---

Summary of Bill:

"Electronic commerce" is defined as including transactions conducted over the Internet, by telephone or by other electronic means.

A driver's license or indenticard may be renewed by mail, electronic commerce or other electronic means, if the DOL establishes rules to allow these alternative renewal methods. A driver or indenticard holder would be limited to one alternative renewal before having to renew in person and an indenticard holder could only renew through an alternative method if his or her existing indenticard includes a photograph.

A person whose license has expired, or will expire, while he or she is living outside the state may apply for renewal by electronic commerce, regardless of whether the applicant renewed his or her driver's license by mail or electronic commerce when it last expired, if the DOL establishes rules to permit such renewal by mail.

Persons applying to renew an instruction permit, an agricultural driving permit, or a commercial driver license must submit their applications to the DOL in person.

The DOL is required to establish procedures to ensure that individuals renewing by mail or electronic commerce would be given the opportunity to register to vote. The DOL's authority to issue drivers' licenses and indenticards by alternative methods is subject to funding being provided by June 30, 2004 in the omnibus transportation appropriations act. The DOL is authorized to accept credit card payment for drivers' licenses and indenticards.

The $5 fee for mail-in renewals and the exam required of individuals returning to the state who have renewed by mail are both eliminated.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Testimony For: The Department of Licensing is the face of the state to most citizens. It is the agency that people around the state interact with most often. On-line license tab renewals has been very popular and extending that service to driver license and indenticard renewals will help to enhance the perception of the customer-orientation of government.

Testimony Against: None.

Persons Testifying: Senator Finkbeiner, prime sponsor; Andrew Johnsen, Office of Financial Management; and Fred Stephens and Denise Movius, Department of Licensing.

Persons Signed In To Testify But Not Testifying: None.
