EFFECT: Defines aerospace training or educational programs as courses offered by community or technical colleges or by training centers operated by, or pursuant to contracts with, a statewide aerospace association governed by a board that includes representatives of business and labor (rather than courses offered by the Washington Aerospace Technology and Research Center or the Spokane Aerospace Technology Center).

Provides for loan forgiveness as follows: (1) one-half of the amount is forgiven if the participant does not secure full-time employment for at least 1 year with wages of $60,000 or more and certain benefits; and (2) the full amount is forgiven if the participant does not secure full-time employment for at least 1 year with wages of at least $30,000 (but less than $60,000) and certain benefits.

Provides that the student loan account consists of funds given to the Higher Education Coordinating Board (HEC Board) for the program (rather than funds appropriated by the Legislature for the program) and receipts from participant repayments. Deletes other references to appropriated funds.

Requires the HEC Board, in collaboration with the Washington Aerospace Training & Research Center and the Spokane Aerospace & Technology Center, to submit annual reports regarding the loan program to the Governor and appropriate legislative committees.

Specifies that the report must include data about employment positions for which students are trained, and information about job training, placement, and outreach as well as success and failure rates by various categories.
