

WAC 182-533-0701 Substance-using pregnant people (SUPP) program

—Purpose. The substance-using pregnant people (SUPP) program provides immediate access to medical care in a hospital setting to substance-using or substance-dependent pregnant people and their fetuses. The purpose of the immediate access to medical care is to reduce harm to and improve birth outcomes for birthing parents and their fetuses by preventing obstetric and prenatal complications related to substance use disorder.
