Hearing Date: 2/29/20

Staff: Dan Jones (786-7118).

Background:

State Wildlife Account.

The State Wildlife Account (SWA) is an account in the State Treasury that is appropriated to the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) and is primarily used for the operating costs of WDFW activities, such as recreational fishing and hunting regulations, land management, wildlife conservation efforts, and enforcement. The SWA receives revenue from a number of sources, some of which include:

- sales of a variety of recreational fishing and hunting licenses, permits, tags, and permits;
- fees from certain personalized license plates;
- sales of property;
- a portion of an excise tax on anadromous game fish; and
- a portion (8 percent) of Discover Pass sales revenue.

Many of the sources of revenue into the SWA may only be used for a specified purpose. For example, revenue from migratory bird stamps may only be used for the costs of producing the stamps and for migratory waterfowl habitat projects on certain lands. Because of these restrictions, the WDFW manages the SWA as having a restricted portion, including each of the dedicated revenue streams, and a non-restricted portion, which may be used for WDFW operations generally.

Special Wildlife Account and Warm Water Game Fish Account.

The Special Wildlife Account and the Warm Water Game Fish Account are two additional accounts administered by the WDFW that are appropriated separately from the SWA.

Summary of Bill:

State Wildlife Account.

The SWA is replaced by two new accounts, the Limited Fish and Wildlife Account (LFWA) and the Fish, Wildlife, and Conservation Account (FWCA). The revenue streams and authorized uses of the SWA are redirected to either the LFWA or the FWCA based on whether they are restricted or may be used for WDFW operations generally.

Revenue streams redirected from the SWA to the LFWA include concealed pistol license late renewal penalties, personalized license plate fees, migratory bird stamps, catch record cards, a portion of turkey tags, two-pole stamps, auctions and raffles, wildlife decals, Discover Pass revenue, and the portions of sales of licenses, permits, tags, stamps, endorsements, and application fees that are specified for a limited purpose.

Revenue streams redirected from the SWA to the FWCA include property sales, a portion of commercial license fees, sales of informational materials, a portion of turkey tags, a portion of the anadromous game fish tax, and the portions of sales of licenses, permits, tags, stamps, endorsements, and application fees that are not specified for a limited purpose.

The WDFW is directed to calculate the amount of money contained in the State Wildlife Account on July 1, 2021 derived from non-restricted revenue sources. If the Office of Financial Management certifies this amount as correct, the State Treasurer must transfer this amount to the Fish, Wildlife, and Conservation Account.

Special Wildlife Account and Warm Water Game Fish Account.

The Special Wildlife Account and the Warm Water Game Fish Account are amended to specify that they are separate accounts, rather than accounts that exist "in" the SWA.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect on July 1, 2021.
