

WAC 246-878-070 Special precaution products. If drug products with special precautions for contamination, such as penicillin, are involved in a compounding operation, appropriate measures, including either the dedication of equipment for such operations or the meticulous cleaning of contaminated equipment prior to its use for preparation of other drugs, must be utilized in order to prevent cross-contamination.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 18.64.005. WSR 94-08-101, § 246-878-070, filed 4/6/94, effective 5/7/94.]