Notes:

- 1. Training may be provided using audiovisuals, slide presentations, formal classroom instruction, informal discussions during safety meetings, training programs conducted by outside sources, or a combination of these methods.
- 2. The employer may want to have instructors available when using video or automated training methods to:

AND

- b. The employee can demonstrate the knowledge and skills to use required respirators effectively.
- 2. If the employer accepts an employee's previous training to satisfy the initial training requirement, the employer is still responsible for providing periodic, and additional training when needed. (5) The employer must make sure employees can demonstrate the following knowledge and skills as required by their duties:

(a) Why the respirator is necessary. Include, for example, information identifying respiratory hazards such as hazardous chemicals, the extent of the employee's exposure, and potential health effects and symptoms;

(b) The respirator's capabilities and limitations. Include, for example, how the respirator provides protection and why air-purifying respirators cannot be used in oxygen-deficient conditions;

(c) How improper fit, use, or maintenance can compromise the respirator's effectiveness and reliability;

(d) How to properly inspect, put on, seal check, use, and remove the respirator;
