes;

(c) Personal work-related expenses (such as travel to and from work);

(d) Net losses from previous periods;

(e) Depreciation; or

(f) Any amount that is more than the payment you get from a boarder for lodging and meals.

(3) If you have worked at your business for less than a year, we figure your gross self-employment income by averaging:

(a) The income over the period of time the business has been in operation; and

(b) The monthly amount we estimate you will get for the coming year.

(4) For cash and medical assistance, if your self-employment expenses are more than your self-employment income, we do not use this "loss" to reduce income from other self-employment businesses or other sources of income to your assistance unit.

(5) For Basic Food, we use a "loss" from self-employment farming or fishing income to reduce other sources of income only if you meet the following three conditions:

(a) Someone in your assistance unit is a self-employed farmer or fisher;

(b) Your gross yearly income from farming or fishing is or is expected to be at least one thousand dollars; and

(c) Your allowable costs for farming or fishing are more than your income from farming or fishing.

For children's and pregnancy medical programs:

(6) If you have worked long enough at the business to file a federal tax return last year and it represents your current income, we figure your gross self-employment income by:

(a) Adding together your gross self-employment income from your return and any profit you make from selling your business property or equipment;

(b) Subtracting your allowable business expenses except as described in subsection (2) above; and

(c) Averaging the income over the period the income covers.

(7) If you have worked at your business for less than a year or if you did not file a federal tax return in the last year and, the business records represent your current income, we figure your gross self-employment income by:

(a) Adding together your gross self-employment income and any profit you make from selling your business property or equipment over the period of time the business has been in operation within the last year;

(b) Subtracting your allowable business expenses except as described in subsection (2) above; and

(c) Averaging the income we estimate you will get for the coming year.

WAC 388-450-0105 Allocating the income of a financially responsible person included in the assistance unit.

This section applies to TANF/SFA, RCA, and RMA. Refer to WAC 388-408-0055 for the rules concerning the treatment of income of financially responsible person for medical programs. The income of a financially responsible person included in the assistance unit is countable to meet the needs of the assistance unit after the income is reduced by the following:

[Title 388 WAC—p. 903]

(1) Any applicable earned income incentive and work expense or deduction for the financially responsible person in the assistance unit, if that person is employed;

(2) The payment standard amount for the ineligible assistance unit members living in the home; and

(3) An amount not to exceed the department's standard of need for court or administratively ordered current or back support for legal dependents.

WAC 388-450-0106 How does the department count my income if someone in my family cannot get assistance because of their alien status? This section applies to TANF/SFA, RCA, and RMA. We count your income differently if you are applying for medical assistance only. See WAC 388-408-0055.

If you are included in the assistance unit and you are financially responsible for someone, as defined in WAC 388-450-0100, who does not meet the alien requirements described in WAC 388-424-0010, we do not count all of your income. We subtract some of it so that you can use that part to help support the people who cannot get assistance. To figure out how much we count, we take the following seven steps:

(1) We start by only counting fifty percent of your earned income, as defined in WAC 388-450-0030;

(2) We add all of your unearned income, as defined in WAC 388-450-0025.

(3) We subtract the difference between the following payment standards (payment standards can be found in WAC 388-478-0020):

(a) One that includes both eligible assistance unit members and those who cannot get assistance because of their alien status; and

(b) One that includes only the eligible assistance unit members.

(4) We subtract the payment standard for the number of people who are ineligible for reasons other than alien status, as defined in WAC 388-450-0100 (4)(b) through (f).

(5) We subtract any court or administratively ordered child support you pay for legal dependents. This includes both current and back support. The amount cannot be more than the need standard in WAC 388-478-0015 for the number of dependents.

(6) We subtract any employment-related child care expenses you have.

(7) Then, we count whatever is left as unearned income.

Some people cannot get assistance because they do not meet the alien requirements described in WAC 388-424-0010. If you do not meet those requirements but you are financially responsible for someone in the assistance unit, as defined in WAC 388-450-0100, we count some of your income as part of the assistance unit's income. To figure out how much we count, we take the following seven steps:

(1) We start by only counting fifty percent of your earned income, as described in WAC 388-450-0030.

(2) We add all of your unearned income, as described in WAC 388-450-0025.

(3) We subtract the difference between the following payment standards:

(a) One that includes both eligible assistance unit members and those who cannot get assistance because of their alien status; and

WAC 388-450-0140 How does the income of an ineligible assistance unit member affect my eligibility and benefits for Basic Food? The department decides who must be in your assistance unit (AU) under WAC 388-408-0035. If an AU member is ineligible for Basic Food under WAC 388-408-0035, this affects your AU's eligibility and benefits as follows:

(1) We do not count the ineligible member(s) to determine your AU size for the gross monthly income limit, net monthly income limit, or maximum allotment under WAC 388-478-0060.

(2) If an AU member is ineligible because they are disqualified for an intentional program violation (IPV), they failed to meet work requirements under chapter 388-444 WAC, or they are ineligible fleeing felons under WAC 388-442-0010:

(a) We count all of the ineligible member's gross income as a part of your AU's income; and

(b) We count all of the ineligible member's allowable expenses as part of your AU's expenses.

(3) If an AU member is an ineligible ABAWD under WAC 388-444-0030, is ineligible due to their alien status, failed to sign the application to state their citizenship or alien status, or refused to get or provide us a Social Security number:

(a) We allow the twenty percent earned income disregard for the ineligible member's earned income;

(b) We prorate the remaining income of the ineligible member among all the AU members by excluding the ineligible member's share and counting the remainder to the eligible members; and

(c) We divide the ineligible member's allowable expenses evenly among all members of the AU when the ineligible member has income.

WAC 388-450-0155 How does being a sponsored immigrant affect my eligibility for cash, medical, and food assistance programs? (1) The following definitions apply to this section:

(a) "INS" means the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service.

(b) "Sponsor" means a person who agreed to meet the needs of a sponsored immigrant by signing an INS Affidavit of Support form I-864 or I-864A. This includes a sponsor's spouse if the spouse signed the affidavit of support.

(c) "Sponsored immigrant" means a person who must have a sponsor under the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) to be admitted into the United States for residence.

(d) "Deeming" means the department counts a part of the sponsor's income and resources as available to the sponsored immigrant.

(e) "Exempt" means you meet one of the conditions of WAC 388-450-0156. If you are exempt:

- (i) You do not need to provide us information about your sponsor's income and resources; and
- (ii) We do not deem your sponsor's income or resources to you.

(2) If you are a sponsored immigrant and you are not exempt, you must do the following to be eligible for benefits even if your sponsor is not supporting you:

- (a) Give us the name and address of your sponsor;
- (b) Get your sponsor to provide us the information we need about their income and resources; and
- (c) Give us the information and proof we need to decide:
 - (i) If we must deem income to your assistance unit (AU); and
 - (ii) The amount of income we deem to your AU.

(3) If you are not eligible for benefits because we do not have the information we need about your sponsor, we do not delay benefits to the unsponsored people in your AU who are eligible for benefits. We do not count your needs when we decide if your AU is eligible for benefits, but we count:

- (a) All earned or unearned income you have that is not excluded under WAC 388-450-0015; and
- (b) All deductions you would be eligible for under chapter 388-450 WAC.

(4) If you refuse to provide us with the information we need about your sponsor, the other adult members in your AU must provide the information. If the same person sponsored everyone in your AU, your AU is not eligible for benefits until someone in your AU provides us the information we need.

(5) If you are an ineligible member of your AU, but you must be the AU under chapter 388-408 WAC, we do not deem your sponsor's income or resources to the AU.

WAC 388-450-0156 When am I exempt from deeming? (1) If you meet any of the following conditions, you are permanently exempt from deeming and we do not count your sponsor's income or resources against your benefits:

(a) The Immigration and Nationality Act (INA) does not require you to have a sponsor. Immigrants who are not required to have a sponsor include those with the following status with Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS):

- (i) Refugee;
- (ii) Parolee;
- (iii) Asylee;
- (iv) Cuban entrant; or
- (v) Haitian entrant.

(b) You were sponsored by an organization or group as opposed to an individual;

(c) You do not meet the alien status requirements to be eligible for benefits under chapter 388-424 WAC;

(d) You have worked or can get credit for forty qualifying quarters of work under Title II of the Social Security Act. We do not count a quarter of work toward this requirement if the person working received TANF, food stamps, Basic Food, SSI, CHIP, or nonemergency medicaid benefits. We count a quarter of work by the following people toward your forty qualifying quarters:

- (i) Yourself;
- (ii) Each of your parents for the time they worked before you turned eighteen years old (including the time they worked before you were born); and
- (iii) Your spouse if you are still married or your spouse is deceased.

(e) You become a United States (U.S.) Citizen;

(f) Your sponsor is dead; or

(g) If INS or a court decides that you, your child, or your parent was a victim of domestic violence from your sponsor and:

- (i) You no longer live with your sponsor; and
- (ii) Leaving your sponsor caused your need for benefits.

(2) You are exempt from the deeming process while you are in the same AU as your sponsor;

(3) For Basic Food, you are exempt from deeming while you are under age eighteen.

(4) For state family assistance, general assistance, state-funded Basic Food benefits, and state-funded medical assistance for legal immigrants you are exempt from the deeming process if:

(a) Your sponsor signed the affidavit of support more than five years ago;

(b) Your sponsor becomes permanently incapacitated; or

(c) You are a qualified alien according to WAC 388-424-0001 and you:

(i) Are on active duty with the U.S. armed forces or you are the spouse or unmarried dependent child of someone on active duty;

(ii) Are an honorably-discharged veteran of the U.S. armed forces or you are the spouse or unmarried dependent child of a honorably-discharged veteran;

(iii) Were employed by an agency of the U.S. government or served in the armed forces of an allied country during a military conflict between the U.S. and a military opponent; or

(iv) Are a victim of domestic violence and you have petitioned for legal status under the Violence Against Women Act.

(5) If you, your child, or your parent was a victim of domestic violence, you are exempt from the deeming process for twelve months if:

(a) You no longer live with the person who committed the violence; and

(b) Leaving this person caused your need for benefits.

(6) If your AU has income at or below one hundred thirty percent of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL), you are exempt from the deeming process for twelve months. For this rule, we count the following as income to your AU:

(a) Earned and unearned income your AU receives from any source; and

(b) Any noncash items of value such as free rent, commodities, goods, or services you receive from an individual or organization.

(7) If you are exempt from deeming because your AU does not have income over one hundred thirty percent of the FPL, we give the United States Attorney General the following information:

(a) The names of the sponsored people in your AU;

(b) That you are exempt from deeming due to your income; and

(c) Your sponsor's name.

WAC 388-450-0160 How does the department decide how much of my sponsor's income to count against my benefits? (1) We must count some of your sponsor's income as unearned income to your assistance unit (AU) if:

(a) Your sponsor signed the INS affidavit of support form I-864 or I-864A; and

(b) You are not exempt from the deeming process under WAC 388-450-0156.

(2) We take the following steps to decide the monthly amount of your sponsor's income we deem as your income and count against your benefits:

(a) We start with your sponsor's earned and unearned income that is not excluded under WAC 388-450-0015;

(b) If your sponsor's spouse signed the affidavit of support, we add all of the spouse's earned and unearned income that is not excluded under WAC 388-450-0015;

(2009 Ed.)

(c) We subtract twenty percent of the above amount that is earned income under WAC 388-450-0030;

(d) For cash and medical assistance, we subtract the need standard under WAC 388-478-0015. We count the following people who live in your sponsor's home as a part of your sponsor's AU to decide the need standard:

(i) Your sponsor;

(ii) Your sponsor's spouse; and

(iii) Everyone else in their home that they could claim as a dependent for federal income tax purposes.

(e) For food assistance, we subtract the maximum gross monthly income under WAC 388-478-0060. We count the following people that live in your sponsor's home as a part of your sponsor's AU to decide the maximum gross monthly income:

(i) Your sponsor;

(ii) Your sponsor's spouse; and

(iii) Everyone else in their home that they could claim as a dependent for federal income tax purposes.

(f) If you can show that your sponsor has sponsored other people as well, we divide the result by the total number of people who they sponsored.

(3) After we have decided how much income to deem to you, we count the greater amount of the following against your benefits:

(a) The amount of income calculated from deeming; or

(b) The amount of money your sponsor actually gives you for your needs.

WAC 388-450-0162 How does the department count my income to determine if my assistance unit is eligible and calculate the amount of my cash and Basic Food benefits? (1) Countable income is all income your assistance unit has after we subtract the following:

(a) Excluded or disregarded income under WAC 388-450-0015;

(b) For cash assistance, earned income incentives and deductions allowed for specific programs under WAC 388-450-0170 and 388-450-0175;

(c) For Basic Food, deductions allowed under WAC 388-450-0185; and

(d) Allocations to someone outside of the assistance unit under WAC 388-450-0095 through 388-450-0160.

(2) Countable income includes all income that we must deem or allocate from financially responsible persons who are not members of your assistance unit under WAC 388-450-0095 through 388-450-0160.

(3) For cash assistance:

(a) We compare your countable income to the payment standard in WAC 388-478-0020 and 388-478-0030.

(b) You are not eligible for benefits when your assistance unit's countable income is equal to or greater than the payment standard plus any authorized additional requirements.

[Title 388 WAC—p. 907]

(c) Your benefit level is the payment standard and authorized additional requirements minus your assistance unit's countable income.

(4) For Basic Food:

(a) We compare your countable income to the monthly gross and net income standards under WAC 388-478-0060:

(i) If your assistance unit is categorically eligible for Basic Food under WAC 388-414-0001, your assistance unit can have income over the gross or net income standard and still be eligible for benefits.

(ii) All other assistance units must have income at or below the gross and net income standards as required under WAC 388-478-0060 to be eligible for benefits.

(b) Your benefit level is the maximum allotment in WAC 388-478-0060 minus thirty percent of your countable income.

WAC 388-450-0170 TANF/SFA earned income incentive and deduction. This section applies to TANF/SFA, RCA, and medical programs for children, pregnant women, and families except as specified under WAC 388-450-0210.

(1) If a client works, the department only counts some of the income to determine eligibility and benefit level.

(2) We only count fifty percent of your monthly gross earned income. We do this to encourage you to work.

(3) If you pay for care before we approve your benefits, we subtract the amount you pay for those dependent children or incapacitated adults who get cash assistance with you.

(a) The amount we subtract is:

(i) Prorated according to the date you are eligible for benefits;

(ii) Cannot be more than your gross monthly income; and

(iii) Cannot exceed the following for each dependent child or incapacitated adult:

Dependent Care Maximum Deductions

(b) In order to get this deduction:

(i) The person providing the care must be someone other than the parent or stepparent of the child or incapacitated adult; and

(ii) You must verify the expense.

The department gives special deductions to people who receive income from work while receiving general assistance. The deductions apply to general assistance cash benefits only. We allow the following deductions when we determine the amount of your benefits:

(1) We subtract eighty-five dollars plus one half of the remainder of your monthly gross earned income as an incentive to employment.

(2) We also subtract an amount equal to twenty percent of your gross earned income to allow for work expenses.

WAC 388-450-0190 How does the department figure my shelter cost income deduction for Basic Food? The department calculates your shelter cost income deduction as follows:

(1) First, we add up the amounts your assistance unit (AU) must pay each month for shelter. We do not count any overdue amounts, late fees, penalties or mortgage payments you make ahead of time as an allowable cost. We count the following expenses as an allowable shelter cost in the month the expense is due:

(a) Monthly rent, lease, and mortgage payments;

(b) Property taxes;

(c) Homeowner's association or condo fees;

(d) Homeowner's insurance for the building only;

(e) Utility allowance your AU is eligible for under WAC 388-450-0195;

(f) Out-of-pocket repairs for the home if it was substantially damaged or destroyed due to a natural disaster such as a fire or flood;

(g) Expense of a temporarily unoccupied home because of employment, training away from the home, illness, or abandonment caused by a natural disaster or casualty loss if your:

(i) AU intends to return to the home;

(ii) AU has current occupants who are not claiming the shelter costs for Basic Food purposes; and

(iii) AU's home is not being leased or rented during your AU's absence.

(2) Second, we subtract all deductions your AU is eligible for under WAC 388-450-0185 (1) through (5) from your AU's gross income. The result is your AU's net income.

(3) Finally, we subtract one-half of your AU's net income from your AU's total shelter costs. The result is your excess shelter costs. Your AU's shelter cost deduction is the excess shelter costs:

(a) Up to a maximum of four hundred forty-six dollars if no one in your AU is elderly or disabled; or

(b) The entire amount if an eligible person in your AU is elderly or disabled, even if the amount is over four hundred forty-six dollars.

WAC 388-450-0195 Utility allowances for Basic Food programs. (1) For Basic Food, "utilities" include the following:

(a) Heating or cooling fuel;

(b) Electricity or gas;

(c) Water or sewer;

(d) Well or septic tank installation/maintenance;

(e) Garbage/trash collection; and

(f) Telephone service.

(a) If you have heating or cooling costs, you get a standard utility allowance (SUA) that depends on your assistance unit's size.

Assistance Unit (AU) Size	Utility Allowance
1	$352
2	$362
3	$ 373
4	$384

Assistance Unit (AU) Size	Utility Allowance
5	$394

(b) If your AU does not qualify for the SUA and you have any two utility costs listed above, you get a limited utility allowance (LUA) of two hundred seventy-six dollars.

(c) If your AU has only telephone costs and no other utility costs, you get a telephone utility allowance (TUA) of forty-two dollars.

WAC 388-450-0200 Will the medical expenses of elderly persons or individuals with disabilities in my assistance unit be used as an income deduction for Basic Food? (1) If your basic food assistance unit (AU) includes an elderly person or individual with a disability as defined in WAC 388-400-0040, your AU may be eligible for an income deduction for that person's out-of-pocket medical expenses. We allow the deduction for medical expenses over thirty-five dollars each month.

(2) You can use an out-of-pocket medical expense toward this deduction if the expense covers services, supplies, medication, or other medically needed items prescribed by a state-licensed practitioner or other state-certified, qualified, health professional. Examples of expenses you can use for this deduction include those for:

- (a) Medical, psychiatric, naturopathic physician, dental, or chiropractic care;
- (b) Prescribed alternative therapy such as massage or acupuncture;
- (c) Prescription drugs;
- (d) Over the counter drugs;
- (e) Eye glasses;
- (f) Medical supplies other than special diets;
- (g) Medical equipment or medically needed changes to your home;

(h) Shipping and handling charges for an allowable medical item. This includes shipping and handling charges for items purchased through mail order or the internet;

- (i) Long distance calls to a medical provider;
- (j) Hospital and outpatient treatment including:

(i) Nursing care; or

(ii) Nursing home care including payments made for a person who was an assistance unit member at the time of placement.

(k) Health insurance premiums paid by the person including:

- (i) Medicare premiums; and
- (ii) Insurance deductibles and copayments.

(l) Out-of-pocket expenses used to meet a spenddown as defined in WAC 388-519-0010. We do not allow your entire spenddown obligation as a deduction. We allow the expense as a deduction as it is estimated to occur or as the expense becomes due;

(m) Dentures, hearing aids, and prosthetics;

(n) Cost to obtain and care for a seeing eye, hearing, or other specially trained service animal. This includes the cost of food and veterinarian bills. We do not allow the expense of food for a service animal as a deduction if you receive ongoing additional requirements under WAC 388-473-0040 to pay for this need;

(o) Reasonable costs of transportation and lodging to obtain medical treatment or services; and

(p) Attendant care necessary due to age, infirmity, or illness. If your AU provides most of the attendant's meals, we allow an additional deduction equal to a one-person allotment.

(3) There are two types of deductions for out-of-pocket expenses:

(a) One-time expenses are expenses that cannot be estimated to occur on a regular basis. You can choose to have us:

(i) Allow the one-time expense as a deduction when it is billed or due;

(ii) Average the expense through the remainder of your certification period; or

(iii) If your AU has a twenty-four-month certification period, you can choose to use the expense as a one-time deduction, average the expense for the first twelve months of your certification period, or average it for the remainder of our certification period.

(b) Recurring expenses are expenses that happen on a regular basis. We estimate your monthly expenses for the certification period.

(4) We do not allow a medical expense as an income deduction if:

(a) The expense was paid before you applied for benefits or in a previous certification period;

(b) The expense was paid or will be paid by someone else;

(c) The expense was paid or will be paid by the department or another agency;

(d) The expense is covered by medical insurance;

WAC 388-450-0210 Countable income for medical programs. (1) For purposes of medical program eligibility, a client's countable income is income which remains when:

(a) The income cannot be specifically excluded; and

(b) All appropriate deductions and disregards allowed by a specific program, have been applied.

(2) A client's countable income cannot exceed the income standard for the specific medical programs described in WAC 388-478-0065, 388-478-0070, 388-478-0075, 388-478-0080, or 388-513-1305, 388-513-1315, or 388-513-1395 unless the program allows for those limits to be exceeded.

(3) Unless modified by subsection (4) or (6) of this section, the TANF/SFA income rules, as described in this chapter, are used to determine a client's countable income for the following programs:

(a) Family medical program as described in WAC 388-505-0220;

(b) Medical extensions as described in chapter 388-523 WAC;

(c) Pregnant women's program as described in WAC 388-462-0015;

(d) Children's healthcare programs as described in WAC 388-505-0210; and

(e) Psychiatric indigent inpatient (PII) program as described in WAC 388-865-0217.

(4) Exceptions to the TANF/SFA cash assistance methodology apply as follows:

(a) The financial responsibility of relatives when a client is applying for medical for families, children, pregnant women or for the psychiatric indigent inpatient program is specified in WAC 388-408-0055;

(b) Actual work-related child and dependent care expenses, which are the client's responsibility, are income deductions (the limits on this deduction in WAC 388-450-0170 (3) and (4) do not apply);

(c) Court or administratively ordered current or back support paid to meet the needs of legal dependents, are income deductions;

(d) Only income actually contributed to an alien client from the alien's sponsor is countable unless the sponsor signed the affidavit of support I-864 or I-864A. See subsection (5) of this section;

(e) TANF/SFA gross earned income limits as described in WAC 388-450-0165 do not apply;

(2009 Ed.)

(f) The fifty percent earned income deduction is not used to calculate countable income for CN scope of care programs with income levels based upon the federal poverty level (FPL). These programs are listed in subsections (3)(c) and (d). The only work related income deductions for these programs are:

(i) Ninety dollars; and

(ii) Actual work-related child and dependent care expenses, as described in (b) of this subsection; and

(iii) Child support as described in (c) of this subsection.

(g) When determining medically needy (MN) or MN scope of care coverage for children or pregnant women for the programs described in subsections (3)(c) and (d), the exception described in subsection (4)(f) is not used as the MN income standards are not based on the FPL;

(h) For nonrecurring lump sum payments, see chapter 388-455 WAC and WAC 388-475-0300(4);

(i) Diversion cash assistance (DCA), is not countable income;

(j) Effective April 1, 2002, the department will disregard an increase in earned income when:

(i) A family is receiving benefits under the family medical program; and

(ii) The increase occurs during the second or third month of eligibility. The disregard stops the last day of the third month of eligibility for a family medical program.

(5) When an alien's sponsor has signed the affidavit of support I-864 or I-864A, the sponsor's income and resources are counted as described in WAC 388-450-0155, 388-450-0156, 388-450-0160, and 388-470-0060.

(6) Except when this state has adopted more liberal rules, SSI income rules are used to determine a client's countable income for the following programs:

(a) SSI-related CN or MN; and

(b) Medicare savings programs. Refer to chapter 388-475 WAC.

WAC 388-450-0215 How does the department estimate my assistance unit's income to determine my eligibility and benefits? (1) We decide if your assistance unit (AU) is eligible for benefits and calculate your monthly benefits based on an estimate of your AU's gross monthly income and expenses. This is known as prospective budgeting.

(2) We use your current, past, and future circumstances for a representative estimate of your monthly income.

(3) We may need proof of your circumstances to ensure our estimate is reasonable. This may include documents, statements from other people, or other proof as explained in WAC 388-490-0005.

(4) We use one of two methods to estimate income:

[Title 388 WAC—p. 911]

(a) Anticipating monthly income (AM): With this method, we base the estimate on the actual income we expect your AU to receive in the month (see subsection (5)); and

(b) Averaging income (CA): With this method, we add the total income we expect your AU to receive for a period of time and divide by the number of months in the period (see subsection (6)).

(5) Anticipating monthly income: We must use the anticipating monthly method:

(a) For the month you apply for benefits unless:

(i) We are determining eligibility for children's medical programs as listed in WAC 388-505-0210 (3) through (6) or pregnancy medical as listed in WAC 388-462-0015. For children's and pregnancy medical we can use either method; or

(ii) You are paid less often than monthly (for example: you are paid quarterly or annually). If you are paid less often than monthly, we average your income for the month you apply. Section (6) explains how we average your income.

(b) When we estimate income for anyone in your AU, if you or anyone in your AU receive SSI-related medical benefits under chapter 388-475 WAC.

(c) When we must allocate income to someone who is receiving SSI-related medical benefits under chapter 388-475 WAC.

(d) When you are a destitute migrant or destitute seasonal farmworker under WAC 388-406-0021. In this situation, we must use anticipating monthly (AM) for all your AU's income.

(e) To budget SSI or social security benefits even if we average other sources of income your AU receives.

(6) Averaging income: When we average your income, we consider changes we expect for your AU's income. We determine a monthly amount of your income based on how often you are paid:

(a) If you are paid weekly, we multiply your expected income by 4.3;

(b) If you are paid every other week, we multiply your expected income by 2.15;

(c) In most cases if you receive your income other than weekly or every other week, we estimate your income over your certification period by:

(i) Adding the total income for representative period of time;

(ii) Dividing by the number of months in the timeframe; and

(iii) Using the result as a monthly average.

(d) If you receive your yearly income over less than a year because you are self employed or work under a contract, we average this income over the year unless you are:

(i) Paid on an hourly or piecework basis; or

(ii) A migrant or seasonal farmworker under WAC 388-406-0021.

(7) If we used the anticipating monthly income method for the month you applied for benefits, we may average your income for the rest of your certification period if we do not have to use this method for any other reason in section (5).

(8) If you report a change in your AU's income, and we expect the change to last through the end of the next month after you reported it, we update the estimate of your AU's income based on this change.

(9) If your actual income is different than the income we estimated, we don't make you repay an overpayment under chapter 388-410 WAC or increase your benefits unless you meet one of the following conditions:

(a) You provided incomplete or false information; or

(b) We made an error in calculating your benefits.

WAC 388-450-0225 How are my assistance unit's benefits calculated for the first month I am eligible for cash assistance?

(1) To calculate your AU's cash benefit for your first month's benefits, we compare your AU's countable income to the payment standard as described in WAC 388-450-0162.

(2) Even if your AU has countable income over the payment standard, you may still receive additional requirements.

(3) If your countable income is less than the payment standard, we prorate your grant amount based on the date you are eligible.

(4) We do not prorate any approved additional requirements.

(5) We prorate your grant by:

(a) Dividing your AU's grant amount by the number of days in the first month of eligibility; and

(b) Multiplying the result in (5)(a) of this section by the number of days from the date of eligibility to the last day of the month.

WAC 388-450-0230 What income does the department count in the month I apply for Basic Food when my assistance unit is destitute?

(1) If your assistance unit (AU) meets the requirements of a destitute migrant or seasonal farmworker under WAC 388-406-0021, we may exclude some of your income in the month you apply for Basic Food.

(2) In the month of application, we:

(a) Count only income your AU received between the first of the month and the date you apply for Basic Food; and

(b) Disregard any income from a new source that you expect to receive after the date you apply for Basic Food.

WAC 388-450-0245 When are my benefits suspended? (1) For TANF/SFA, RCA, GA and Basic Food, "suspend" means the department stops your benefits for one month.

(2) We suspend your AU's benefits for one month when your expected total countable income under WAC 388-450-0162:

(a) Is more than the dollar limit for your AU; and

(b) If over these limits for only that one month.
