15 . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act).

16            (2) For the purpose of this section, "temporary worker housing" has 17 the same meaning as provided in RCW 70.114A.020.

1 (3) This section is applicable to temporary worker housing as of 2 the date of the final adoption of the temporary worker building code by 3 the department of health under section 2 of this act.

4 NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.114A
5 RCW to read as follows:

6 (1) The department shall adopt by rule a temporary worker building
7 code in conformance with the temporary worker housing standards
8 developed under the Washington industrial safety and health act, 9 chapter 49.17 RCW, the rules adopted by the state board of health under 10 RCW 70.54.110, and the following guidelines:

11 (a) The temporary worker building code shall provide construction
12 standards for shelter and associated facilities that are safe, secure, 13 and capable of withstanding the stresses and loads associated with 14 their designated use, and to which they are likely to be subjected by 15 the elements;

16 (b) The temporary worker building code shall permit and facilitate

19 (c) In developing the temporary worker building code the department
20 of health shall consider:

21 (i) The need for dormitory type housing for groups of unrelated

28 heating and insulation appropriate to the type of structure and length 29 and season of occupancy;

30 (f) The temporary worker building code shall include standards for 31 temporary worker housing that are to be used only during periods when 32 no auxiliary heat is required; and

33 (g) The temporary worker building code shall provide that persons
34 operating temporary worker housing consisting of four or fewer dwelling 35 units or combinations of dwelling units, dormitories, or spaces that 36 house nine or fewer occupants may elect to comply with the provisions 37 of the temporary worker building code, and that unless the election is

1 (2) In adopting the temporary worker building code, the department
2 shall make exceptions to the codes listed in RCW 19.27.031 and chapter

8 (3) The temporary worker building code authorized and required by 9 this section shall be enforced by the department.

27 are structurally sound and that the plumbing, heating, electrical, and 28 other components thereof are reasonably safe. The rules shall be 29 reasonably consistent with recognized and accepted principles of safety 30 and structural soundness, and in adopting the rules the department
31 shall consider, so far as practicable, the standards and specifications
32 contained in the uniform building, plumbing, and mechanical codes, 33 including the barrier free code and the Washington energy code as 34 adopted by the state building code council pursuant to chapter 19.27A
