HOUSE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION

Majority Report: Do pass. Signed by 8 members: Representatives Quall, Chair; Barlow, Vice Chair; Priest, Ranking Minority Member; Anderson, Assistant Ranking Minority Member; Haigh, Lias, Santos and Sullivan.

Staff: Cece Clynch (786-7195).

Background:

According to the United States Census Bureau, in 2002 about 18 percent of Americans said that they had a disability and 12 percent had a severe disability. Over the last two decades, there has been growing emphasis on research, teaching, and scholarship on the history of people with disabilities, as well as the history of disability and related social and civil rights movements.

Summary of Bill:

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

The Legislature finds that annual recognition, throughout the public education system, of disability history will:

- increase awareness and understanding of the contributions that people with disabilities have made to the state, nation, and world;
- increase respect and promote acceptance and inclusion of people with disabilities;
- inspire students with disabilities to feel a greater sense of pride;
- reduce harassment and bullying; and
- help keep students with disabilities in school.

Public schools and public institutions of higher education are required to conduct or promote educational activities that provide instruction, awareness, and understanding of disability history and people with disabilities. These activities shall take place annually during the month of October. They may include, but are not limited to, school assemblies or guest speaker presentations.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony:

(In support) This bill will go a long way toward making sure that people with disabilities are treated with respect. On the surface, it may seem that it only makes a small change but it is a system changer. This doesn't have to cost a lot of money because there are a variety of different people and groups willing to participate, develop curricula, and offer lessons and activities. The veterans are also rallying around this bill and have offered to produce a one hour video to be shown in schools.

(Opposed) None.
