Brief Description: Strengthening restrictions on possession of firearms by committed persons.

HB 2329 - DIGEST

Provides that unlawful possession of a firearm by a person committed, voluntarily or involuntarily, for treatment of mental illness is a class C felony.

Establishes procedures for reinstatement of the right to possess a firearm for persons who were committed, including burden of proof that he or she is not a danger to themselves or others.

Requires issuing authorities to ascertain whether an applicant has been committed for mental health treatment.

Increases license fees.
