SENATE COMMITTEE ON LABOR & COMMERCE

Staff: Jarrett Sacks (786-7448)

Background: State employees are entitled to at least eight hours of vacation leave for each month of employment. The amount of vacation leave a state employee earns increases depending on the number of years the employee is continuously employed. Employees may accrue a maximum of 240 hours of unused vacation leave. Leave in excess of 240 hours may be accrued prior to an employee's anniversary date of employment, but the excess leave is extinguished if it is not used by the anniversary date.

If an employee's request for vacation leave is deferred by their employer, and a statement of necessity is retained by the employer, then the 240 hour maximum is extended for each month the leave is deferred. When an employee separates from state employment as a result of a reduction in force, resignation, dismissal, retirement, or death, the employee or their estate is entitled to be reimbursed for any accrued vacation leave.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony: PRO: The cap of 240 hours impacts our longest serving state employees the most. Particularly for employees working in 24/7 facilities and emergency services, it can be very difficult to use vacation leave. Certain elections employees lose their leave during election years because they cannot take leave until off years. Other states allow for more leave rollover. For example, Oregon allows 350 hours to rollover and Idaho is 336 hours. Employees cannot take leave due to staffing shortages, so they end up losing their benefits.

Persons Testifying: PRO: Kati Durkin, Washington Federation of State Employees; Seamus Petrie, Washington Public Employees Association.
