DEPARTMENT OF ECOLOGY

[Order 21-04—Filed July 20, 2021, 8:06 a.m.]

Subject of Possible Rule Making: To implement the Transportation fuel—Clean fuels program (E3SHB 1091), chapter 317, Laws of 2021, ecology is beginning rule making to:

- Add a new chapter 173-424 WAC, Clean fuels program rule.
- Amend chapter 173-455 WAC, Air quality fee rule.

The new rule may:

- Establish carbon intensity standards for transportation fuels used in Washington.
- Assign compliance obligations to fuels with carbon intensities that exceed the standard.
- Establish compliance methods including assigning credits to fuels that have carbon intensities below the standard.

This rule making will also consider amendments to chapter 173-455 WAC to establish the process for setting fees to recover the cost of developing and implementing the program.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: Transportation fuel—Clean fuels program (E3SHB 1091), chapter 317, Laws of 2021.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: Transportation is the largest source of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions in Washington, contributing about forty-five percent of statewide total GHG emissions. Washington enacted the Transportation fuel—Clean fuels program (E3SHB 1091), chapter 317, Laws of 2021, to reduce emissions of GHGs and conventional air pollutants from transportation and to spur economic development through deployment of clean fuel technology. As a result, Washington joins California, Oregon, and British Columbia, which already have similar clean (low carbon) fuel programs.

The law directs ecology to adopt rules to start the program by January 1, 2023, that reduce the carbon intensity of transportation fuels used in Washington by twenty percent below the 2017 levels by 2038. Carbon intensity accounts for GHG emissions throughout the full life cycle of the fuel (i.e., GHG emissions from feedstock production and transport, fuel production and transport, and use of the fuel) per unit energy of the fuel.

The law allows ecology to charge fees to recover the direct and indirect costs of developing and implementing the program, including the associated fuel supply forecasting work of the department of commerce (commerce).

Other Federal and State Agencies that Regulate this Subject and the Process Coordinating the Rule with These Agencies: The law requires commerce to develop a periodic fuel supply forecast, and directs ecology to enter into an inter-agency agreement with commerce to conduct biennial workload analyses of the program to serve as the basis for fee assessment. These workload analyses will occur outside of the rule-making process.

The law also directs ecology to consult with commerce and the governor's office in declaring and terminating deferrals from compliance with the carbon intensity standard in the rule.

The law requires ecology to harmonize the clean fuels program with similar programs in California and Oregon.

Process for Developing New Rule: Ecology will follow the standard process for the adoption of rules under the Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 34.05 RCW).

Interested parties can participate in the decision to adopt the new rule and formulation of the proposed rule before publication by contacting Debebe Dererie, Department of Ecology, Air Quality Program, P.O. Box 47600, Olympia, WA 98504-7600, mobile 360-688-8103, office 360-407-7558, for Washington relay service or TTY call 711 or 877-833-6341, email debebe.dererie@ecy.wa.gov, website <https://ecology.wa.gov/Regulations-Permits/Laws-rules-rulemaking/Rule-making/WAC-173-424-455>, <http://listserv.ecology.wa.gov/scripts/wa-ECOLOGY.exe?SUBED1=WA-CLEAN-FUELS-UPDATE&A=1>.

Additional comments: Interested parties can stay informed about the rule making and public involvement opportunities as described above. Ecology will extend an offer for government-to-government consultation with tribal governments during each phase of rule development.

WSR 21-15-098*PREPROPOSAL STATEMENT OF INQUIRY
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Filed July 20, 2021, 8:49 a.m.]

Subject of Possible Rule Making: As a result of recently passed legislation (ESB 5372, chapter 104, Laws of 2021), the department is establishing in rule a voluntary program to certify hemp extract. Along with detailing the process to certify a hemp processor's compliance with Washington's inspection and good manufacturing practices requirements, the department will also set appropriate cost-recovery fees necessary to administer this program in rule.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 69.07.020(4), 15.130.120(2); and chapter 104, Laws of 2021 (ESB 5372).

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: The new law defines "hemp extract" as a substance or compound intended for human ingestion that is derived from, or made by, processing hemp. While hemp extract is not currently an approved food ingredient at the federal level or in Washington state, the legislature directed the agency to create a voluntary certification process for hemp processors who manufacture hemp extract products for use as a food ingredient in states that do allow its use as a food ingredient. This will help to facilitate interstate shipments of hemp extract products to other states which have requirements for hemp processors to be licensed or registered for this purpose. Hemp extract producers who want to achieve voluntary certification must comply with inspection and sanitation requirements established in rule.

Other Federal and State Agencies that Regulate this Subject and the Process Coordinating the Rule with These Agencies: None. Hemp extract products remain prohibited at the federal and Washington state level by the Food and Drug Administration as a food or food ingredient. The department's food safety and hemp programs will coordinate to the extent necessary to minimize regulatory overlap.

Process for Developing New Rule: Department staff will discuss proposed amendments with affected stakeholders. Affected stakeholders will also have an opportunity to submit written comments on the proposed rules during the public comment period and will be able to present oral testimony at the public hearing.

Interested parties can participate in the decision to adopt the new rule and formulation of the proposed rule before publication by contacting David Smith, Food Safety Program Manager, 1111 Washington Street S.E., P.O. WSR 21-15-105*PREPROPOSAL STATEMENT OF INQUIRY
STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

[Filed July 20, 2021, 12:14 p.m.]

Subject of Possible Rule Making: Chapter 246-101 WAC, Notifiable conditions, the state board of health (board) is considering amending this chapter to establish and clarify requirements for novel coronavirus (SARS-CoV-2), coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19), reporting by health care providers, health care facilities, laboratories, and local health jurisdictions consistent with the board's emergency rule, WAC 246-101-017, and Public Law 116-136, § 18115(a), the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act. The board may also consider revisions to clarify the instances in which health care providers and health care facilities must report a notifiable condition to a local health jurisdiction or the department of health (DOH) and other editorial revisions as necessary.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 43.20.050 (2)(f).

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: The board will consider amending chapter 246-101 WAC, Notifiable conditions, to ensure all federally required data components continue to be reported for COVID-19 tests, support statewide COVID-19 disease surveillance, and allow the governmental public health system to identify appropriate public health interventions through the end of the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond.

The CARES Act requires "every laboratory that performs or analyzes a test that is intended to detect SARS-CoV-2 or to diagnose a possible case of COVID-19" to report the results from each such test to the secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). In addition, the act authorizes the secretary to prescribe the form, manner, timing, and frequency of such reporting. HHS released laboratory data reporting guidance for COVID-19 that specifies standards for reporting laboratory testing data including test results, relevant patient demographic details, and additional information to improve the public health response to COVID-19. Per the guidance, these data must be collected and reported to state or local public health departments using existing reporting channels, in accordance with state law or policies, starting August 1, 2020, through the end of the public health emergency as declared by the secretary.

In September 2020, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services published an interim final rule in Federal Register 54826, Volume 85, Number 171, to update requirements for reporting SARS-CoV-2 test results by laboratories. The interim final rule states all laboratories conducting SARS-CoV-2 testing and reporting patient-specific results, including hospital laboratories, nursing homes, and other facilities conducting testing for COVID-19, who fail to report information required under the CARES Act will be subject to monetary penalties. The interim final rules became effective September 2, 2020.

The board adopted emergency rules as WAC 246-101-017 (under WSR 20-16-121, 20-24-081, and most recently 21-08-009) to designate COVID-19 as a notifiable condition and require reporting of essential COVID-19 testing and patient demographic data aligned with the CARES Act. To ensure consistency in reporting between regulated entities under chapter 246-101 WAC, COVID-19 reporting was required from health care providers, health care facilities, laboratories, and local health jurisdictions.

In March 2021, the board adopted permanent revisions to chapter 246-101 WAC. Among these revisions, COVID-19 is designated as a notifiable condition, and many, but not all, of the HHS data components are required reporting for health care providers, health care facilities, laboratories, and local health jurisdictions. These revisions go into effect January 31, 2022.

The board may consider integrating COVID-19 reporting requirements and provisions consistent with the board's emergency rule, the CARES Act, and HHS guidance. These include, but are not limited to, adding remaining reportable data components; clarifying requirements for entities conducting point of care testing or rapid screening testing; authorizing local health jurisdictions to forward cases to DOH for data entry; authorizing certain waivers by a local health officer; and clarifying reporting timeframes.

The board may also consider revisions to clarify the instances in which health care providers and health care facilities must report a notifiable condition to a local health jurisdiction or DOH, and other editorial revisions as necessary.

Process for Developing New Rule: The board will use a collaborative rule-making approach. The board will consult partner health agencies, the regulated community, and other interested parties in drafting the rule. The board will keep interested parties informed of the rule making through email, the board's listserv and rule-making website, and notices in the Washington State Register. Interested parties will have opportunities to provide comments throughout the rule-making process, including informal review of the draft rules, formal review and comment on the proposed rules, and providing testimony at the board's public hearing.

Interested parties can participate in the decision to adopt the new rule and formulation of the proposed rule before publication by contacting Kaitlyn Donahoe, P.O. Box 47990, Olympia, WA 98504-7990, phone 360-584-6737, fax 360-236-4088, TTY 711, email NotifiableConditions@sboh.wa.gov, website <https://sboh.wa.gov>; or Samantha Pskowski, P.O. Subject of Possible Rule Making: WAC 246-811-010, 246-811-030, 246-811-035, 246-811-990, and creating new section(s) in chapter 246-811 WAC, Substance use disorder professionals and substance use disorder professionals trainees. The department of health (department) is considering updating these sections and possibly adding new sections to implement EHB 1311 and develop apprenticeship as a pathway to meeting educational requirements for substance use disorder professional (SUDP) certification.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: EHB 1311 (chapter 165, Laws of 2021); and RCW 18.205.060.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: The department is considering amending WAC 246-811-010, 246-811-030, 246-811-035, and 246-811-990; and creating new rule section(s) to implement recent legislation. EHB 1311 is intended to enable more people to become SUDPs by allowing creation of SUDP apprenticeships, a noncollege pathway to obtaining an SUDP credential. Amending listed sections and possibly adding additional sections to chapter 246-811 WAC will align department rules with statutory changes. Rule making to create a framework and educational standards for SUDP apprenticeships will provide clarity for licensees, apprenticeship programs, and the public. Additionally, it will allow the department to consistently uphold standards that protect patient safety.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Filed July 21, 2021, 8:47 a.m.]

Subject of Possible Rule Making: Chapter 16-325 WAC, Seed potato isolation district; and chapter 16-482 WAC, Seed potato quarantine. In response to a petition received from the Washington seed potato commission, the department is considering changes to the seed potato rules in order to strengthen protections for the seed potato isolation district (isolation district) located in a portion of Whatcom County. In consideration of the petition, the department is considering amending the two identified chapters to:

1. Clarify definitions and requirements that all potato plantings within the isolation district, in excess of one acre must be enrolled in the seed potato certification program described in chapter 16-324 WAC;
2. Add a requirement that all potato plantings within the isolation district be certified seed potatoes;
3. Add a requirement that all lots of commercial seed potatoes entering the isolation district for planting or further sale, must be tested and found negative for bacterial ring rot by an approved laboratory at origin;
4. Establish a requirement and timeframe in which the receiver must notify the department of all lots of commercial seed potatoes entering the isolation district;
5. Require shipments of potatoes be held for twenty-four hours after notification is sent to allow the department time to contact the receiver for inspection;
6. Add a violation section regarding the disposition of material shipped into the isolation district in violation of these chapters; and
7. Add language in the seed potato quarantine rule (WAC 16-482-010) that commercial potatoes entering the seed potato isolation district are also subject to the requirements under chapter 16-325 WAC.

As the department moves forward with the requested changes, additional changes may be identified to increase clarity and ensure the rules conform to current industry practices.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 15.14.015, 15.15.010, 17.24.011, and 17.24-041.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: The production of high quality seed potatoes within Washington requires conditions that are as free as possible from insect pests and plant diseases. When the production of other potatoes (plants or plant parts of Solanum tuberosum) is intermixed with or in close proximity to a seed potato production area, there is an increased risk of introducing pests and diseases. As a protection, the seed potato isolation district was established in Whatcom County in 1998 and requires any potato production in excess of one acre, within its boundaries to be enrolled in the seed potato certification program. Seed potatoes are currently defined as vegetatively propagated tubers of Solanum tuberosum used for propagation or production. To further strengthen the protections of the district, the department is considering adding research and breeding lots to the definition of seed potatoes. Additionally, the department is also considering adding a requirement that any potatoes planted within the isolation district of less than one acre must be planted with certified seed potatoes.

Rule amendments are also being considered which would bolster protections for the seed potato isolation district by adding testing requirements for bacterial ring rot by an approved laboratory and prior notification (potentially within forty-eight hours) to the Washington state department of agriculture of all potatoes entering the isolation district, as well as disposition of material shipped into the isolation district in violation of this chapter.

Process for Developing New Rule: Department staff will discuss any proposed amendments with affected stakeholder groups. Affected stakeholders will also have an opportunity to submit written comments on the proposed rules during the public comment period and will be able to present oral testimony at the public hearings.

Interested parties can participate in the decision to adopt the new rule and formulation of the proposed rule before publication by contacting Brad White, Assistant Director, Plant Protection Division, Washington State Department of Agriculture, P.O. Subject of Possible Rule Making: Chapter 392-194 WAC, School personnel certificate fees.

Statutes Authorizing the Agency to Adopt Rules on this Subject: RCW 28A.410.062.

Reasons Why Rules on this Subject may be Needed and What They Might Accomplish: The office of superintendent of public instruction (OSPI) is considering rule making concerning fees for processing initial educator and paraprofessional certificate applications and subsequent actions. The proposed revisions being considered are needed to adjust the processing fee to adequately support and maintain the operations of OSPI's professional certification office. Current staffing is not adequate to sufficiently process educator applications in a timely manner to meet school district and applicant needs.

Process for Developing New Rule: OSPI's professional certification office has undergone monthly and annual revenue and spending projection plan reviews to determine the sustainability of the office duties under current fees. Early solicitation of public comments and recommendations respecting new, amended, or repealed rules, and consideration of the comments and recommendations in the course of drafting rules.
