Background:

The formation of drainage districts is authorized under state laws that date back to 1895. The board of a drainage district consists of three elected commissioners. Under statute, the drainage district board is authorized to develop a general plan of improvement and to carry out a number of activities with respect to maintenance, improvement, construction, alternation, or abandonment of existing drains or ditches.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Not requested.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) There has been some question as to whether drainage district boards already have the authority to implement the plans they develop. This bill provides that clarification. Issues between drainage districts and the Department of Fish and Wildlife became contentious a few years ago. Both sides put in resources and began to collaborate on finding solutions that will protect agricultural lands that depend on properly operating drainage systems and also will address the needs of fish. The updated drainage district plans have components that address the fish habitat. This will result in the issuance of a programmatic hydraulic permit that is good for five year periods and is renewable. This legislation is needed to give explicit authority to the districts so they can implement these drainage plans. This clarification will facilitate the local governments in interacting with both the state and federal entities involved in this issue.

(Opposed) None.
