

WAC 192-800-070 Who can give testimony and examine witnesses during an appeal hearing? In an appeal hearing, any interested party, or legally authorized representative of an interested party, has the right to give testimony and to examine and cross-examine any other interested party or witnesses with respect to facts material and relevant to the issues involved.

[Statutory Authority: RCW 50A.04.215. WSR 19-23-090, § 192-800-070, filed 11/19/19, effective 12/20/19.]