1 AN ACT Relating to the center for volunteerism and citizen service;
2 and amending RCW 43.150.010, 43.150.020, 43.150.030, 43.150.040,
3 43.150.050, 43.150.060, and 43.150.070.

4 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

5 Sec. 1. RCW 43.150.010 and 1982 1st ex.s. c 11 s 1 are each
6 amended to read as follows:

7 (1) The legislature finds that:

8 (a) Large numbers of Washington's citizens are actively engaged in 9 carrying forward the ethic of service and voluntary activities that
10 benefit their citizens, their communities, and the entire state;

11 (b) ~~((Volunteers, working on their own and with agencies and~~
12 ~~organizations, are involved in the development and enhancement of all~~
13 ~~areas of community service and activity;~~

1 ~~(e) The~~) This contribution (~~((thus made))~~) continues to provide(~~((s))~~)
2 the equivalent of hundreds of millions of dollars in services that
3 might otherwise create a need for additional tax collections;

4 ~~((d) The state itself, through the programs and services of its~~
5 ~~agencies as well as through the provisions of law and rule making, has~~
6 ~~a substantial impact on volunteer efforts and programs;~~

7 ~~(e) Public and private agencies depend in large measure on the~~
8 ~~efforts of volunteers for the accomplishment of their missions and~~
9 ~~actively seek to increase these efforts;~~

10 ~~(f) Business, industry, and labor in Washington state are~~
11 ~~increasingly interested in opportunities for community service;~~

12 ~~(g) Many needs remain which could and should be met by volunteers~~
13 ~~working on their own and through local and state wide organizations,~~
14 ~~both governmental and private, nonprofit agencies;~~

15 ~~(h) Many Washington citizens have yet to become fully involved in~~
16 ~~the life of their communities;~~

17 ~~(i) The opportunity exists to encourage greater and more effective~~
18 ~~involvement of volunteers in the provision of needed community~~
19 ~~services; and~~

20 ~~(j) Planned and coordinated recognition, information, training, and~~
21 ~~technical assistance for volunteer efforts through a state wide center~~
22 ~~for voluntary action have been proven to be effective means of~~
23 ~~multiplying the resources volunteers bring to the needs of their~~
24 ~~communities.)~~)

25 (c) Many Washington citizens have yet to become fully involved in 26 the life of their communities; many societal needs exist that could and
27 should be met by new citizen service initiatives;

28 (d) The state of Washington needs to continue to encourage and 29 expand the ethic of civic responsibility among its citizenry, through

1 individuals working on their own, and through local and state-wide
2 organizations, both governmental and private and nonprofit agencies;

3 (e) This ethic of citizen service benefits those who serve and
4 those who receive services; in both cases there is the betterment of
5 all Washington communities;

6 (f) Public and private agencies depend in large measure on the
7 efforts of volunteers for the accomplishment of their missions and
8 actively seek to increase these efforts;

9 (g) State agencies can and should extend their service delivery
10 programs through the increased use of and support for volunteers;

11 (h) The national and community service act of 1990 provides an
12 opportunity for Washington to support citizen service and volunteer
13 activities in Washington;

14 (i) Business, industry, communities, schools, and labor in
15 Washington state are increasingly interested in opportunities for 16 community service and in developing the volunteer and service ethic;

17 (j) While providing both tangible and intangible benefits,
18 volunteers in turn need respect and support for their efforts;

19 (k) The state itself, through the programs and services of its
20 agencies as well as through the provisions of law and rulemaking, can
21 and should provide a primary role and focus for encouraging the ethic
22 of citizen service and support for volunteer efforts and programs;

23 (l) Planned and coordinated recognition, information, training, and
24 technical assistance for volunteer and citizen service efforts through 25 a state-wide center for voluntary action have been proven to be 26 effective means of multiplying the resources volunteers bring to the 27 needs of their communities; and

28 (m) It is important that Washington state position itself to raise
29 volunteerism to the highest attainable levels, and along with the

1 private sector, become a voice in the role citizen service will take in
2 providing solutions to societal needs.

3 (2) Therefore, the legislature, in recognition of these findings,
4 enacts the center for ((Voluntary Action)) volunteerism and citizen
5 service act to ensure that the state of Washington actively promotes 6 the ethic of service and makes every appropriate effort to encourage
7 effective involvement of individuals in their communities and of
8 volunteers who supplement the services of private, nonprofit community
9 agencies and organizations, agencies of local government throughout the 10 state, and the state government.

14 Action)) volunteerism and citizen service act.
