Brief Description: Establishing the Washington state vocational agriculture teacher recruitment program.

Sponsors: Senators Rasmussen, Hochstatter, McAuliffe and Loveland.

Brief History:

Committee Activity: Education: 2/14/95, 2/24/95 [DPS].

SENATE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Majority Report: That Substitute Senate Bill No. 5742 be substituted therefor, and the substitute bill do pass.

Signed by Senators McAuliffe, Chair; Pelz, Vice Chair; Finkbeiner, Gaspard, Hochstatter, Johnson and Rasmussen.

Staff: Susan Mielke (786-7422)

Background: Washington has a rich agricultural history, and agriculture continues to be an important industry of the state. However, the number of persons entering the field of vocational agricultural education is declining. One way to reverse this decline is through a teacher recruitment program.

Summary of Substitute Bill: The State Board of Education (SBE) must design a Washington State Vocational Agriculture Teacher Recruitment Program. The SBE must consult with the Higher Education Coordinating Board, the institutions of higher education, organizations interested in teacher recruitment or agriculture education, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Board for Community and Technical Colleges, and the Department of Agriculture when designing the program. The purpose of the program is to recruit students in grades 9-12, and adults who have entered other occupations to be future vocational agriculture teachers.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction must use part of any federal funds received for professional preparation and in-service programs to support the preparation and continuing education of vocational agriculture educators, and to design the future vocational agriculture teachers' program.

Substitute Bill Compared to Original Bill: Use of federal funds is required in the design of the program.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 6, 1995.

Effective Date: Ninety days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: Agriculture is an important industry to the economy of Washington State. Four years ago, there were 26 openings for agriculture education teachers; three years ago, there were 38 openings; two years ago, there were 40 openings; and last year there were 52 openings. In each of the last five years, there have been less than ten graduates from the only in-state higher education agriculture education program at Washington State University. What will happen to the state's economy if strong agriculture education is not continued?

Vocational agriculture curriculum addresses not only the many different aspects of agriculture, but also provides leadership components and skills that can transfer to other subject areas. Students who participate in a vocational agriculture program prepare for jobs not only in agriculture, but business and other areas of work.

Testimony Against: None.

Testified: Dorene Mykol, SBE (pro); Cory Rawding, Mike Hickman, Kari Beerbower, National Future Farmers of America (pro).
