

HB 1390 - DIGEST

Requires the state, before it introduces any testimony or statement of an informant in a trial or other criminal proceeding, to disclose to the defendant certain material and information that is known by the state or reasonably available to be discovered by the state.