EFFECT: Expands the re-registration requirement to include level II offenders. Removes the provisions that allow the re-registration requirement to automatically end after five years. Instead, allows an offender to petition the superior court to be relieved of the duty to re-register. Requires the court to remove the re-registration requirement if (1) the petitioner shows, by a preponderance of the evidence, that he or she has complied with the re-registration requirement for at least five years and that he or she has not been convicted of failure to register as a sex or kidnapping offender for at least five years, and (2) the court determines that the reporting requirement no longer serves a public safety purpose.
