Brief Title: Extending the long arm statute to district court civil cases.

HB 2499 - DIGEST

(DIGEST AS ENACTED)

Provides that every district judge having authority to hear a particular case may issue civil process, including writs of execution, attachment, garnishment, and replevin, in and to any place, including out of state service, as permitted by statute or rule. This act does not authorize service of process pursuant to RCW 4.28.180 in actions filed pursuant to chapter 12.40 RCW or in civil infraction matters.
