She served for 36 years in the 36th district and was remarkable in her ability to provide leadership, inspiration, and garner respect from the people who worked with her on both sides of the aisle. Helen loved this campus and it is very fitting that the building, which oversees the campus, be named after her. The Capital Campus Design Advisory Committee and the State Capitol Committee supported the recommendation of the name change. The State Capitol Committee approved the naming of this building yesterday.
