Background:

In 1998, the state began to receive funds from the federal Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant (JAIBG). These funds may be used for specific purposes as defined by federal laws and rules.

Federal law requires states receiving grants to deposit the grant moneys into a trust account that retains its own interest.

Summary of Bill:

The Juvenile Accountability Incentive Account is set up as an appropriated account in the custody of the State Treasurer. Moneys received from the federal Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grant must be deposited in the account.

The account will retain its own interest earnings, rather than having the interest be distributed to the state general fund.
