EFFECT: Changes the limitations on the scope of ecosystem service projects (projects) that the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) may enter into on DNR-managed lands from a variety of project types on state trust lands or state forestlands to afforestation, reforestation, and aquatic projects on public land managed by the

DNR. Removes the authority for the DNR to enter into contracts for ecosystem service projects on up to 10,000 acres that are not subject to project type limitations.
