

HB 2260 - DIGEST

States that the legislature finds it is necessary to draw upon its police power, where Washington's Pacific salmon populations remain in decline, to prohibit the cultivation of Atlantic salmon in the marine waters regulated by the state.