SENATE COMMITTEE ON LAW & JUSTICE

Majority Report: Do pass.

Signed by Senators Smith, Chair; C. Anderson, Vice Chair; Haugen, Johnson, Long, Roach and Schow.

Staff: Cynthia Runger (786-7717)

Background: The state can prosecute a person for malicious mischief if that person knowingly and maliciously causes damage to the property of another. Penalties under malicious mischief range from a misdemeanor to class B felony, depending on the amount of property damage.

Malice is an element of the crime of malicious mischief. Malice is generally defined as the intentional commission of a wrongful act with an evil intent, without just cause. It is generally not a crime for a person to knowingly cause damage to the property of another without malice.

Under current law, there are few provisions that address willful damage to particular types of public property, such as school property. There are no provisions that specifically deal with intentional damage to state monuments and memorials. Nevertheless, the state can prosecute a person for malicious mischief if he or she knowingly and maliciously defaces a state monument or memorial.

Summary of Bill: A person who knowingly defaces a state monument or memorial is guilty of a misdemeanor. A person who causes damage to a state monument or memorial does not need to act maliciously.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: Memorials represent soldiers who fought in the war. They should be respected. There have been problems with people defacing the Korean War memorial on the capitol campus and with people defacing monuments with marks from roller blades. There is no law on the books aside from malicious mischief which addresses the defacement of monuments.

Testimony Against: None.

Testified: Representative Conway, prime sponsor (pro); Glen Galberth, Paralyzed Veterans of America (pro); Beau Bergeron, Director, Department of Veterans Affairs (pro).
