EFFECT: Extends the date by which electric utilities and market customers must achieve a 100 percent reduction in fossil fuel usage for the generation of electricity to January 1, 2050, rather than January 1, 2045. Authorizes the Utilities and Transportation Commission or the Department of Commerce to extend this deadline to a date no later than January 1, 2060, if doing so is found to be beneficial for ensuring reliability or reducing long-term costs to ratepayers.
