Background:

State law requires employers to pay workers on all public works contracts and public building service maintenance contracts at least the prevailing wage. The prevailing wage is the rate of hourly wage, usual benefits, and overtime paid to the majority of workers in the same trade or occupation in the largest city in the county where the work is performed. The Department of Labor and Industries determines the prevailing wage by periodically surveying the trades.

Public employees paid a "monthly or per diem salary" are excluded from the prevailing wage laws, meaning they are also not included in the surveys. Some private sector workers brought suit, claiming that since public employees paid hourly are not excluded, their wages should be included in a survey.

Summary of Bill:

Public employees, regardless of how they are paid, are excluded from prevailing wage laws and are therefore not included in prevailing wage surveys.

Rules Authority: The bill does not address the rule-making powers of an agency.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) This bill maintains the status quo. Public employees have not ever been included in prevailing wage laws. When the prevailing wage law was passed, all employees were paid on a monthly or per diem basis. A dispute showed this law needed to be changed. Public employees work under different conditions and including them would not provide an accurate prevailing wage rate. The Prevailing Wage Advisory Committee voted unanimously to support this change.

(Opposed) None.
