

HB 2287 - DIGEST

(SUBSTITUTED FOR - SEE 1ST SUB)

Establishes the Travis alert act.

Requires the department of health, in collaboration with the department of social and health services, the Washington state patrol, the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, and the superintendent of public instruction, to design and print a decal colored safety orange that can be placed on the outside or inside of an entrance to a building or on the windshield or license plate of a vehicle to provide notice to first responders that a person with a disability may be present in the building or vehicle.

Requires the adjutant general, through the state enhanced 911 coordinator, and in collaboration with the department of health, the department of social and health services, the Washington state patrol, the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, and other individuals and entities at the discretion of the adjutant general, to assess the resources, capabilities, and procedures available or required in order to include as part of the enhanced 911 emergency service the ability to allow an immediate display on the screen of the orange decal indicating that a person with a disability may be present at the scene of an emergency and other information.
