Brief Summary of Bill

- Removes provisions requiring institutions of higher education to ask about, and encourage the use of, funds available under the Montgomery GI Bill prior to providing state supported tuition waivers to eligible veterans.

Hearing Date: 2/19/07

Staff: Andrew Colvin (786-7304).

Background:

Within certain limits, institutions may waive all or a portion of tuition and fees for eligible students. For these waivers, known as state-supported waivers, it is assumed that state moneys in the institutions' budgets will offset the tuition not collected from students as a result of granting the waivers. This authority to grant state-supported waivers is capped for each institution at a certain percentage of the total tuition revenue the institution collects. Within its respective percentage caps, each institution decides how to apportion its waiver authority among the various categories of state-supported permissive waivers.

State-supported waivers are available to military and naval veterans who meet certain eligibility requirements. Institutions of higher education may waive all or a portion of tuition and fees for a veteran or National Guard member who:

- was an active or reserve member of the United States military or naval forces, or a National Guard member called to active duty;

- who served in active federal service, under either Title 10 or Title 32 of the United States Code, in a war or conflict fought on foreign soil or in international waters or in another location in support of those serving on foreign soil or in international waters; and
- if discharged from service, has received an honorable discharge.

Institutions of higher education are required to ascertain through admission applications whether a student may be eligible for a waiver through the student's veteran status. If so, the institution must ask whether funds are available to the student through the Montgomery GI Bill, and shall encourage the student to utilize GI Bill funds prior to providing a tuition waiver.

Summary of Bill:

Provisions are repealed that require institutions of higher education, prior to providing a tuition waiver to an eligible veteran, to inquire about the availability of, and encourage the use of, funds available under the Montgomery GI Bill.

The Legislature intends to make tuition waivers to all eligible veterans admitted to the state's institutions of higher education.

Appropriation: None.

Fiscal Note: Requested on February 15, 2007.

Effective Date: The bill takes effect 90 days after adjournment of session in which bill is passed.
