

WAC 208-630-300 What happens if a licensee pays a lump sum payment in advance, and there is a surplus or deficiency in the application deposit? If the deposit required exceeds the actual amount derived in WAC 208-630-290(1), the amount in excess shall be refunded.

If the deposit fee does not cover the costs of investigation and processing, the applicant will pay for any additional cost, which will be itemized and billed by the director.
