Passed House: 2/28/97, 96-0;

Passed House: 1/14/98, 95-0.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATION

Majority Report: The substitute bill be substituted therefor and the substitute bill do pass. Signed by 12 members: Representatives D. Schmidt, Chairman; D. Sommers, Vice Chairman; Scott, Ranking Minority Member; Doumit; Dunn; Dunshee; Murray; Reams; Smith; L. Thomas; Wensman and Wolfe.

Staff: Bronwyn Mauldin (786-7093).

Background: The Governor and the Office of Financial Management (OFM) are required to review state boards and commissions, and in every odd-numbered year submit to the Legislature a recommended list of boards and commissions to be terminated or consolidated. In 1993-95, Washington had 478 boards and commissions, down from a high of 569 in 1991-93. Each board or commission operates in conjunction with and reports to a particular state agency or the governor's office.

Summary of Bill: Twelve boards and commissions are abolished. These are the Health Care Assistants Advisory Committee, Washington State Council on Vocational Education, Criminal Justice Services Advisory Council, Lower Columbia Bi-State Water Quality Steering Committee, and Public Information Access Policy Task Force. In addition, the Community Diversification Program Advisory Committee to the Department of Community Trade and Economic Development is abolished. Six regional committees advising the Secretary of Corrections on locations for new work release programs are also abolished.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 3, 1997.

Effective Date: The bill contains an emergency clause and takes effect on July 1, 1997.

Testimony For: Eliminating these boards and commissions will result in an estimated savings of $300,000. Most of the boards and commissions to be abolished are no longer required by law, have completed their work, or do not meet often.

Merging the Funeral Directors and Embalmers Board with the Cemetery Board will make regulation and oversight by the Department of Licensing more efficient, and saves money for the government. Merging them reflects the current trend of consolidating the two types of businesses in the death industry. It also gives consumers a single place to turn to when they have problems.

Testimony Against: The Funeral Directors and Embalmers Board should not be merged with the Cemetery Board because one licenses professionals while the other licenses companies. Both boards are self-supporting, and abolishing them will only save the state about $9,000 per year.

The Collection Agency Board should not be abolished because the industry needs a knowledgeable disciplinary board. The board is self-supporting through license fees.

The Local Government Advisory Committee should not be abolished because it sends the wrong signal to the new director of the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development.
