Background:

Port Districts.

Port districts are special purpose districts with the authority to impose property tax levies. Port districts may take up an entire single county, or may be less than countywide. A port district is authorized to acquire, construct, maintain, operate, develop, and regulate harbor improvements, commercial development, and rail, motor vehicle, water, and air transfers and terminal facilities.

Formation of Countywide Port Districts.

Countywide port districts may be created by a ballot proposition that is submitted directly to county voters for their approval or rejection if either: (1) the county legislative authority adopts a resolution to submit a ballot proposition; or (2) county voters sign a petition allowing for a ballot proposition to be submitted. The number of signatures needed on the petition must be equal to at least 10 percent of the number of county voters who voted in the last general county election. The petition must be filed with the county auditor. Once it is certified, the county auditor returns it to the county legislative authority, who either submits the proposition at the next general election or calls a special election.

There are three commissioners in each port district. The initial port commissioners must be elected at the same election as when the ballot proposition is submitted to voters to authorize the creation of the port district. There is no primary election and the individuals with the majority of votes will be the initial port commissioners.

Summary of Substitute Bill:

Prior to December 31, 2020, a county with no port district may create a countywide port district by a ballot proposition submitted to the voters authorizing the port district to be created. In these elections, all of the procedures to form a countywide port district must be followed, except that the initial port commissioners are not required to be elected at the same election as when the ballot proposition is submitted to voters. Rather, the initial commissioners may be elected at the next general election. In addition, a countywide port district created by a ballot proposition submitted to voters may not levy taxes until after the election of the port commissioners for that port district. This provision expires on December 31, 2020.

Substitute Bill Compared to Original Bill:

The substitute bill prohibits a port district that is created by a ballot proposition submitted to the voters from levying taxes until after the election of the initial port commissioners.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Effective Date of Substitute Bill: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of the session in which the bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) This is a narrowly crafted bill. There are many private companies and local governments in Spokane working together to try to create a port authority within Spokane county. Port authorities support local economies by developing and maintaining industrial properties, transportation facilities, and economic development opportunities. A split election, where voters authorize a port authority in one election and port commissioners in the next, would avoid any distraction in the election of port commissioners. About 30 years ago, Spokane tried to create a port commission under the existing statute only to have the port commissioners vow to eliminate the port authority. In 2014 the Legislature passed the same split election provision for a less-than-countywide port authority election, and this is for a countywide district.

(Opposed) None.
