

WAC 463-22-040 Potential site study—Contents. A request for potential site study is to include a legal description of the proposed site, a general description of the area in which the proposed energy facility is to be located, and a description of the type, size, and significant features of the proposed facility itself. The council may require further information which it deems necessary to complete the request.

[Order 106, § 463-22-040, filed 11/4/76.]