AN ACT Relating to the creation of the Washington state public bank; amending RCW 39.58.050, 39.59.040, 42.56.270, 42.56.400, 43.10.067, and 43.84.080; reenacting and amending RCW 43.56.400; adding a new section to chapter 43.190 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 39.58 RCW; adding a new chapter to Title 43 RCW; creating a new section; providing an effective date; and providing an expiration date.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. FINDINGS AND INTENT. The legislature finds that there exists in the state of Washington billions of dollars of critical local projects for the planning, acquisition, construction, repair, replacement, rehabilitation, or improvement of streets and roads, bridges, water systems, storm and sanitary sewage systems, solid waste handling, communications systems, housing, and other public infrastructure and economic development projects. But while some local governments successfully borrow for infrastructure and economic development capital projects through private sector lenders and the bond markets, other government entities do not have the same access to capital at attractive rates to be used in building out public infrastructure.
It is the policy of the state of Washington to encourage self-reliance by local and tribal governments in meeting their public works and economic development needs, and to assist in the financing of critical public works and economic development projects by providing effective mechanisms for making and financing loans and providing financing guarantees that do not create state debt. It is also the policy of the state to provide technical assistance to government entities for these projects.

It is further the policy of the state to foster and promote by all reasonable means the provision of adequate capital markets and facilities for borrowing money by local governments in the state to finance infrastructure improvements, and to the greatest extent possible to reduce costs of borrowed money to taxpayers and residents of the state.

The legislature finds that a cooperative Washington state public bank would provide opportunities for state, local, and tribal government entities to competitively finance a broad array of public infrastructure and economic development projects, including housing, at competitive rates with low administrative costs. A cooperative state public bank will complement the existing banking system by filling gaps that the system cannot or will not fill, and it will be uniquely positioned to provide specialized technical assistance to the diverse needs of state, local, and tribal government entities.

It is the purpose of this chapter to establish a cooperative Washington state public bank to act as a financial conduit that, without creating state debt, can receive deposits from state, local, and tribal government entities, issue and make loans to those entities, and issue bonds, to help facilitate access to needed capital by state, local, and tribal government entities on reasonable terms and rates.

The state public bank will have full powers to borrow money and to issue its bonds and notes to make capital funds available for borrowing by state, local, and tribal government entities, and those powers will enable the state public bank to carry out the declared policies of this act, which are in the public interest of the state and its taxpayers and residents.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. FINANCING POWERS. (1) Bonds issued under this chapter must be issued in the name of the bank. The bonds are not obligations of the state of Washington and are obligations only of the bank payable from the special fund or funds created by the bank for their payment. Such funds are not public moneys or funds of the state of Washington and at all times must be kept segregated and set apart from other funds.

(2) Bonds issued under this chapter must contain a recital on their face to the effect that payment of the principal of, interest on, and prepayment premium, if any, on the bonds, is a valid claim only as against the special fund or funds relating thereto, that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state or any municipal corporation, subdivision, or agency of the state, other than the bank as set forth in this chapter, is pledged to the payment of the principal of, interest on, and prepayment premium, if any, on the bonds. Contracts entered into by the bank must be entered into in the name of the bank and not in the name of the state of Washington. The obligations of the bank under the contracts must be obligations only of the bank and are not in any way obligations of the state of Washington.

(3) The bank's bonds must bear such date or dates, mature at such time or times, be in such denominations, be in such form, be registered or registrable in such manner, be made transferable, exchangeable, and interchangeable, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, be subject to such terms of redemption, bear such fixed or variable rate or rates of interest, be payable at such time or times, and be sold in such manner and at such price or prices, as the bank determines. The bonds shall be executed by the chair, by either its duly elected secretary or its treasurer, and by the trustee or paying agent if the bank determines to use a trustee or paying agent for the bonds. Execution of the bonds may be by manual or facsimile signature. The bonds of the bank may be negotiable instruments under Title 62A RCW.

(4) The bonds of the bank are subject to such terms, conditions, covenants, and protective provisions as are found necessary or desirable by the bank including, but not limited to, pledges of the bank's assets, setting aside of reserves, limitations on additional forms of indebtedness, and the mortgaging of all or any part of the bank's real or personal property, then owned or thereafter acquired, and other provisions the bank finds are necessary or desirable for the security of bond owners.

(5) Any bonds issued under this chapter may be secured by a financing document between the bank and the purchasers or owners of such bonds or between the bank and a corporate trustee appointed by the bank, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the state. The financing document may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues and funds held or to be received by the bank, any present or future contract or other rights to receive the same, and the proceeds thereof. The financing document may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights, security, and remedies of bond owners as may be reasonable and proper including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions defining defaults and providing for remedies in the event of default which may include the acceleration of maturities, restrictions on the individual rights of action by bond owners, and covenants setting forth duties of and limitations on the bank in conduct of its programs and the management of its property. In addition to other security provided in this chapter or otherwise by law, bonds issued by the bank may be secured, in whole or in part, by a pledge of the assets of the bank, including contributions of the members, or by financial guaranties, insurance or letters of credit issued to the bank or a trustee or any other person, by any bank, trust company, insurance or surety company, or other financial institution, within or without the state. The bank may pledge or assign, in whole or in part, the revenues and funds held or to be received by the bank, any present or future contract or other rights to receive the same, and the proceeds thereof, as security for such guaranties or insurance or for the reimbursement by the bank to any issuer of such letter of credit of any payments made under such letter of credit. No individual member is liable to the bank, to the bank's trustee, or to any other person in amounts exceeding the member's contribution unless authorized by a majority of the members of the bank.

(6) The bank may enter into financing documents with borrowers regarding bonds issued by the bank that may provide for the payment by each borrower of amounts sufficient, together with other revenues available to the bank, if any, to:

(a) Pay the borrower's share of the fees established by the bank;
(b) Pay the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on outstanding bonds of the bank issued in respect of such borrower as the same shall become due and payable; and

(c) Create and maintain reserves required or provided for by the bank in connection with the issuance of such bonds. The payments are not subject to supervision or regulation by any department, committee, board, body, bureau, or agency of the state other than the bank.

(7) Any security interest created in the unexpended bond proceeds and in the special funds created by the bank must be immediately valid and binding against such moneys and any securities in which such moneys may be invested without bank or trustee possession thereof, and the security interest is prior to any party having any competing claim in such moneys or securities, without filing or recording pursuant to chapter 62A.9A RCW and regardless of whether the party has notice of the security interest.

(8) When issuing bonds, the bank may provide for the future issuance of additional bonds or parity debt on a parity with outstanding bonds, and the terms and conditions of their issuance. The bank may refund or advance refund any bond of the bank in accordance with chapter 39.53 RCW or issue bonds with a subordinate lien against the fund or funds securing outstanding bonds. Bonds issued for refunding purposes may be combined with bonds issued for the financing or refinancing of new projects. Pending the application of the proceeds of the refunding bonds to the redemption of the bonds to be redeemed, the bank may enter into an agreement or agreements with a corporate trustee regarding the interim investment of the proceeds and the application of the proceeds and the earnings on the proceeds to the payment of the principal of and interest on, and the redemption of, the bonds to be redeemed.

(9) All money received by or on behalf of the bank with respect to this issuance of its bonds are trust funds to be held and applied solely as provided in this chapter. The bank, in lieu of receiving and applying the moneys itself, may enter into a trust agreement or indenture with one or more banks, including the national cooperative bank, or trust companies having the power and bank to conduct trust business in the state to:

(a) Perform all or any part of the obligations of the bank with respect to: (i) Bonds issued by it; (ii) the receipt, investment, and application of the proceeds of the bonds and money paid by a participant or available from other sources for the payment of the bonds; (iii) the enforcement of the obligations of a borrower in connection with the financing or refinancing of any project; and (iv) other matters relating to the exercise of the bank's powers under this chapter;

(b) Receive, hold, preserve, and enforce any security interest or evidence of security interest granted by a participant for purposes of securing the payment of the bonds; and

(c) Act on behalf of the bank or the owners of bonds of the bank for purposes of assuring or enforcing the payment of the bonds, when due.

(10) The bank may purchase its bonds with any of its funds available for the purchase. The bank may hold, pledge, cancel, or resell the bonds subject to and in accordance with agreements with bond owners.

(11) The chair of the state finance committee or the chair's designee must be notified in advance of the issuance of bonds by the bank in order to promote the orderly offering of obligations in the financial markets.

(12) Neither the members of the bank, nor its directors or agents, nor employees of the Washington state housing finance commission, nor any person executing the bonds, is personally liable on the bonds or subject to any personal liability or accountability by reason of the issuance of the bonds.

(13) The bank may, out of any fund available therefor, purchase its bonds in the open market.

(14) Any owner of bonds of the bank issued under this chapter, and the trustee under any trust agreement or indenture, may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceeding, protect and enforce any of their respective rights, and may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the person is the highest bidder, except to the extent the rights given are restricted by the bank in any bond resolution or trust agreement or indenture authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(15) The bank may charge for its costs and services in review or consideration of a proposed loan to a state, local, or tribal government, whether or not the loan is made.

(16) To the extent permitted under its contracts with the owners of bonds of the bank, the bank may consent to modification of the rate of interest, time and payment of installment of principal or interest, security, or any other term of a bond or note, loan to a state, local, or tribal government, contract, or agreement of any kind to which the bank authority is a party.

(17) The bonds of the bank are securities in which all public officers and bodies of this state and all counties, cities, municipal corporations, and political subdivisions, all banks, eligible banking organizations, bankers, trust companies, savings banks and institutions, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies, insurance companies and associations, and all executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys, or other funds belonging to them or within their control.

(18) This section provides a complete, additional, and alternative method for accomplishing the purposes of this chapter and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws. The issuance of bonds and refunding bonds under this chapter need not comply with the requirements of any other law applicable to the issuance of bonds. Insofar as the provisions of this chapter are inconsistent with the provisions of any general or special law, or parts thereof, the provisions of this chapter are controlling.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.190 RCW to read as follows:
