

WAC 230-11-380 Selling tickets at a discount. Electronic raffle licensees may sell raffle tickets at a discount if they:

- (1) Use discount levels identified in internal controls; and
- (2) Do not change the discount levels during the electronic raffle; and
- (3) Offer only discount levels based on the number of tickets sold. Promotional discounts based on other criteria are not allowed; and
- (4) Use up to no more than four discount levels for each electronic raffle; and
- (5) Account for and document the number of raffle tickets sold at each price point and discount level.
