2 "NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. With all correspondence and materials
3 related to evaluation for and provision of special education services, 4 a school district must provide the parent of a student who is or may 5 be eligible for special education services with the following:

6 (1) A description of the services available through the office of 7 the education ombuds and the contact information for the office of the 8 education ombuds;

9 (2) Information about accessing special education guidance and 10 other resources for parents available through the office of the 11 superintendent of public instruction; and 12 (3) A notification that parents have a right to information about 13 their child's education in a language that they can understand and in 14 accordance with the school district's language access policy and 15 procedures as required under chapter 28A.183 RCW.

17 NEW SECTION. Sec. 9.

18 (1) For each student whose individualized education program
19 includes provision of a related or supplementary special education 20 service that is quantifiable, such as hours, minutes, or units, a 21 school district must notify the parents of the student that a 22 quarterly quantitative service report is available upon request.

23 (2)(a) A quarterly quantitative service report must indicate the 24 quantity of each service delivered to the student during the prior 25 quarter and the method in which the service was delivered.
26 Identification of the delivery method includes whether the services 27 were delivered in-person or virtually, whether the services were

1 delivered one-on-one or in a group, and whether the services were 2 delivered at the student's school or at another location.

3 (b) When the quantity of a service delivered to the student in the 4 prior quarter is less than the quarterly quantity of that service 5 required under the student's individualized education program, the 6 report must include a plan to provide the student with additional 7 services in the following quarter.

8 (3) The quarterly quantitative service report must be made 9 available to a parent in writing within 10 business days of the 10 parent's request. However, the school district is not required to 11 provide a parent with the report more than once per quarter."

EFFECT: Adds that, with all correspondence and materials related to evaluation for and provision of special education services, a school district must provide the parent of a student who is or may be eligible for special education services with specified information, for example information about the resources available through the Office of the Education Ombuds and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI).

Requires that for each student whose individualized education program (IEP) includes provision of a related or supplementary special education service that is quantifiable, a school district must notify the parents of the student that a quarterly quantitative service report is available upon request. Specifies that, when the quantity of a service delivered to the student in the prior quarter is less than the quarterly quantity of that service required under the student's IEP, the report must include a plan to provide the student with additional services in the following quarter.

Directs the OSPI to promulgate rules necessary to implement the provisions described above and authorizes the OSPI to sanction school districts that fail to comply with these provisions.
