SENATE COMMITTEE ON NATURAL RESOURCES, PARKS & SHORELINES

Staff: Ross Antipa (786-7413)

Background: The Department of Fish and Wildlife manages over 800,000 acres of wildlife habitat, many with improved access areas for parking, and over 600 boating and fishing access sites on Washington's lakes, rivers, and streams. These lands are open to the public for such activities as hunting, fishing, and wildlife observation. Prior to April 1999, a person wishing to use these lands that did not purchase a hunting or fishing license was required to purchase a $10 conservation license. In 1998, the Legislature eliminated the personally held conservation license, and replaced it with a vehicle specific lands access permit.

All persons using one of the department's 249 approved access facilities, such as a parking area, or a boat launch, must have a vehicle lands access permit (or decal) displayed on their vehicle. The permit is issued by the department, and is in the form of a permanently affixed decal. The decal must then be displayed in the rear window of the user's vehicle.

Any person purchasing a hunting, fishing, trapping, or combination license is issued one decal at no additional cost. If a person wishes to access department land without purchasing a hunting, fishing, trapping, or combination license, he or she may purchase a decal from any of the department's authorized license dealers for the cost of $10. Decals are not transferable between different vehicles. Any person who has received a decal with their sporting license, or has purchased a decal individually, may purchase additional decals at a reduced price for each vehicle they can prove to the department they own. The cost of additional decals is $5 each.

Failure to display the vehicle lands access permit, or decal, while on department-managed land is punishable by a fine of $66.

Summary of Bill: The Department of Fish and Wildlife no longer issues its vehicle lands use permits in the form of a permanently affixed decal. Instead, the permit is issued in a form allowing it to be temporarily displayed from the interior of a motor vehicle.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.
