World War II began in 1939 and by its end had involved many nations including the United States, France, Great Britain, the Soviet Union, Germany, Italy, and Japan. The war ended in Europe on May 8, 1945, with the surrender of Germany, and in the Pacific on September 2, 1945, with the surrender of Japan.

In 1993, Congress passed and the President signed legislation authorizing the construction of a national World War II Memorial in Washington DC. The memorial will be the first national memorial dedicated to the armed forces serving in World War II.
