

WAC 16-309-010 Purpose of chapter. Under the authority of chapter 15.150 RCW, the department adopts rules to establish and maintain quality standards for laboratories conducting analysis of recreational and medicinal cannabis. The standards are the elements used in the evaluation of a product's compliance with established product standards. These rules consist of method approval, method validation protocols, and performance measures and criteria applied to the testing of the product.
