Background:

Property owned or used by a nonprofit entity to provide rental housing for very low-income households or used to provide space for the placement of a mobile home for a very-low income household within a mobile home park is exempt from property taxes if at least 75 percent of the units on the property are occupied by very low-income households and if the housing is financed or otherwise assisted by:

- a federal or state housing program administered by the Department of Community, Trade and Economic Development (DCTED); or
- a county, city, or town affordable housing levy.

Summary of Bill:

Rental properties for very low-income households owned or used by nonprofit entities are exempt from property taxes if they have received financial assistance from:

- a federal program administered by a city or county government; or
- document recording fee surcharges imposed for the purpose of affordable housing development or to reduce homelessness.

EFFECT OF SENATE AMENDMENT(S):

Adds language specifying that a property tax assessment may not be determined by a method that assumes a highest and best use for a property that is not permitted for that property under existing zoning or land use planning ordinances or statutes or other government restrictions. States that when assessing property, consideration should be given to the impact of any agreement between a rental housing property owner and a government agency that restricts rental income, appreciation and liquidity.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Available.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony: (Housing)

(In support) This bill provides one more tool to local governments and non-profit housing developers in order that they may develop and operate affordable housing in a cost efficient manner. The expansion of the tax exemption beyond developments receiving funding from the DCTED will improve the financial feasibility of projects supported by local governments.

Property taxes are expensive, therefore, this exemption will provide an on-going benefit to affordable housing rental developments. Often a tax exemption is all an entity needs to create a financially viable project and, therefore, such an exemption may even eliminate the need for a project to apply to the DCTED's Housing Trust Fund, freeing up those funds for other needy projects. Most of these kinds of developments are already receiving tax exemptions; this bill would simply codify current practice in most local jurisdictions.

(Opposed) Any time you exempt property from the tax rolls, that cost is shifted to other tax payers. Adding these additional developments to the tax exemption program could become an administrative nightmare for counties and cities.

Staff Summary of Public Testimony: (Finance)

(In support) The development of affordable housing is expensive, and property tax exemptions are part of the calculation. Multiple financing sources are often required, and this bill recognizes that. This bill will allow projects to move forward by using local sources, and avoid having to rely on the Housing Trust Fund.

This bill will have the law recognize current administrative practices.

(Opposed) None.
