EFFECT: Tuition rate increases for each academic year of the 1997-99 biennium are authorized as follows:

For all institutions except the Cheney campus of Eastern Washington University:

For all student categories, tuition will increase by the five-year rolling average of per capita personal income, or by four percent, whichever is the lower amount.

For resident law program students and for all nonresident students, institutions may increase tuition by up to six percent in addition to the increase authorized for all student categories.

For Eastern Washington University:

For classes and programs at the Cheney campus, the university's governing board is authorized to increase resident student tuition by up to the five-year rolling average of per capita personal income, or by four percent, whichever is the lower amount, and to increase nonresident student tuition by up to six percent in addition to any increase for resident students.

For all institutions:

General fund-state support for new enrollments will not be adjusted up or down for tuition increases that are above or below the five-year rolling average of per capita personal income, or are above or below a four percent adjustment, whichever is the lower amount. State appropriations for financial aid will equal twenty four percent of any change in revenue resulting from a tuition and fee change.
