Transportation Network Companies Adjustments for 2023

RCW 49.46.300 (4) (b) requires annual adjustments to Washington state's transportation network companies wage based on the consumer price index for urban wage earners and clerical workers (CPI-W) index. The Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics has determined that the CPI-W increased to an August 2022 index level of 291.629 (1982-84=100). This change results in an 8.66 percent change over the last 12 months.

There are six calculations specified under law for transportation network companies (RCW 49.46.300 (4) (a) (i), (ii), or (iii)). The table below shows the new calculated figures.

RCW 49.46.300 (4)(a)(i), (ii), or (iii)
Population exceeds 600,000 threshold		Population exceeds 600,000 threshold
2022 Per passenger platform minute	$0.59	2023 Per passenger platform minute	$0.64
2022 Per passenger platform mile	$1.38	2023 Per passenger platform mile	$1.50
2022 Dispatched trip	$5.17	2023 Dispatched trip	$5.62
Population does not exceed 600,000 threshold		Population does not exceed 600,000 threshold
