Background:

Washington's business and occupation (B&O) tax is the second largest tax source for the state. In Fiscal Year 2002, B&O tax collection totaled $1.958 billion which represented approximately 16.4 percent of state revenue sources within the state general fund. Almost all businesses located or doing business in Washington are subject to the B&O tax, including corporations, partnerships, sole proprietors and nonprofit organizations.

Washington's B&O tax is calculated on gross income from business activities in the state. There are no deductions from the B&O tax for labor, materials, taxes or other costs of doing business. However, some businesses may qualify for certain exemptions, deductions or credits. An exempted activity is not subject to the B&O tax and is not reported on the Combined Excise Tax Return (CETR). Exempted activities include raising and selling plantation Christmas trees at wholesale; sales for fund-raising of certain nonprofit organizations; international banking facilities; and growing, raising or producing agricultural products.

Unlike exemptions, deductions must first be reported on a business' CETR as part of the business' gross income, then taken as a deduction. Allowable deductions include bad debts, freight, and delivery costs incurred by a Washington manufacturer for out-of-state shipments; and sales made in Washington by an out-of-state seller without activities in Washington that establish, maintain, or facilitate a market for its products or services.

Credits are amounts that have been paid to the Department of Revenue which are either not due or are granted by the Legislature for a specific purpose. Credits are subtracted from the B&O tax due on the CETR and include the multiple activities tax credit, the high technology B&O tax credit and the small business B&O tax credit.

Enacted in 1994, the small business B&O tax credit provides a credit against the B&O tax due of up to $35 per month. Firms with computed B&O tax liability of $35 or less pay no tax. The credit amount is reduced as B&O tax liability exceeds $35 per month. The credit is phased out completely when the tax liability reaches $70 per month. A total of 159,000 firms benefit from this tax credit.

Summary of Substitute Bill:

The amount of the maximum small business B&O tax credit for a taxpayer is increased to $50 per month.

Substitute Bill Compared to Original Bill:

The amount of the credit is increased from $40 per month in the original bill to $50 per month in the substitute.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 2, 2004.

Effective Date of Substitute Bill: The bill takes effect on July 1, 2004.
