

HB 1603 - S COMM AMD
By Committee on Law & Justice

1 Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the 2 following:

3 "NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature intends to implement
4 recommendations of the 2011 and 2015 child support schedule work
5 groups pertaining to updating the child support economic table and 6 establishing a residential schedule credit. The legislature finds 7 that updating the economic table is necessary to modernize the 8 calculation of basic support obligations. The legislature further
9 finds that both the 2011 and 2015 child support schedule work groups
10 recognized the importance of establishing an adjustment to the basic 11 support obligation determined under the economic table based on a
12 shared residential schedule. The legislature finds that enacting both 13 an update of the economic table and a residential schedule adjustment
14 to the support obligation determined under the economic table are 15 important in providing a modernized and equitable procedure for 16 establishing child support obligations.

17 Sec. 2. RCW 26.19.020 and 2009 c 84 s 1 are each amended to read
18 as follows:

19 The economic table is presumptive for combined monthly net
20 incomes up to and including twelve thousand dollars. When combined
21 monthly net income exceeds twelve thousand dollars, the court may 22 exceed the presumptive amount of support set for combined monthly net
23 incomes of twelve thousand dollars upon written findings of fact.

24 Sec. 3. RCW 26.19.075 and 2009 c 84 s 4 are each amended to read
25 as follows:

26 (1) Reasons for deviation from the standard calculation include
27 but are not limited to the following:

28 (a) Sources of income and tax planning. The court may deviate
29 from the standard calculation after consideration of the following:

30 (i) Income of a new spouse or new domestic partner if the parent
31 who is married to the new spouse or in a partnership with a new 32 domestic partner is asking for a deviation based on any other reason.
33 Income of a new spouse or new domestic partner is not, by itself, a
34 sufficient reason for deviation;

1 (ii) Income of other adults in the household if the parent who is
2 living with the other adult is asking for a deviation based on any
3 other reason. Income of the other adults in the household is not, by 4 itself, a sufficient reason for deviation;

5 (iii) Child support actually received from other relationships;

6 (iv) Gifts;

7 (v) Prizes;

8 (vi) Possession of wealth, including but not limited to savings,
9 investments, real estate holdings and business interests, vehicles,
10 boats, pensions, bank accounts, insurance plans, or other assets;

11 (vii) Extraordinary income of a child;

12 (viii) Tax planning considerations. A deviation for tax planning
13 may be granted only if the child would not receive a lesser economic 14 benefit due to the tax planning; or

15 (ix) Income that has been excluded under RCW 26.19.071(4)((+h+))
16 (i) if the person earning that income asks for a deviation for any 17 other reason.

18 (b) Nonrecurring income. The court may deviate from the standard
19 calculation based on a finding that a particular source of income
20 included in the calculation of the basic support obligation is not a 21 recurring source of income. Depending on the circumstances,
22 nonrecurring income may include overtime, contract-related benefits,
23 bonuses, or income from second jobs. Deviations for nonrecurring
24 income shall be based on a review of the nonrecurring income received
25 in the previous two calendar years.

26 (c) Debt and high expenses. The court may deviate from the 27 standard calculation after consideration of the following expenses:

28 (i) Extraordinary debt not voluntarily incurred;

29 (ii) A significant disparity in the living costs of the parents
30 due to conditions beyond their control;

31 (iii) Special needs of disabled children;

32 (iv) Special medical, educational, or psychological needs of the 33 children; or

34 (v) Costs incurred or anticipated to be incurred by the parents
35 in compliance with court-ordered reunification efforts under chapter
36 13.34 RCW or under a voluntary placement agreement with an agency
37 supervising the child.

38 ~~(d) (Residential schedule. The court may deviate from the~~
39 ~~standard calculation if the child spends a significant amount of time~~
40 ~~with the parent who is obligated to make a support transfer payment.~~

~~The court may not deviate on that basis if the deviation will result in insufficient funds in the household receiving the support to meet the basic needs of the child or if the child is receiving temporary assistance for needy families. When determining the amount of the deviation, the court shall consider evidence concerning the increased expenses to a parent making support transfer payments resulting from the significant amount of time spent with that parent and shall consider the decreased expenses, if any, to the party receiving the support resulting from the significant amount of time the child spends with the parent making the support transfer payment.~~

(e)) Children from other relationships. The court may deviate from the standard calculation when either or both of the parents before the court have children from other relationships to whom the parent owes a duty of support.

(i) The child support schedule shall be applied to the mother, father, and children of the family before the court to determine the presumptive amount of support.

(ii) Children from other relationships shall not be counted in the number of children for purposes of determining the basic support obligation and the standard calculation.

(iii) When considering a deviation from the standard calculation for children from other relationships, the court may consider only other children to whom the parent owes a duty of support. The court may consider court-ordered payments of child support for children from other relationships only to the extent that the support is actually paid.

(iv) When the court has determined that either or both parents have children from other relationships, deviations under this section shall be based on consideration of the total circumstances of both households. All child support obligations paid, received, and owed for all children shall be disclosed and considered.

(2) All income and resources of the parties before the court, new spouses or new domestic partners, and other adults in the households shall be disclosed and considered as provided in this section. The presumptive amount of support shall be determined according to the child support schedule. Unless specific reasons for deviation are set forth in the written findings of fact and are supported by the evidence, the court shall order each parent to pay the amount of support determined by using the standard calculation.

1 (3) The court shall enter findings that specify reasons for any
2 deviation or any denial of a party's request for any deviation from 3 the standard calculation made by the court. The court shall not 4 consider reasons for deviation until the court determines the 5 standard calculation for each parent.

6 (4) When reasons exist for deviation, the court shall exercise
7 discretion in considering the extent to which the factors would 8 affect the support obligation.

9 (5) Agreement of the parties is not by itself adequate reason for 10 any deviations from the standard calculation.

11 NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 26.19
12 RCW to read as follows:

13 (1) The court shall make an adjustment to the standard
14 calculation for a shared residential schedule subject to the 15 provisions in this section.

16 (2) An adjustment to the standard calculation based on the 17 residential schedule may be made if there is a court order or 18 findings made by an administrative law judge regarding the number of 19 overnights the child or children spend with the obligor parent, and 20 the number of overnights allocated to the obligor is equivalent to at 21 least fourteen percent of annual overnights. The number of overnights 22 in the court order or administrative law judge's findings must be 23 used to calculate the residential adjustment. The findings made by an 24 administrative law judge may be based upon a written agreement
25 between the parents or upon sworn testimony provided by a party at 26 the administrative hearing for child support.

27 (3) The adjustment must be based on the table in section 5 of 28 this act and the formula set forth in the worksheet for calculating 29 residential credit.

30 (4) An adjustment may not be made to the standard calculation
31 based on the shared residential schedule if:

32 (a) The adjustment would result in insufficient funds in the 33 household receiving the support transfer payment to meet the basic 34 needs of the child;

35 (b) The obligee's net income before receiving the support
36 transfer payment is at or below one hundred twenty-five percent of 37 the federal poverty level guidelines for one person; or

38 (c) The child is receiving temporary assistance for needy
39 families.

1 (5) To help parties estimate residential credit, the division of
2 child support shall, if feasible and within available resources,
3 create a residential credit calculator available online.

4 NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 26.19
5 RCW to read as follows:

6 RESIDENTIAL TIME TABLE. The TOTAL column represents the 7 anticipated total out-of-pocket expenses expressed as a percentage of 8 the basic child support obligation that will be incurred by the 9 parent who will pay child support. The total expenses are the sum of 10 transferred and duplicated expenses. The DUPLICATED column represents 11 the duplicated expenses and reflects the assumption that when there
12 is an equal sharing of residential time, fifty percent of the basic 13 child support obligation will be duplicated. The number of ANNUAL 14 OVERNIGHTS column will determine the particular fractions of TOTAL
15 and DUPLICATED to be used in the residential time credit worksheet.
