

WAC 388-112A-0930 How must competency test administration be standardized? To standardize competency test administration, testing must include the following components:

- (1) The person teaching the course must administer or supervise the administration of all testing; and
 - (2) The tester must follow DSHS guidelines for:
 - (a) The maximum length of time allowed for testing;
 - (b) The amount and nature of instruction given to students before beginning a test;
 - (c) The amount of assistance to students allowed during testing;
 - (d) The accommodation guidelines for students with disabilities;
- and
- (e) Accessibility guidelines for students with limited-English proficiency.
