Changing provisions relating to parties liable for damages in actions under chapter 7.70 RCW.

Declares an intent that health care providers should remain personally liable for their own negligent or wrongful acts or omissions in connection with the provision of health care services, but that their vicarious liability for the negligent or wrongful acts or omissions of others should be curtailed. To that end, it is the intent of the legislature that Adamski v. Tacoma General Hospital, 20 Wn. App. 98, 579 P.2d 970 (1978), and its holding that hospitals may be held liable for a physician's acts or omissions under so-called "apparent agency" or "ostensible agency" theories should be reversed, so that hospitals will not be liable for the act or omission of a health care provider granted hospital privileges unless the health care provider is an actual agent or employee of the hospital.

Reenacting the eight-year statute of repose.

Declares that the purpose of this act is to respond to the court's decision in DeYoung v. Providence Medical Center, 136 Wn.2d 136 (1998), by expressly stating the legislature's rationale for the eight-year statute of repose in RCW 4.16.350.

Recognizes that the eight-year statute of repose alone may not solve the crisis in the medical insurance industry. However, to the extent that the eight-year statute of repose has an effect on medical malpractice insurance, that effect will tend to reduce rather than increase the cost of malpractice insurance.

Finds that it will provide protection against claims, however few, that are stale, based on untrustworthy evidence, or that place undue burdens on defendants.

Finds that an eight-year statute of repose is a reasonable time period in light of the need to balance the interests of injured plaintiffs and the health care industry.
